Dear Sir—In bringing my name before the public, I do it cheerfully, so that suffering humanity may derive benefit from the use of my medicine. I am happy to say I have. After trying the most skillful physicians in the United States and this Province, as also the most celebrated remedies, I was cured by the Anglo-Saxon medicine.

The great difference between your remedy and all other remedies I have tried previous are as follows. The former cures the disease in the Anglo-Saxon medicine. I wish all who are suffering from Asthma would try this medicine, you will be cured. I remain, sir, with high esteem, yours, very truly, EDWARD BRACKETT.

Princess-street, Saint John, June 17th, 1859. DR. LEAHY.—This is to certify that I have for some time been afflicted with a hacking cough, and a difficulty in breathing, which have tried all the remedies to which I was subjected, but to no effect in my case. I purchased one bottle of your Anglo-Saxon medicine, and after using it for a few days, I was cured.

From the Press. Mr. John Jackson, publisher of the Calais Advertiser, writes: I know it to be all that is recommended; having used it in my family, and it has cured several of our children. Every mother and housekeeper must often act as a family physician in the numerous illnesses and accidents that occur in the family. The Anglo-Saxon medicine is a most valuable and indispensable article. In diarrhoea, it is invaluable. It is a most valuable and indispensable article. In diarrhoea, it is invaluable.
