(From the Christian World.) MARGARET TORRINGTON: OR, THE VOYAGE OF LIFE.

By the Author of "Violet Vaughan," "Sir Julian's Wife," " St. Beetha's," dec. "So He bringeth them unto their desired haven."- spoogram has sand (Continued.) ANOTHER "FRIEND IN NEED."

"Thank God, indeed! I could not tell you what Mr. Tom is; it is enough to say that I would horsewhip him, though it were my ruin, if he dared to make love to one of my girls.-Love proffered by such a scapegrace is an insult to any pure-minded woman. But, Miss Margaret, they would not force you to marry him; we have got beyond the age of abductions, and bribed clergymen, and such enormities. Forced marriages and Gretna-green elopements have gone out together; the telegraph, the detective police, and the penny post have made us utterly prosaic. Is it absolutely necessary that you should run away ?"

"Absolutely! My cousin Tom furnishes only half the reasons why I should go atterly awaythere are other reasons still more cogent, still more imperative; but I cannot give them to you, at least not now. Oh, Mr. Scott, do not question me. I cannot bear it! Trust me and help me!" best of my ability; but I must ask a question or two-more respecting your plans." " Ask me what you please about the future ; it is the past I cannot touch upon."

"You are going to London, you say ?" "Yes. I can hide myself best there; and London is certainly the place for anyone who wishes to succeed."

"Provided you have introductions, which I shall give you. But you cannot get to town to-night. I suppose you would not go to Mrs.

" No, indeed ? I do not wish to meet with any of my own relations; and London is so wide a place that I suppose I may live there for half a century and never encounter any one I used to know. There will be no fear of Mrs. Druce finding me out." No; unless professional engagements take you to the West-end. But about to night. Will you not remain here in charge of my good wife, and set off for town early to-morrow morning?" "No. I will not, Mr. Scott; for it might be known that you had so kindly sheltered me; and if such a fact came to the knowledge of the Croftons, your own prospects might be seriously injured. For your sake, as well as for mine, I do not wish any one to know you have befriended me. I mean to stay at Blackingham all nightat some decent inn-and go on to London by an early train to-morrow." "It is dreadful to me-a father as I am-to think of your being at inns alone and unpro-

" Mr. Scott, if I am true to myself I need not fear. I am not a child, and I am not constitu-tionally timid: I have also pretty keen perceptions, and what people call 'a spirit of my own.' Besides, I trust in God ; I have committed my way to Him, and I feel that He will, that He is

"If it be so, you have little to fear indeed ;only continue, my dear young lady, to put your knowledge him, and He will direct thy paths. -But when you reach London, what do you purpose doing? When the tram lands you in Eustop-square, whither will you head your steps?" I do not know at all. I must take decent, but cheap lodgings in an out-of-the-way part of London,—that is one point on which I desired to consult you." "Happily I am in a position to be of use in this matter. But too retired a district will scarcely suit your purpose. What say you to the neighbourhood of Bloomsbury?"

" I can say nothing, Mr. Scott; I never was in London in my life. I have heard of Bloomsbury, but I do not know it."

I mention Bloomsbury for two reasons: the one being that it is highly eligible for a professional person; nicely central, and yet within an easy distance of the West end; also, highly respectable, though no longer aristocratic. The other, and still stronger reason, is, that I have a relation living in King-street, Sonthampton-row, and she, I faney, can accommodate you. At any rate, if I write to her this evening, she will receive you to-morrow, and lodge you comfortably for the night; and afterwards assist you in what-ever arrangements you may have to make."

"Can I ever thank you sufficiently, Mr. Scott? My heart sank within me when I thought of reaching London without knowing where to find a shelter; and I dared not have trusted to the advice of strangers, You are very, very kind. May God bless you for it !"

" It is no more than I hope some Christian soul would do for one of my own girls in similar difficulties. My Charlotte is just about your age, Miss Torrington; and I have, as you know, younger children-my little Polly is only seven! Perhaps some day you will more than repay the slight services I am proud to render you, in kindness to her or to one of her sisters; there is no saying how soon or how greatly my children may need a friend. But to return to business:-I will write at once to Mrs. Brown; tell her what it is necessary she should know of your peculiar circumstances, and ask her to meet your train tomorrow at the Euston-square terminus. I may as well tell you that Mrs. Brown is my cousin. She is not what you would consider a lady; but she is a superior sort of woman, kind and motherly, and to be relied on ! She has been a widow many years, and she lets part of her house in Kingstreet, and I doubt not, if she can possibly contrive it, she will accommodate you at very reasonable charges; I can leave you in her hands with the greatest confidence." "Again I say,-I can never properly thank

"Then do not try. Dear me! we should not be Christians if we did not help each other in our extremities. Now, I am going to Mrs. Scott to ask her to send you in a cup of coffee. Nay! it is vain to protest; you do not leave my house until you have taken some refreshment. I know how you feel; but this is not a time to let feelings have their way : you must eat and drink if you are to do any work worth speaking of. It will never do to arrive at Blackingham faint and ill, with strangers all around you. Now, please for-give me, but I know young ladies have such ro-mantic notions on this score,—how are you pro-vided with money?"

"I have calculated that when I reach Euston-square I shall have three or four pounds left;— also, I have some ornaments that I could self, if

"If you should be in pecuniary difficulty presently, will you promise to apply to me?"
"I cannot make such a promise. Dear Mr. Scott, you have been quite good enough to me as it is. Only say that I may, if requisite, refer to you on the points of respectability and compe-nd I dare say Mrs. Brown pupils. She has promised she will go up to town uly be brave, my child, to work hard and pa-about, and yet how naturally! There was not an atom of the sensational element in my experiences; and yet, so far, every difficulty had been smothed away and my path made clear before me. Surely God was in all this. I had called upon him, and he had heard me, and He had lone for me great things. Must I not henceforth say, "Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me bless His holy name?" And would He not in due time make all things straight ?-Would He not lead me into the very paths which were best and happiest for me? Would He not, if it were His holy will concerning me, give me the desire of my heart, and certainly bring me to the haven where I would be? If not to a haven of earthly rest and joy, such as I had pictured to myself two days before, yet surely to the everlasting haven-to the city which hath foundations, where all is peace and bliss unspeakable. Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. In the whole history of medical discovery no remedy has oc formed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the THROAT, LUNGS and CHEST, as this long tried and justly colebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy, that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it at hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of Cold-fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONY.

From Rev. Francis Lobdell, Pastor of the South Congrega-"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I have used it -when I have had occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds or Sore Throat-for trust in Him; do not rely on your own strength, many years, and never in a single instance has it trust in Him; do not rely on your own strength, relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse or on your own prudence. In all thy ways aca liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty. " I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the Bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

ROGERS' MEDICINES

A FTER a test of Four Years before the public, are still increasing in popularity, because they con inue to make cures unparalleled in the history of Medicines, as abundantly appears by the following, among hundreds of similar testimonials, from people of the hignest respectability from all parts of the Lower Provinces.

There is no longer any reason why the most hopeless ca-ses in any disease arising from impurities of the blood may not be cured, as well as General Debility, Female Weak-nesses, &c. Our ALTERATIVE SYRUP is beyond all controversy unsurpassed as a purifier of the blood and invigorator of the system. This no man can doubt who will look over the

CERTIFICATES: CANCER OF THE WOMB CURED.

MESSES. Rogers & Co .- Gents : I have been cured by I had been affiicted for several years with an internal Tu nor, and four years ago I was taken sick with a fever; the old complaint also revived. I had a Doctor attending me, out continued to get worse : we sent for another Doctor

He pronounced it a hopeless case, and said I could not live long. He said the Tumor was then as large as a pint bowl, and was assuming a cancerous nature. I suffered more than tongue can tell. My friends expected me to die duily. They were called in to see me die, and I was reduced to a mere skeleton. I suffered in this dreadful manner for upwards of two years. I at length, as a forlorn hope, was induced to try your medicino. The first lot seemed to make me worse, and I became discouraged; but the Rev. A. W. Barss advised me to continue. I did so, and soon began to improve, and I am now well again, and a wonder to myself and neighbours. I feel as one raised from the dead. I am a young woman of 26 years of age. I state these things for the benefit of suffering humanity, and I cannot begin to describe the severity of my case—it is widely known in the County of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia.

Yours, with much gratitude, Lois A. Hatriett.

We, the undersigned, friends of Miss Hatfield, have much pleasure in endorsing all she says above, and much more might be said of this most extraordinary case. MARIAH GAVILL, MARY L. McCormis.

ULCERATED CANCER CURED!

Who needs better proof than the following voluntary testimony of Mrs. HANNAH BALMAIN, of Wickham, N. B. : Some four years since there came a lump in my breast, and at the time I did not know what it was; but on showing it to three Doctors, they told me it was a "CANCER," and for which the knife would have to be applied; then again, I went to a female Doctor, who has been in the habit of curing Cancers by drawing them out, but she informbit of curing Cancers by drawing them out, but she informed me that it was deep in the flesh and too long seated, and therefore could not help me. Knowing that something must be done, I concluded to try your medicine, which I s w advertised in the Visitor. Accordingly, I sent for a can of Ointment and Powders for making the Syrup, which I used without the slightest change at the time. I began to think it was a failure, but concluded to give it another trial; consequently I procured another can of Ointment and Powders, and from its use it gathered and broke in and Powders, and from its use it gathered and broke in two places, and discharged very freely for about six months, after which time it broke again in another place and one of the old Ulcers healed up, the remaining two still remaining, one of which ran for two and a hall years, the other healing up in about two months after it broke, during which time I used your medicine regularly. I may here state, that the last Ulcer healed up about thirteen months ago, since which time I have enjoyed good health! Yes, I may say better health than I have enjoyed for years.

I remain yours, respectfully,
MRS. HANNAH BALMAIN. Wickham, Q C., February 11, 1867.

MESSES. ROGERS & Co.—Gents: My daughte is nicely, and you have done wonders, for I neverthough you would make a cure as you have done. Her leg appears to be quite strong, but it itches a little. EDWARD CORBETT.

The above was a very severe case of Scroful of four or five years standing, and after having baffled the skill of the best Physiciaus and almost every other Patent Medicine, and the child appeared to be on the verge of the grave, and the parents having lost confidence in every thing in the medical line, we undertook the cure for a certain sum, and f we failed were to get nothing; but we succeeded, as we do in every case of Scrofula we undertake. Nearly the whole of the bone-from the knee to the ankle-came out n pieces from time to time.

Mrs. Edwin Starratt, of Port William, Nova scotia, and having lost the use of her limbs for upwards of three years, has been fully restored to her former health by the use of our medicine. ADVERTISEMENT. PELHAM SCHOOL-A Select Private School at Rochelle, N. Y. DAVID CHERBULIEZ, Prin

TAKE great pleasure in recommending to my friends in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick the Boys Boardin School of Mr. Cherbuliez. I know him as a highly cultivated gentleman and an accomplished and skilful teacher. He is a Swiss Protestant, but long resident in this country and for 17 years he has been connected with Pelham Pricry, which is no small recommendation. His school offer superior advantages for acquiring a skilful knowledge the French language.
