THE CHRISTIAN VISITOR.

The Samily and the Sarm.

God's Heroes.

Not on the gory fields of fame Their noble deeds were done : Not in the sound of earth's acclaim Their tadeless crowns were won.

Not from the palaces of kings, Nor fortune's golden elime, Came the great souls, whose life-work flings

Lustre o'er earth and time. For truth with tireless zeal they sought ;

In joyless paths they trod ; Heedless of praise or blame they wrought, And left the rest to God. The lowliest sphere was not disdained ;

Where love could soothe or save They went, by fearless faith sustained, Nor knew their deeds were brave.

The foes with which they waged their strife Were Passion, Self, and Siv ; The victories, that laureled life, Were fought and won within. Not names in gold emblazoned here, And great and good confest, In Heaven's immortal scroll appear As noblest and as best.

No sculptured stone in stately temple Proclaims their rugged lot; Like Him who was their great example, This vain world knew them not. But, though their names no poet wove In deathless song or story, Their record is inscribed above-Their wreaths are crowns of glory.

The deeds which selfish heart approve, And fame's loud trumpet sings, Secure no praise, where truth and love Are coupted noblest things. And work which godless folly deems Worthless, obscure, and lowly, To Heaven's unerring vision seems Most God-like, grand, and holy.

Then murmur not if toils obscure, And thorny paths be thine ; To God be true-they shall secure The joy of life divine. Who in the darkest, sternest sphere For Him their powers employ ; The toils contemned and slighted here, Shall yield the purest joy.

When endless day dispels the strife Which blinds and darkens now, Perchance the brightest crown of life Shall deck some lowly brow. Then learn, despite thy boding fears, From seed with sorrow sown In lone obscurity and tears, The richest sheaves are grown.

Do Not Live Beyond Your Means.

"This is pleasant !" exclaimed a young husband, taking his seat in the rocking chair as the supper things were removed. The fire, glowing in the grate, revealed a pretty and a neatly fur-nished sitting-room, with all the appliances of comfort. The fatiguing business of the day was over, and he sat enjoying what he had all day been anticipating, the delights of his own fireside. His pretty wife, Esther, took her work and sat have not been away at play, when you should have been at school " No, sir; I have not played any this morning; I thought I could run home, and be back before school commenced."

"But why did you wish to return home? Did you forget anything !"

" No. sir."

" What did you go back for, then ?" " If you will please excuse me, sir, I had rather not tell.' " I hardly think I can excuse you, George : you are late, very late for you, and I have a right to demand a sufficient reason for it."

George stepped up, and placing his lips close to his teacher's ear, whispered, "I met a boy who was without shoes, and as I had a pair which I had out-grown, I went home to get them for him."

"Was that the reason ?" asked the teacher, looking upon the blushing boy with love and approbation.

" Yes, sir."

" Why, then, did you not wish to tell me ?"

"Bccause, sir, my mother says when I give anything in charity, I must do it privately, lest I should receive praise of men, and become vain and proud."

" It is pleasant to have a home of one's own," he again said, taking a satisfactory survey of his little quarters. The cold rain beat against the windows, and he thought he felt really grateful for all his present comforts.

"Now, if we only had a piano," exclaimed the wife.

"Give me the music of your own sweet voice before all the pianos in creation," he observed complimentary; but he felt a certain secret disappointment that his wife's thankfulness did not happily chime with his own. "Well, but we want one for our friends," said

Esther.

" Let our friends come to see us, and not to hear a piano," exclaimed the husband.

" But, George, everybody has a piano, now-adays-we don't go anywhere without seeing a piano," persisted the wife.

" And yet, I don't know what we want one for-you will have no time to play on one, and I don't want to hear it."

"Why, they are so fashionable-I think our room looks nearly naked without one." "I think it looks just right."

" I think it looks very naked-we want a piano shockingly," protested Esther emphatically. The husband rocked violently.

"Your lamp smokes, my dear," said he, after a long pause. "When are you going to get a camphene lamp? I have told you a dozen times how much we needed one," said Esther pettishly.

"These are pretty lamps-I can never see by a camphene lamp," said her husband. "These lamps are the prettiest of the kind I ever saw." " But, George, I do not think our room is com plete without a camphene lamp," said Esther, aharply. "They are so fashionable! Why, the Morgans and Millers, and many others I might mention, all have them ; I am sure we ought to.'

people's expenses, and I don't see any reason in that."

The husband moved uneasily in his chair. "We want to live as well as others," said

Esther.

"We want to live within our means, Esther, exclaimed George.

" I am sure we can afford it as well as the Morgans, and Millers, and Thorns ; we do not wish to appear mean."

George's cheek crimsoned. " Mean ! J am not mean !" he cried angrily. "Then we do not wish to appear so," said the wife. "To complete this room, and make it lool like other people's, we want a piano and a camphene lamp. "We want-we want !" muttered the hus band, there's no satisfying woman's wants, do what you may," and he abruptly left the room. "How many husbands are in a similar dilemma! How many houses and husbands are rend ered uncomfortable by the constant dissatisfaction of a wife with present comforts and present pro-visions! How many bright prospects for busines have ended in bankruptcy and ruin, in order to satisfy this secret hankering after fashionable ne. essaries ! Could the real cause of many failure be known, it would be found to result from use less expenditures at home—expenses to answer the demands of fashion and " what will people

THE APPETITE FOR

TOBACCO DESTROYEDIII

TOBACCO DESTROYED!!! Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed, Tobacco! ONE Box of OBTON'S PREPARATION is WARRANTED to destroy the appetite for Tobacco in any person, no matter how strong the babit may be, if is it warranted any case the work of from the use of Tobacco by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature in over coming a habit so firmly rooted ; with the help of the Preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that OBTON'S PREFARATION completely destroys the appe-tie for it abefore he commenced its use. It is perfectly safe and hormless in all cases. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by Tobacco, and through these upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing the unnatural cravings for Tobacco. No more Hankering for Tobacco ofter using Or-

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession.

[From W. P. Heald, Esq., Bangor, Me.]

[From W. P. Heald, Esq., Bangor, Me.] BANGOR, Me., April 24, 1868. I hereby certify that I have used Tobacco for thirty years past, and for the last fitteen years I have used two pounds per month. I have made attempts to leave off at different times—I have left off one year at a time, but always contin-ued to hanke: for it until I used Orton's Preparation, which has completely cured me of the appetite for Tobacco. I would recommend all who are affected with this terrible habit to try the preparation, which will certainly cure if the directions are followed. W. P. HEALD.

[From E. W. Adkins, Knoxville, Tenn.]

[From E. W. Adkins, Knoxville, Tenn.] KNOXVILLS, Tenn., Angust 5, 1867. This is to certify that I had used Tobacco to such an ex-whole system deranged and broken down. In June, 1867, purchased one box of Orton's Preparation, and after using it found I was completely cured. I have not had say hakering or desire for Tobaccosinee using the Prepara-tion. I believe it to be all that it is recommended, and ry would advise all who wish to quit the use of Tobacco that say hakering or desire for Tobaccosinee using the Prepara-tion. I believe it to be all that it is recommended, and ry would advise all who wish to quit the use of Tobacco that say hakering or desire for Tobaccosinee using the Prepara-tion. I believe it to be all that it is recommended, and ry would advise all who wish to quit the use of Tobacco for eighteen to a for the reparation. E. W. ADKINS. Ifrom John Morrill, Bangor, Me.] I have tried many times to leave off, but have affer ed so much from a disziness in my head and ganwing at its in the least hanker after Tobacco, either cured. I did not in the least hanker after Tobacco, either to cured. I did not in the least hanker after Tobacco, either to smoke on the in the least hanker after Tobacco, either to smoke on the in the least hanker after Tobacco, either the sense is the origin the to the the treparation. CHALONER'S STOVE POLISH.

CHALONER'S STOVE POLISH. A NEW LOT of this incomparable VARNISH now ready, which is warranted to be all that is claimed for-it. It is black and glossy, dries quickly and hard, gives no asphaltum odor or sinoke when heated, and is already thin for use. The last lot was too long in drying, the only time this ever happened, owing to circumstances which could not well be prevented ; but the new, at present of-fered, is entirely tree from this objection. Directions for use on the label. Price 20 cents. FURNITURE CREAM.—Some persons are found who will use this article, and prefer it to any other. It has been before the public many years, with general satisfaction, so far as the proprietor can find out. Housekeepers who want well polished Furniture, with little labour, had better try CHALONER'S FURNITURE CREAM. Horsfall & Sheraton's Brick Building, July 9. Cor. King and Germain Streets.
