The Samily and the Sirm.

The Two Angels.

Two angels, one of Life and one of Death, Passed o'er the village as the morning broke ; The dawn was on their faces, and beneath The sombre houses hearsed with plames of smoke.

Their attitudes and aspects were the same, Alike their features and their robes of white : But one was crowned with amaranth as with flame,

And one with apshodels, like flakes of light.

I saw them pause on their celestial way : Then said I, with deep fear and doubt opprest,

"Beat not so loud, my heart, lest thou betray The place where thy beloved are at rest !"

And he who wore the crown of asphodels, Descending, at my door began to knock, And my soul sank within me, as in wells

The waters sink before an earthquake's shock.

I recognized the nameless agony, The terror and the tremor and the pain, That oft before had filled and haunted me, And now returned with threefold strength again.

The door I opened to my heavenly guest, And listened: for I thought I heard God's voice ;

And knowing whatso er he sent was best, Dared neither to lament nor to rejoice.

Then with a smile that filled the house with light, " My errand is not Death, but Life," he said And, ere I answered, passed out of sight, On his celestial embassy he sped.

"Twas at thy door, O friend ! and not at mine. The angel with the amaranthine wreath Pausing, descended, and with voice divine, Whispered a word that had a sound like Death.

Then fell upon that house a sudden gloom, A shadow on those features, fair and thin ; And softly from that hushed and darkened room, Two angels issued, where but one went in.

All is of God ? If he but wave his hand The mists collect, the rain falls thick and loud, Till, with a smile of light on sea and land. Lo! he looks back from the departing cloud.

Angels of Life and Death alike are his ; Without his leave they pass no threshold o'er : Who, then, would wish or dare, believing this, Against his messenger to shut the door ? -Longfellow.

The Managing Woman.

To be a good housekeeper is one of the most essential and useful accomplishments; and the man who secures for his wife one whose education in this respect has not been neglected, combined with a mild, confiding and loving disposition, has a most valuable treasure : and if his home is not agreeable and pleasant, he may be assured that the fault is with himself, and he does not possess the manly and gentlemanly attributes necessary for such a partner for life.

We commend the following just and truthful remarks to the attention of our readers :

The managing woman is a pearl among women ; she is one of the prizes in the great lottery of life, and the man who draws her may rejoice for the rest of his days. Better than riches, she is a

RULES FOR READING .- Better to read one ood book carefully than to read ten carelessly Be slow to begin to read a book, if it is likely you will not have time to finish it. Be careful how you spend time in reading books which are not worth reading. You had better throw away money than time, for time is worth more than money. As a bad man may have a good name, so a bad book may have a good title.

Bees find the flowers, not because they are symmetrical and beautiful, but because they have honey in them. If sinners are ever attracted to the churches, it will not be by the observance of stated and stately forms, or by the display of gaudy paraphernalia, but because there is honey in them .- The Gospel in the Trees.

ONE day a little girl, about five years old heard a preacher of a certain denomination praying most lustily, till the roof rang with the strength of his supplications. Turning to her mother, and beckoning the maternal car to a speaking distance, she whispered : "Mother, don't you think if he lived nearer to God, he wouldn't have to talk so loud ?"

WHAT SLACKED LIME WILL DO. - A thrifty farmer, who " believes in making old things last in these times," says ---- "There is one thing that nearly everybody knows, and hardly any body attends to--that is, to sprinkle lime on their roofs once a year, either in fall or spring. If the shingles are covered ever so thick with moss, the lime soon clears it off, leaving the roof clean and white, and good for a dozen years longer. It ought to be put on pretty thick, and a rainy day is best for the work. Strong wood ashes will answer almost as well to keep old roofs in repair, but they will not look as nice. To make new shingles last three or four times the usual period, they need only to be soaked a few days in a tank half full of thick lime water, which must be stirred up well before the shingles are put in.

fortune in herself-a gold mine never failing in its yield-a spring of pleasant water, whose banks are fringed with moss flowers when all around is bleached white with sterile sand. The managing woman can do anything, and she does everything well.

Perceptive and executive, of quick sight and steady hand, she always knows exactly what is wanting, and supplies the deficiency with a tact and cleverness peculiar to herself. She knows the capabilities of persons as well as things, for she has an intuitive knowledge of character. The managing woman, if not always patient, is always energetic, and can never be disappointed into inaction. Though she has to teach the same thing over and over again, still she is never weary of her vocation of arranging and ordering, and never less than hopeful of a favorable result.

Prors WOMEN. - They are the women who bless, dignify, and truly adern society. The painter, indeed, does not make his fortune by their sitting to him ; the jeweler is neither brought into vogue by furnishing their diamonds nor un-done by not being paid for them; the prosperity of the milliner does not depend on affixing their name to a cap or collar ; the poet does not celebrate them, the novelist does not dictate to them -but they possess the affection of their husbands. the attachment of their children, the esteem of the wise and good, and, above all, they possess His favor, whom to know is life eternal !

Singing .- Though but a poor singer, yet have I a habit of singing when alone. A little thing sets me off—a bit of green on the earth, or a bit of blue in the skies. Yes, yes, I like singing, and often sing with my heart when my lips are silent. I like to hear a milk-maid singing in the green meadow, when her heart is so happy that she can-not help it. I love to hear a song uncalled for. Who asks the birds to sing ? They sing to relieve their heart, and this is the sort of singing I like. I love to hear a loud hallelujah, not by the clear, musical voice of one who is paid for it, but by a thousand tongues singing with the heart and understanding. You shall have my favorite song. I sang it in my youth and in my manbood, and now I am singing it in my years :----

When all Thy mercies, O my God, My rising soul surveys, Transported with the view, I'm lost In wonder, love and praise.

-Old Humphrey.

THE COUNTRY FOR THE CHILDREN .- For the children especially there is no tonic so effective, no alterative so sure of benefit, as a run in the country. Put on them stout shoes, and plain, erviceable clothes, and let them loose in the fields and on the hills. Never mind dirt, never mind bands and arms. A few weeks of a wild, rompag, out-door life is worth more to their futur n the most accomplished taition and faithful

"I wish I could beg, borrow, or steal some money," said an idle boy. To beg he ought to be ashamed; to borrow he ought to be afraid; to steal he ought never even to think of. Stealing steal he ought never even to think of. Stealing should never cross your mind. The best way, and the only true way, is to carn. Begging, borrow-ing and stealing are Satan's work, which he is very apt to give idle hands to do. Bet it is poor pay. The following are a few selected from the multitude of commendations in our possession. |From W. P. Heald, Esq., Bangor, Me.]

From W. P. Heald, Esq., Banger, Me.] Bangon, Me., April 24, 1868. Thereby certify that I have used Tobacco for thirty years ast, and for the last fifteen years I have used two pounds er mouth. Thave made attempts to leave off at different imes—I have left off one years at a time, but always contin-ed to banks: for it until I used Orton's Preparation, which as completely cured use of the appetite for Tobacco. I rould recommend all who are affected with this terrible abil to try the preparation, which will certainly cure if he directions are followed. IFrom E. W. Adkins, Knorville, Tenn.]

[From E. W. Adkins, Knoxville, Teun.] KNOXVILLE, Tenn., August 5, 1867. This is to certify that I had used Tobacco to such an ex-ent that my health had become greatly impaired, and my hole system deranged and broken down. In June, 18-7, put chased one box of Orton's Preparation, and after using I found I was completely cured. I have not had any ankering or desire for Tobacco since using the Prepara-on. I believe it to be all that it is recommended, and ould advise all who wish to quit the use of Tobacco to try ac box of Orton's Preparation. E. W. ADKINS. [From John Morrill, Bangor, Me.] Bangon, Me., March 24, 1868.

Bangon, Me., March 24, 186 Bangon, Me., March 24, 186 This is to certify that I have used Tobacco for eight ears; have tried many times to leve off, but have su 4 so much from a dizzine is in my head and gnawin, it stomach, that I have soon given up the trial. A st time since a friend induced me to try Orton's Prepara sold by you). I have done so, and am completely con I did not in the least hanker after Tobacco, either to sm c chew, after I began to use the Preparation.
