TOUCHING THE BALANCE WHEEL.

BY REV. JOHN TODD, D. D. A gentleman sat in his library, and as he was weary with reading, he laid down his book, and took up a pen-knife that lay before him. Without much thought, he opened a little drawer and took out a small black stone and rubbed his knife on it for some minutes. It was a load-stone, and the knife was now magnetized. He laid some needles down on the table, and the blade would lift them. After amusing himself a few minutes. the knife was laid aside, and no more was thought about it. It seemed of no consequence and was forgotten.

But the gentleman had a very valuable watch. It not only cost a great deal, but it was a remarkably good time keeper. Moreover it had belonged to his father, and he valued it the more highly on that account. But in dropping the watch, it received a jar, and then the movements were a little too rapid. So the owner thought he would just touch the regulator and thus make it go a little slower. He took up his pen-knife, and with the point moved the regulator; and in doing so, the blade of the knife touched the little steel balance wheel. He did not notice it at the time, laid down the knife, shut up his watch, and went about his business. But from that hour his watch would not keep time. It went too slow or too latter year (1858) again show the "Royal" as more than maintaining the ratio of its increase as stated in former years. would not keep time. It went too slow or too hands and moved the regulator. It would not obey the regulator. It would go wrong. He carried it to the watchmaker's. It was taken to pieces and cleaned; but it made no difference. Again and again he had it examined and re-examined. It did no good. The balance wheel was wrong! At last a very shrewd workman tried a magnet to the wheel, and lo! it was magnetized. But this was not discovered till he had been tormented with it for months and even Years. No. of Policies. Sums Assured. New Premiums. years. And there was no cure but to throw away the beautiful wheel and have a new one put in its place This was done, and then the watch was all right. The balance wheel had been touched by the knife. I sometimes see a young man who feels that he is wiser than his father or mother, and wiser than all the strongest and brightest minds on earth-for, they believe the Bible. But he don't! Not he! He has never read it or examined it, or honestly inquired whether it be God's word, but when he was a little boy he was left at a tavern while his father went to do some business. He heard voices and so went into the bar-room, where men were talking, smoking, drinking, and swearing. They were discussing the Bible, telling of its inconsistencies, and the sins of the best men named in it, and then told 11 Casks Garden and Agricultural SEEDS, stories about Parson Sober, and Deacon Dull, and good old Mrs. Devotion, and the conclusion they came to was, that the Bible was a cheat, and that all religious people were very weakminded, or were hypocrites. The boy listened and wondered. He did not consider that if the Bible was the Word of God, these poor creatures were lost eternally living and dying as they were, and so to keep up their spirits, they must talk thus. He did not consider how much the poor creatures had at stake. But the palance wheel was spoiled! He drank in poison that finally made him a smoking, profane, drinking, silly infidel. It was all done in a short time. Will the God of mercy ever put in the new wheel? I sometimes see a Sabbath school teacher who has lost his interest in his little chappe, and his duties are a drudgery. He says nothing to the little ones about the soul, and all the light he throws upon them is the dry light of the intellect. They are not interested in him or the school. The trouble is, that he has got into gay and worldly society, and the world has touched the heart-the balance wheel, and it all goes And that little girl, who used to be so punctual in her lessons and attendance. has lost her interest. Her teacher cannot catch her eve now. She has no pleasure in singing the hymns, or in the exercises of the school. What is the matter? Alas! she has allowed herself in a very bad habit by sin, and she does not carry it to Christ and O april 13—wpiv FELLOWS & CO. at home! The balance wheel has been touched ask him to put in the new wheel! Do not my little readers understand me? Then ask your teacher or your mother. - S. S. Times.

WIVES AND CARPETS.

The Chicago Journal thus learnedly philosophizes on these themes. There is a large streak of sense in the reflections:

In the selections of a carpet, you should always prefer one with small figures, for the two webs of which the fabric consists are always more closely interwoven than in carpetings where large figures are wrought.

There is a good deal of true philosophy in this that will apply to matters widely different from the selection of carpets. A man commits a sad mistake when he selects a wife that cuts too large a figure on the carpet of life; in other words, makes much display. The attractions-the web of life becomes worn out, weak, and all the gay figures that seemed so charming at first disappear like summer flowers in autumn. Many a man has made flimsy linsey-woolsey of himself by striving to weave too large a figure, and is worn out, used up, like old carpets hanging on a fence, ere he has lived out half his allotted days in usefulness. Many a man wears out, like a carpet that is never swept, by the dust of indolence: like that carpet, he needs shaking, or whipping; he needs activity-something to think of, something to do.

Look out, then, for large figures; and there are those now stowed away in the garret of the world, awaiting their final consignment to the cellar, who, had they practiced this bit of carpet philosophy, would to-day be firm and bright as Brussels fresh from the loom, and everybody exclaiming, " It is wonderful how they do wear."

JUST PUBLISHED! WORTH and WEALTH: or, JESSIE DORR! 1 Vol., 16mo. 80. By Mrs. MADALINE LESLIE. THIS is the fourth Volume of that popular series of books, "The Leslie Stories." The other volumes are "Earning and Spending," "Never Give Up," and "Up the Ladder." Mrs. Leslie is one of the most popular authors. These books are among the best published for SABBATH SCHOOLS.

"THE MILL AGENT." By the author of "Opposite the Jail." 1 Vol., 16mo., 100.

This is another very interesting book, calculated to do much good, and should be in every Sabbath School and "OUT OF PRISON,"

One who has read the proof sheets of this Book, says—
"We shall be much mistaken if 'Out of Prison' does not make a stir among critics." The charming freshness and triguality of the Story will startle and delight all who are avored with its perusal.

Lombard-street, London, and Royal Insurance buildngs, Liverpool. Chairman of the London Board .- SAMUEL BAKER, Esq. Chairman in Liverpool.—Charles Tunner, Esq.
The Royal Insurance Company is one of the largest

At the Annual Meeting held in August 1859, the following highly satisfactory results were shown:-

The most gratifying proof of the expansion of the business is exhibited in the one following fact—that the increase alone of the last three years exceeds the entire business of some of the existing and of many of the recently defunct fire insurance companies of this kingdom.

The Premiums for the year 1855 being.....£180,060 While the Premiums for the year 1558 are.... 196,148

Only one among the London insurance offices exhibits an advance to the extent of one-half the increase of the Company, while all the others respectively fall far short of the moiety of its advance. LIFE DEPARTMENT.

The amount of new Life Premiums received this year is by far the largest received in any similar period since the commencement of the business, and must far exceed the average of amount received by the most successful offices in the kingdom. The number of policies issued in the year was 832, the sum assured £387,752 6s. 8d., and the premium £12,354 3s. 4d. These figures show a very rapid extension of business during the last ten years. Thus:-£1,380 9 1 2,627 4 7 5,828 5 10 .. 190 95,650 9 11 181,504 10 6 422 161,848 13 4 .. 703 297.560 16 8 8.850 3 11 887,752 6 8 The remarkable increase in the business of the last four years is mainly consequent upon the large bonus declared in 1855, which amounted to no less than £2 per cent. per annum on the sums assured, and averaged 80 per cent. upot the premiums paid.
