

Doubtless God is carrying out the great plan which lies fully before Him, and which He has gradually accomplished; but whether He has revealed that in such a way as to enable men to anticipate specific events, may be questioned. However, here is the remarkable fact of the withdrawal from the Pope of the foreign support of armed forces to keep him on his throne as king, and leaving him as such the action of his own subjects. What the result will be cannot yet be said, it remains to be seen. It is a temporal price, and may yet be so for some time. My own impression is, that if he were to give up all pretensions to being a secular monarch, and concentrate all his policy and power, and priestly influence as head of the Romish Church, upon that church, he would do more for the Papacy as a religious system, than would be achieved by anything else.

There is the noteworthy conduct of Russia in excluding the influence of the Pope from her dominions. The Emperor of Russia is where we have seen in the reign of Henry the Eighth.

THE RAPID SPREAD OF RITUALISM in the Church of England, according to Mr. Binney, demands the most serious consideration. He says:—

The continued advance of Romanism is becoming a more and more serious matter. In the Times, of December 30, 1865, this year twelve months, there appeared the following words: "Cardinal Wiseman was the chief representative of the court and church which was the morbid caricature of a few of the Romish authorities had encouraged a vain belief that in the most anti-papal of European nations, medieval orthodoxy could once more be galvanized into posthumous life." What efforts have been made during the past year to "galvanize" into life a "medieval orthodoxy," are known to you all. A few facts in reference to the spread of Romanism should be borne in mind. In 1851 the Popish hierarchy expanded in England. In 1853 the whole of England was placed under the dominion of a vicar apostolic. In 1854 were formed, and placed under four vicars apostolic. In 1840 eight districts were made, with eight vicars, and in 1850 a cardinal and twelve bishops were appointed. There are in England 1,521 bishops and priests, 1,183 chapels, and stations, 68 communities of men, 201 convents for women, and 12 colleges. This is the state of the case, and it is well to be considered serious. The preacher also alluded here to the advanced dogmas of scientific scepticism, which denies design, final causes, and a personal God, and to the prevalence of ritualism.

CLARENCE HOUSE, Jan. 28, 1867. DEAR MR. BENNETT—I find it difficult to express how gratefully I appreciate the kindly feeling which dictated your letter of the 31st ult., as well as the splendid present which you offer for my acceptance, but most of all the delicacy with which you seek to diminish the personal obligation under which you would lay me by giving to your generous offer an international character.

It is indeed, this last consideration only which has led me to hesitate in replying to your letter, for personally it would have been impossible for me to accept so costly a present, but I feel bound fully to consider the question in the light in which you were good enough to place it, and, if on full consideration, I feel impelled to decline your generous offer, I trust that neither you nor your gallant competitors, nor your countrymen at large, will believe that the Yachmen of England less appreciate or less reciprocate the feeling of good fellowship which prompts the offer.

Who is there that does not desire to be always exempted from indigestion—to have a good appetite, a healthy stomach, a clear head, a regular pulse, a healthy complexion? If this meets the eye of any who are not thus blessed, let them try Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. We guarantee that this delightful tonic will restore any stomach, however weak, to a healthy condition; that it will bring back the true appetite and give permanent vigor to the whole system. The feeble and emaciated, suffering from dyspepsia or indigestion in any form, are advised for the sake of their own bodily and mental comfort, to try it. Ladies of the most delicate constitution testify to its harmlessness and its restorative properties. Physicians everywhere, disgusted with the adulterated liquors of commerce, prescribe it as the safest and most reliable of all stomachics, and it is certainly much more agreeable than any of the other spirituous preparations of the day. For sale by all Druggists.

A Family Medicine. Davis' Pain Killer is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine, even in the most unskillful hands. For summer complaint, or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an almost certain cure, and has, without doubt, been more successful in curing the various kinds of Cholera than any other known remedy, or the most skillful physician. In India, Africa, and China, where this dreadful disease is ever more or less prevalent, the Pain Killer is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates, A SURE REMEDY. Sold by all medicine dealers.

An Old and Well-Tried Remedy.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething, has stood the test of thirty years.
