General disposition to have the question taken up to-morrow. Adjourned at 5.55. March 19.

March 19. At 11.30 railway debate resumed. Fisher moved resolution to report progress. Cadlip thought there would be no objection to Fisher withdrawing amend-ment; but if he persisted his dodging main question by reporting progress, must take responsibility. McPhelim made speech, charging Northern mem-bers with dereliction and incrtness. Boyd would sweep away the act of 1862. Cannot undertake any other scheme while pledged and mort-gaged under that.

gaged under that. Ryan thought it inconsistment for those who pro-fessed to believe the scheme of 1862 dead, and mort-gage invalid, to insist its existence on books and to other arrangements. Lindsay believed the matter dead, but still would not press repeal. Being first to legislate, should be last to repeal. Nova Scotia, as yet, had only repealed by implication. Anglin, Smith and Gray spoke on general question. Smith deprecating Fisher's motion as a parlia-mentary trick.

Stevens, Anglin, Cudlip, and Gillmor spoke on railways and the question before the House. At 4.30 the vote was taken on motion to report

At 4.80 the vote was taken on motion to report progress, carried as follows :---Yeas-Tilley, Johnson, Watters, McMillan, Stead-man, Hatheway, Perley, Mehan, Stevens, McLellan, Young, Beveridge, Glasier, Ferris, Lindsay, Munro, Montgomery, Dow, Fisher, and Ryan-20. Nays-Kerr, Williston, Vail, Landry, Gray, Skin-ner, Smith, McPhelim, Stiles, Desbrisay, Anglin, Cudlip, Gillinor, and Boyd-14. After the vote was taken, a despatch from the Duke of Newcastle was faid on the table by the Se-cretary, and is as follows:--

SIR-I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your despatch of the 15th February, enclosing a copy of a Minute of your Executive Council on the subject of the Intercolonial Railway Act. I have learnt with much surprise that an impres-sion prevails in New Brunswick that this Act has sion prevails in New Brunswick that this Act has been disallowed, or at least disapproved by Her Ma-jesty's Government. The Act has not received the express sanction of Her Majesty, because it was evi-dently useless to bring it under the formal considera-tion of the Government until a similar law had been passed by Canada. In fact far from having been dis-allowed, it is still actually in force in the Province, and I shall have been greatly misunderstood if, by refusing to submit it prematurely to my colleagues, I am supposed to indicate any disapproval of its pro-visions, or any feeling of Inkewarmness with regard to the important object which it is intended to effect. Such a misunderstanding would cause me no ordinary regret, because I am particularly sensible of the honorable warmth, promptitude and straightforward-ness with which this matter has been dealt with in New Brunswick.
