The Paris Patrie, referring to the above article from the Moniteur, says that France has done everything to free England from the nightmare of invasion, in order to restore her calmess and repose. If unsuccessful, England can only blame herself for fears which agitate her, and which, if prolonged, would be an affront to the sincerity, friendly feelings and actions of France.

The Post's Paris correspondent says there is the same disposition as ever, in official quarters, to assure England that the Emperor and his advisers consider the Anglo French alliance now, necessary for the tranquility and prosperity of GREAT BRITAIN.

In the Lords, on the 25th, Lord Lyndhurst, after defending himself from the charges made against him by Mr. Bright, on account of the warning voice he had raised, asked if the Admiralty were aware that the French were arming their fleet with rifled cannon? The Duke of Somerset said he believed that rifled cannon are being prepared for the French fleet; and that although England had an improved cannon in the course of manufacture, it would not be ready for some time to come.

In the Commons, Mr. Adderly advocated improved defences for the colonies, by means of increased local forces. Sidney Herbert said the Government had ordered an inquiry on the

A deputation from the British and Foreign Anti-Slavery Society, headed by Lord Brougham, had an interview with the Duke of Newcastle, in regard to the Cooley emigration to the West Indies. They urged the appointment of a Committee of Inquiry, but the Duke said that time would not permit at this session, but an official inquiry should be instituted in the Colonies.

A Paris telegram, dated Tuesday evening, to the London Post, says that Sardinia has named as her Plenipotentiary at Zurich, M. Des Ambrois, a very enlightened man. It is expected he will visit Paris before proceeding to his destination. Austria, however, refuses to meet any Sardinian representative, but will leave it open to Sardinia to accede to the treaty, after it shall have been concluded between Austria and France.

Le Nord says one of the first acts of the new Sardinian Ministry will be to put an end to the present dictatorship, to convoke the Chambers, and present an electoral bill applicable to Lombardy. A dissolution will afterwards take place. in order to effect in the new Chambers a complete fusion of Piedmont and Lombardy. The King will reside, and Parliament sit, alternate years at Turin and Milan.

Turin journals say the Sardinian army, reinforced by recruitments in Lombardy, is to be raised to 100,000 men.

In regard to Garibaldi's position, it is said he was, on the 15th, summoned to Bresica by Gen. De la Marmora, with whom he had a long confidential interview; that he had a force of 12,000 men, which continued to increase, and that he expressed confidence that the King of Sardinia would not forsake the national cause.

A letter from Milan to the Times says that Garibaldi was contemplating a move from the Alps to the Appenines.

From Northern to Central Italy there will be a gathering of about 50,000 volunteers. In Romagna, Garibaldi's corps, joined to that of Mezzo Caps, will form an army capable of securing the Independence of Central Italy, at least against any Roman or Neapolitan force.

He was glad to see in the Moniteur that the Emperor of the French had determined to place his army and navy on a peace footing. After reviewing the grounds of peace as proclaimed by the Emperors, he said that as England did not interfere in the war, he did not think it was for her to interfere in the peace; the sacrifice of a Province by Austria did not affect the state of affairs in Europe sufficient to warrant interference of the neutral Powers.

The most important part of Treaty however related to Italy, and invitation of Empseor Na-poleon to England to enter Congress was to con-sult on actual affairs of Italy, quite irrespensive of terms of Peace of Villa Franca; England had not consented to join Conference and would not until they saw what was the result of Confe-rence at Zurich; Treaty of Villa Franca did not lay down absolutely an Italian Confederation, not only that the two Emperors would unite to promote one. He doubted the possibility or benefit of Confederation at present, and cointed out various obstacles to the consummation of such project; again, England must know how it was proposed to carry out the Treaty before joining Cougress, especially with respect to restoration of Duchies of Tuscanv and Modena, as Correspondent of Independence Belge thus speaks of the project of reform entertained by Emperor of Austria—All provincial Councils of the Empire are to be convoked simultaneously, in order to answer series of questions on amelioration which they may think necessary to the internal government of State, und especially in provincial organization.

Councils will have complete liberty in the deliberations, and may make known openly and sincerely to the Emperor the wants and wishes of the populations. Important financial and military reforms are likewise projected.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry in another column, and assure them they can find no better remedy fer coughs, colds, asthma, bronchial affections, or any disease of the throat or lungs.

In August, 1858, an estimable friend of ours returned from a visit in the country much emaciated, and laboring ander a seveae cough, which had made such rapid inroads upon her constitution that we felt so nathing must be done at once, or she would become a victim of consumption. Having known the beneficial results which have occurred from the use of Wiscial results which have occurred from the use of Wistar's Bulsam, we made purchase of some for her, and are happy to say that before she had taken the contents of one bottle her cough had entirely left her, and she is now in the enjoyment of excellent health. - [Olive Branch, June 25, 1859.

SETH W. FOWLE & CO.— Gentlemen: I first made use of the "Oxygenated Bitters" some seven or eight years since. Having suffered for twenty years from a form of Dyspepsia, which was attended with a nervous headache, on an average of not less than one day in a week, I was induced by the unpretending recommendation of Dr. Green "to try one bottle, and if no benefit was received to discontinue its use."

The use of one bottle warranted a further trial, to the extent of some three or four, with a careful observance of the accompanying directions. The result was an almost entire relief from the usual dyspeptic symptoms, and their depressing, painful consequences. I believe these Bitters produced an entire change in the habits of my system, and upon the active energies of the digestive organs. I now deem myself as exempt from Dyspepsia as most persons, These Bitters have also been of service to other members of my family.
