to the French Government the Manifesto adopted by he Confederate Congress at its last Session. The Commissioners invite attention to this Manifesto, the terms of which they breifly recapitulate, and add that since it was issued the war has continued to be waged by the North with even increased ferocity, a most signal disregard of all the rules of civilized warfare and a most wanton violation of the obligations of International Law.

An identical note was presented to all the cabinets of Europe, Constantinople excepted. A protracted and extraordinary divorce case in which Admiral Codrington sought a dissolution of his marriage, terminated with a verdict in his favor, and a divorce was granted. Reported that Thomas Hall Gladstone of the bankrupt firm of John Gladstone & Co., and Chairman of the International Bank, has absconded to New York, taking with him a box containing three hundred thousand dollars. A reward has been offered for The execution of Muller, at Newgate, on the 14th ult., drew together an immense crowd. Not less than ult., drew together an immense crowd. Not less that one hundred thousand were supposed to be present. The Times says:—"The culprit ascended the scaffold with a firm step, accompanied by Dr. Cappel, and as he did so the multitude, on his being confronted with them, raised a mighty and indescribable hum. At this moment the sun shone brightly, though rain had fallen more or less all through the night. After the convict had been placed upon the drop, and the rope adjusted round his neck, Dr. Cappel, addressing him with great animation and solemnity, said:—'In a few moments, Muller, you will stand before God; I ask you again, for the last time, are you guilty or innocent? He replied: 'I am innocent,' Dr. Cappel: 'You are innocent?' represent the reserving black of the last time, are you guilty or innocent?' You are innocent?' represent the replied: 'You are innocent?' pel: 'You are innocent?' repeating his own words in the form of a question, Muller answered: 'God Almighty knows what I have done. Dr. Cappel: God Almighty knows what you have done? again repeating the convict's own words; ' Does God know that you have committed this particular deed?' Muller replied, 'Yes, I have done it,' speaking in German, in which language the whole conversation was conducted. The German expression used by the convict was : 'Ich habe es getham ;' and these were his last words. The drop fell, and he soon ceased to live. So relieved was the reverend gentleman by the confes-sion that he rushed from the scaffold, exclaiming-Thank God!' Thank God!' and sank down in a chair, completely exhausted by his own emotion.

After recovering, he repeated in English, in presence of the sheriffs and under-sheriffs, and the representatives of the newspaper press, of whom there were four, what had just passed between him and the convict, precisely as it has been related above. The con-ment, which has been placed in the hands of the she-iriffs, but who forbear for the present to make it pub-lic, after his confession on the scaffold, until they shall have reported the fact to the Court of Aldermen."

UNDER THE GALLOWS. The Times thus describes the scenes at Newgate :
"None but those who looked down upon the awful crowd of Monday will ever believe in the wholesale, open, broadest manner in which garroting and highof those whom the mere wanton mischief of the crowd led to 'bonnet' as they passed, or else to pluck their hats from off their heads and toss them over the mob, amid roars and shouts of laughtened and toss them they came for the control of the crowd led to 'bonnet' as they passed, or else to pluck their hats from off their heads and toss them over the mob, amid roars and shouts of laughtened an important lodgment on the North side of the James river near to Richmond. Also that Warren is rapidly marching on Weldon.

Gold 280 they came from all sides and went in all directions, till sometimes even they fell within the enclosure round the drop, and were kicked under the gallows by the police. The propriety of such an amusement at such a time admits of question, to say the least, even among such an audience. But even this rough play falls into harmlessness beside the open robbery, and violence which yesterday morning had its way virtually unchecked in Newgate street. There were regular gangs, not so much in the crowd itself within the barriers as along the avenues which led to them, and these vagrants openly stopped, bonneted, sumetimes garroted and always plundered any person natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, whose dress led them to think him worth the trouble; the risk was nothing. Sometimes their victims made a desperate resistance, and for a few minutes kept the crowd around them violently swaying to and do no harm. Every one who has used these prefro amid the dreadful uproar."

AMEND AND REAL PROPERTY AND A STATE OF THE S UNITED STATES.

THE GREATEST GUN IN THE WORLD. - Fort Hamilton was the theatre of a very interesting scene, the trial of the great 20-inch Rodman gun. It weighs nearly one hundred and seventeen thousand pounds. The carriage is in proportion. Its diameter or thickness is twenty inches. The solid shot it throws is 1,080 pounds in weight, and the regular charge of powder is 100 pounds, which may be increased to 125 pounds if greater range or extraordinary momentum is required to be imparted to its terrible missiles. It is calculated that there are few armored ships affoat calculated that there are few armored ships afloat whose sides this monster would not crush. * * * *

The third trial was by far the most interesting and important of all that preceded it. Great impatience for the result was manifested by the spectators. A heavy concussion of the ground as well as of the atmosphere was now looked for, and there was just enough of anxiety for the safety of the giant, who was now become a net among those who were not was now become a pet among those who were not familiar with its powers, to lend the additional charm of excitement to the interest hitherto felt. The gun had now in a full charge of 100 pounds of powder and a 1,080-pound ball. At last it was loaded and it was announced that the fuse was about to be fired.
All rushed out of the way, and many tock shelter behind the redoubts of the fort. The fuse hissed and flamed, but while all waited breathlessly for the flash, it only turned out to be "a flash in the pan." The fuse failed. An officer then went up, who must have great confidence in the gun, and snapping the cap, off went the big gun.
The report was very little louder than the one which immediately preceded it. There was no perceptible concussion of the ground, and indeed very little of anything, to lead you to think that the greatest gun known to exist had then been fired.

The shot whirled through the air from the angle of treaty five degrees at which the gun was always.

twenty-five degrees, at which the gun was elevated, and after describing a beautiful arc, which was visible to the naked eye, dropped into the water about four miles off. The noise made by the collision of the ball and the air in the flight of the former, was like ball and the air in the flight of the former, was like the wail of a giant. It was something like the peculiar noise made by a hurricane passing through the ship's rigging. It was like the scream of the eagle. The volume of spray thrown up by the ball, after its contact with the water, was so great that we could not see whether it ricochetted or not, though many said it did. On examining the effect on the gun it was discovered that this time the giant was foaming a little at the mouth, the smoke of the burned powder still oozing from the muzzle. He had consented to roll himself back five feet, but in other respects was just as before.

The gun was now tested. Another trial has since been made, with perfect success.— N. Y. Herald. THE SEAT OF WAR.

We have nothing definite yet from Gen. Sherman. He is doubtless making his way, as best he can to the coast to form a new base of supplies and to co-operate effectually with Grant on the one hand, and with the Federal forces of Tennessee on the other. A successful prosecution of his design will be likely to destroy Savanah, Mobile and Charleston, and perhaps lead to the evacuation of Richmond. It is a bold stroke on his part, and of course, every possible effort will be put forth to ensure success. Detachments of his army have had some skirmishing with the rebels, but no very serious obstacles have impeded their onward course. They have found that section of Georgia through which they have passed exceedingly rich in stock and provisions of all kinds, and after bountifully sopplying themselves, have destroyed the remainder. War and desolation are certainly twin sisters.

under Bragg had given them battle and forced them to retreat with a loss of from 600 to 1,000 men.

While Sherman is pushing forward his raid through the heart of Georgia, the man Hood, that so long confronted him at Atlanta, is cutting his way through Tennessee, bound, it is supposed for Kentucky. Why not destroy Hood and his army instead of laying waste the fair fields of Georgia? What is gained in Georgia may be more than lost in Tennessee and Kentucky. The rebale still claims that they were victors at Franklin, near Nashville, and that the Federals were compelled to fall back upon the latter stronghold for protection. The following is by BOSTON, Dec. 12. Blockade runner "Ella" bound for Wilmington, with arms and ammunition, was run ashore and detroyed on the 9th. Gen. Grant advanced a force of cavalry and infantry in the direction of Armstrong's Mills, Heavy skirmishing ensued and the rebels fell back, the Federals retaining their advanced position. The storm has rendered military movements very difficult. Richmond papers of the 8th continue to speculate on Sherman's movement, but afford no information. They say Foster's expedition was to reinforce Sher-

The storm on Saturday was very severe. Some small vessels were wrecked below Boston, Richmond papers of the 9th state that a force of Grant's army had struck the Petersburg and Weldon Railroad at Janetts, 32 miles south of Pittsburg, and were proceeding towards Weldon, and that a heavy column of artillery, infantry and cavalry left the front of Petersburg on Tuesday, and were reported Wednesday morning at Proctor's Mills, 20 miles south of Petersburg.

Despatches from Virginia state that General War-ren had reached the Weldon Railroad, and defeated a rebel force at Janett's Station.

Weather very severe in vicinity of Richmond, with hail, rain and snow. An arrival from Port Royal, 7th, reports that Gen. Foster's scouts had communicated with Sherman who was marching for Savannah, and expected to reach there on the 14th. Foster had burned the Pocotaligo Bridge and otherwise destroyed railroad communication between Charleston and Savannah. Richmond papers of the 10th, state that on the 7th, Sherman was within 25 miles of Richmond. Despatches from Nashville report severe fighting, but no general battle has yet taken place. A force of rebel cavalry made a dash into Murfreesboro', but were ariven out by Gen. Milroy. Many boildings in the the town were burned,

The Rebel General Forrest, with 2500 cavalry, supported force of infantry, and was repulsed on Wednesday last, losing 2 guns, many killed and wounded, and nearly three hundred prisoners.

So far Hood has made little progress in his attempted invasion of Tennessee and Kentucky. Gen. Thomas, the Federal Commander, is reported perfectly satisfied with the situation.

tainly twin sisters.

The Confederates are mustering their forces from all directions, and express themselves hopeful with regard to the results. He is evidently giving them more time for combination than was expected either by friends or foes.

Gen. Foster had taken troops from Hilton Head to co-operate with Sherman, but South Carolina forces under Bragg had given them hattle and forces.

On Friday morning, of typhoid fever, Sarah II., second daughter of Sarah J. and Jacob D. Underbill, aged 5 years and seven months.

On Sunday evening, after a short but severe illness, Charlotte D. aged 11 months, infant daughter of Phobbe and William B. Belyes.

It becomes our painful duty to record the death of Mr. Joseph Read, in the 70th year of his age. This beloved christian brother for some years has not had good bealth, but for the most part was able to keep about and attend to his business until quite recently. Finding himself not quite as well as usual, he Fesolved to remain in for a few roughly evangelical, attaching great importance to the fun-damental doctrines of the christian faith, and in his daily adherence to religious obligation he exhibited the practi-cal influence of these doctrines upon his heart and conduct. In business life his integrity never wavered, and in his religious convictions he was steadfast and immovable. Few men in his position had more friends or fewer enemies. de remarked to his pastor a day or two before his death "I am looking down to the grave, but I am also looking above it." His funeral on Sabbath afternoon was attended by a very numerous cir. le of friends; the services were erformed by his pastor, Rev. S. Robinson, aided by Rev. E. Bill. His death having been occasioned by apoplexy of the lungs, it left a peculiar freshness upon his counten ance, so much so that it was difficult to realize that he was dead; but he has gone, we doubt not, to that blessed world where he will bloom in immortal youth. "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord." May grace sustain the bereaved widow, and enable her to rejoice in the prospect of a bappy re-union in the "better land."

Ou the 17th ultimo, in the 59th year of her age, Mrs. Elizabeth, beloved wife of brother Laban Lawrence, of Sackville. Sister L. professed faith in Christ over forty years ago; in an extensive revival under the labors of th sainted Joseph Crandall, by whom she was baptized. She became a member of the Second Baptist Church, worshipping in "Bethel" very soon after its organization. In ping in "Bethel" very soon after its organization, and in all the religious move-School, and Prayer meetings, and in all the religious move-ments connected with Zion, in which her interest continued unabated. Her house was the home of the Christian minister, and her hands ministered to their wants. She was a leading and valuable member of the Church

In her removal a mourning husband has lost a kind and faithful wife, the Church a devoted member, the poor a warm and benevolent friend, the community an enterpriz ing and industrious woman. Her sickness was brief and severe. In pain she uttered no murmurs; in death her faith was strong and triumphant. Her funeral was exceedingly large and solemn. The sermon by her pastor, on the occasion, was founded on Phil. i. 21, "To live is Christ, and to die is gain."

Her soul is at rest—her toils are all o'er, She dwells with the blest on that calm, peaceful shore; Where the good of all ages gather and sing. The soul thrilling song—to their Saviour and King. Her purified spirit on pinions of light, Ranges o'er the blest fields of celestial delight; Beholds her Kedeemer—the veil is removed,

In the Bethel below we shall see her no more-In that Bethel above, where storms are all o'er, We hope there to greet her, and ever be blest, In that happy home where the weary ones rest, How sweet after conflict is rest and repose Her battle was fought by Sharon's sweet Rose : The spoils were all his, yet the victory she won,

She sees and adores the dear Saviour she loved.

And now she is wearing the victor's bright crown. How joyous the meeting when all shall get home, When the storm-cloud at sorrow shall never more come, Where eternity's lamp shall ray out its light, On splendours that dazzle an archangel's sight.

Sackville, Dec. 5, 1864. At Hammond Vale, on Tuesday 29th ultimo, Mr. David Faulkner, in the 79th year of his age. He departed in the sure aud certain hope of a glorious resurrection. [Halifax papers please

At Hammond, King's County, on the 29th Nov., Hannah, the beloved wife of Mr. William Usburn, in the 32d year of her age. She was amiable and pious, beloved in life, and amented in death. She was well sustained under deep sorrow and protracted illness, and then fell asleep in Jesus The funeral sermon was preached by the writer from a text hosen by herself-Rev. xiv. 13. Thus has Mr. Osburn lost all his (four) children and his wife in a few weeks by that ell disease diptheria, which is raging in this land. It has already taken some twenty five or thirty of our children and youth into the eternal world. Some families have lost from three to six children by this disease. It has appeared among us in a very malignant form. May the Lord sanctify these dispensations, and sustain mourning relatives. J. TRIMBLE. On the 31st October, aged 83 years, at the residence of her son, Henry Todd, of Johnston, Q. C. Matilda, relict of the late Adam Todd, and mother of the Rev. Thomas Todd, of Sackville. Mrs. T., with her husband and family, emigrated from the County of Derry, and settled at the Narrows, Washademoac Lake, where she remained, till emoved by death, beloved and respected by all who formed her acquaintance. During a work of grace, some years ago at the Narrows, she publicly professed faith in the Redeemer, was baptized, and united with the Baptist Church in that place, with which she remained a consistent member, till removed by death to join the Church above. She fell asleep in Jesus. Her end was peace. She has left a large circle of friends to mourn their loss. The funeral services were conducted by the writer, assisted by the Rev. George

The New York Tribune says, "the reason why Drake's Plantation Bitters are so universally used, and have such on immense sale is, that they are always made up to the original standard, of highly invigorating material and of pure quality, although the prices have so largely advanced," &c.

The Tribune just hits the nail on the head. The Plantation Bitters are not only made of pure material, but the people are told what it is. The Recipe is published around each Bottle, and the bottles are not reduced in size. At least twenty imitations and counterfeits have sprung up. They impose upon the people once and that's the last of

New Bedroed, Mass., Nov. 24, 1863.

Dear Sir—I have been afflicted many years with severe prostrating cramps on my limbs, cold feet and hands, and a general disordered system. Physicians and medicine failed to relieve me. Some friends in New York who were using Plantation Bitters, prevailed upon me to try them. I commenced with a small wine glassful after dinner. Feeling better by degrees in a few days I was astonished to find the coldness and cramps had entirely left me, and I could sleep the night through, which I had not done for years. I feel like another being. My appetite and strength have also greatly improved by the use of the Plantation Bitters, Respectfully, JUDITH RUSSELL."

If the ladies but knew what thousands of them are constantly relating to as, we candidly believe one half of the stantly relating to us, we candidly believe one half of the weakness, prostration and distress experienced by them would vanish. James Marsh, Esq, of 158 West 14th St., N. Y., says, "he has three children, the first two are weak and puny, his wife having been unable to nurse or attend them, but that she has taken Plantation Bitters for the last two years, ane has a child now eighteen months old which she has nursed and reared herself, and both are hearty saucy and well, The article is invaluable to mothers," &c Such evidence might be continued for a volume. The best evidence is to try them. They speak for themselves. Persons of sedentary habits, troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, diabetes, &c., will find speedy relief through these Bitters.

Every bottle for exportation and sale out of the United States, has a metal sup and green label around the neck.

Beware of refilled bottles. See that the cap has not been mutilated. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon, is an imposter. We sell it
