The latter occupied front seats, and were very cheerfully accorded their places, although a desire has been repeatedly express ed by some that the ladies would keep away from this meeting, and attend others not so specially designed for business men.

The exercises were begun punctually at 12 a.m. The Rev. Dr Abeel of Newark, N.J., conducted the meeting. A hymn of four verses was sung, beginning,

"Descend from Heaven, Immortal Dove, Stoop down and take us on thy wings.'

The singing was very earnest and effective, the congregation participating in it with great unanimity. There seems to be a devotional element in men's voices, which is always lacking in the singing of a more miscellaneous gathering.

The Rev. Dr. Taylor, of Newark, said that he would mention an incident for the encouragement of parents to pray for their children:

" Many years ago an old man, a devoted Christian, started a prayer-meeting, which is still continued, having resulted in many and glorious fruits. As a pastor it was my privlege to be with him, particularly during his last illness. In several visits made to his house 1 found him on the mount, looking over on to the Land of Promise. Finding nothing seemingly to mar his comfort or interrupt his joy, one morning as I went to his dwelling (he was a poor man and lived in straitened circumstances), I determined to satisfy myself whether there was nothing that gave him any trouble of heart. On entering his chamber I asked him, in simple terms, ' How are you this morning ?!" 'Oh, Sir,' said he, 'I am well; why should I not be well? I am near home. Yes, I am near home-near heaven.' I took the opportunity to ask him, ' My dear Sir, has there been nothing of late resting upon your heart, as an occasion of trouble ?' He spoke not a word, but turned his head over the wall, and lay so between five and ten minutes; then he rolled his head back upon his pillow, with his face toward me, and I saw the tears streaming down his cheeks. 'Oh, yes, Sir,' said he, ' there is one great trouble,' ' What is it ?' I inquired. Speak your whole mind to me freely.'

Well,' said he, ' I have ten children, and I have prayed to God for more than thirty years that I might see some one of them con verted before I die; but he has denied me. They are all grown up, as you know, but are not yet Christians.' 'How do you get over that trouble ?" I asked. 'Ah,' he repli, ed," I get over it, as I get over all other troubles-by rolling it over upon Christ. 1 but he means to wait till I am gone. But he will do it ; I know he will ; my children wil be converted.

"This man has been in his grave for fifteen years, and I have watched over his chilbeen born into the kingdom of of God, and that the eighth also has just experienced conversion. This is the answer to his prayer ! God did not forget : he only waited ; and in like manner he will answer the prayers of all parents who pray in faith for the conversion of their children. Let us, therefore, take courage, and lay hold upon the precious promises of God! After prayer was again offered, the congregation sang the hymn,

What comfort that sweet sentence gives !

A young man then arose and requested that prayer might be offered in behalf of some persons who paid an outward respect to religion, attending church with great regularity and circumspectness, but not enjoying an inward experience of religion. He said that many such were to be found in every congregation, and that they were proper subjects of prayer.

Prayer was accordingly offered in behall of this class of individuals, and of the others mentioned in the previous requests. After another prayer, the final hymn was given out which the congregation sang standing :

"O come, thou great and mighty power, Accept a home within my breast."

UNION PRAYER-MEETING AT BEDFORD STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

About a week ago one of the members of Young Men's Christian Association, having made the pevious arrangements, opened a Union Prayer-Meeting in the Lecture-room of the Mathodist Episcopal Church, located on the north-esat corner of Bedford and Morton streets.

S. D. VAN BEUREN. Such was the printed notice placed in stores and other conspicuous places in Ninth Ward. The response to which was a most encouraging attendance on the very first day. The audience during the week have been princi-pally composed of ladies. The neighbourhood is one that is densly populated, and in which Mr. V. deemed it advisable to commence his work. Although himself an Episcopalian he professed to know no sect in this effort, and his success has been most admirable, for his meetings, besides having many features varying from the other Union meetings hitherto reported, are instinct with life and vigour. As will be seen in the brief sketch, the ladies not only give their presence but offer prayers. On Saturday our Reporter was present. Owing to the fact many of the ladies had domestic duties in preparation for the solemnities of the Sabhath to attend to, this assembly was not so numerous as upon the previous days. Mr. Van Beuren, as leader, opened the ex-creises with a brief and appropriate appeal to the Throne of Grace. He then addressed of his brethren of the Young Men's Christian

A verse of the hymn commencing " Jesus, lover of my soul. Let me to thy bosom fly."

A young man solicited the prayers of the meeting for the fire company of which he was a member, having its house in Charles street. A prayer was then offered up in behalf of the Fire Department, and especially that portion of it soliciting an interest in their prayers. " The voice of free grace Cries escape to the mountain !"

was then sung cheerfully. An old gentleman rose, and stated that he had started a second time to seek the Lord. He had nine children, eight of whom were living in their sins. He had endoavored by a tist Mariners' Church, in Cherry street. Regodly example to bring them into the path, ligious services have been held for some and he was sure that, combined with him, the efforts of others would succeed in guiding them nearer to the Lamb of God, who taketh away the sins of the world. He had a son twenty-six years of age who was extremely wicked, but he believed that through the efficacy of prayer he would be brought to see the error of his way. As for himself, he did others. On both occasions the chapel was not expect that Heaven was a place of stand. ing still, but a life of progress; that as long additions a still larger number of conversions as the ages of eternity would roll on new light and truth would be imparted, new duties continuing.

would present themselves, and glory yet unto the ever-onward marching sain's.

The hymn beginning,

" O, for a thousand tongues to sing

My Great Redeemer's praise," was sung to a lively tune, and a young woman said that by reading the passage, "Ye must be born again," she had been led to consider what she must do to avert the danger of impending punishment for sin. She had read the same passage to her father, and through the simple circumstance he too was converted-lived four years a Christian life, and then died in Jesus. She had strong faith in prayer, and she hoped through its efficacy at last to meet them all in Heaven where there should be no more parting.

An old gentleman said that in a printing office, where one of his sons was employed, there were over one hundred and twenty hands, and so intense was the spiritual work going on among them that they could hardly pursue their duties. A prayer-meeting had been established on the premises, and a hopeful work was going on.

Another prayer was offered for the spread of the gospel and the salvation of souls.

Mr. Van Beuren reminded the meeting that there was one feature of the exercises which wife and three children to mourn their loss. ought not to be neglected-the repetition of several voices uniting with him.

CONVERSIONS AMONG SEAMEN.

A great revival has been in progress since the beginning of last December in the Baptime every evening, and many of the meet-ings have been densely crowded. The audience is composed to a large extent of seamen, who are induced to attend while they remain in port. On the last Sunday evening in January eighteen persons were baptized, and on the succeeding Sunday sixteen

We have learned that one of the officers to'd, unthought, unsung, would be revealed of the United States frigate Congress, while on a cruise to the Levant, was converted in the identical Garden of Gethsemane. 'The chaplain of the vessel, the Rev. Mr. Noble, a Presbyterian minister, states that quite a number of the crew of the Congress have also been converted.

At the Seamen's Chapel (Methodist), of which the Rev. Mr. Corbit is pastor, over 150 converts have lately been made, of which number, with the exception of six, all were adults, while thirty were above forty years of age. About one-third of the entire number are seafaring men. This church was in great pecuniary difficulty when the edifice was purchased by the Methodists, but it is entirely cut of debt.

Religious meetings, and also temperance meetings, have been for some weeks past held on board of the United States frigate North Carolina. At one of the former, filty sailors came forward to be prayed for.
