The Baby's Drawer.

BY MRS. I. T. BUTTS. There's a little drawer in my chamber Goarded with tenderest care, Where the dainty clothes are lying, That my darling shall never wear. And there, while the hours are waning, Till the house is all at rest, I sit and fancy a baby

Close to my aching breast. My darling's pretty, white garments! I wrought them sitting apart, While his mystic life was throbbing Under my throbbing heart.

And often my happy dreaming Breaks in a little song, Like the murmur of birds at brooding. When the days are warm and long.

And the drawer was almost full With robes of the finest muslin, And robes of the whitest wool. I folded them all together, With a rose for every pair,

I finished the dainty wardrobe,

Smiling, and saying, "Gem fragrant, Fit for my prince to wear." Ah, the radiant summer morning, So full of a mother's joy!

My beautiful, new-born boy.' Let him wear the pretty, white garments I wrought while sitting apart; Lav him, so sweet and so helpless. Here, close to my throbbing heart.

"Thank God, he is fair and perfect,

Many and many an evening I sit, since my baby came, Saying, "What do the angels call him?" For he died without a name; Sit while the hours are waning, And the house is all at rest.

And fancy a baby nestling Close to my aching breast. -Putnam's Magazine.

The Drunkard's Dying Child. BY REV. JAMES B. DUNN.

Mrs. B- sat near a scanty pallet, on which was extended the suffering little Freddy, her bright and beautiful boy reduced to skin and bone. His large mysterious eyes were turned upward, watching the flitting of leaves and the filaments of sunshine that peered through the foliage of the multicaulis. An infant of about a month old, meagre, weary of its existence, lay upon her bosom, and she was in vain trying to charm it to repose. "Mamina," said Freddy, reaching out his waxen hand, " take me to your bosom."

"Yes, love! as soon as Maria is still." " Mamma, if God had not sent us that little cross baby, you could love me, and nurse me, as you did when I was sick in Cincinnati. My throat is hot, mamma. I wish I had a drink in a tumbler,—a glass tumbler, mamma, and I could look through it."

"Dear, you shall have a tumbler," cried Mrs. B---, her lip quivering with emotion, and a wild fire in her eyes.

"Yes, mamma, one cold drink in a tumbler, and your poor little Freddy would fly up, up there where that little bird sits. Will papa come to he will be drunk. Nobody ever gets drunk in heaven, mamma?"

" No, no, my son, my angel!"

"No one says cross words, mamma?" " No, bless your sweet tongue."

"And there is nice cold water there, and silver "Oh, yes, my child, a fountain of living

"And it never gets dark there?"
"Never, never!" and the tears fell in streams down the mother's pale cheek. "And nobody gets sick and dies?"

"No, my love!"

"If they were to, God would let the angels bring them water, I know he would, from the big fountain. Oh, mamma, don't cry. Do people ery in heaven?" "Oh, no, sweet one; God wipes away all tears," replied the weeping mother. ' Aud the angels kiss them off, s'pose. But tell me, mamma, will be come there ?" "Who, my son?"

"You know, mamma,-papa." "Hush, Freddy, dear, lie still; you worry "Oh my throat! Dear me, if I only had a

It Won't Let Us Alone.

Rev. F. P. Thwing recently delivered a temperance address in Quincy, Mass., in the course of which he used the following illustration. Said

It is sometimes said, "Rum never hurts those who let it alone." Go stand to night beneath this waning moon, on the south-westerly slopes of Mount Auburn, and you will see a little now made grave. Over it bend the branches of a walnut tree, through which the struggling moonbeams reveal the resting place of our latest born and earliest taken. It is sweet with flowers and tears, and consecrated by prayer and psalm. Autumn showers have steeped the sod, yet by the cuttings of the spade the stranger sees it is the grave of a child. When I go to the little grave I cannot help feeling a new consecration to this noble reform. Do you ask why? Startle not when I speak out of my heart. Rum helped to dig my boy's grave, indirectly, perhaps, but really. Yes! intoxicating drink stole away the senses of one who was in charge of these two little brothers while their parents were absent at the death bed of a mother. Deserting her charge, she wandered about incoherently talking of unfulfilled duties, and left them without food or drink, companionship or care. Half-starved and chilled, the little convalescent soon relapsed, and passed away ere long to the safer custody of Christ above. I have no curses to pour on any human being, however deeply he may have sinned; but on the traffic which can not only stultify man but besot woman —which puts property in peril, and renders life insecure—upon that I heap my hottest hate! By all the love I bore to that child, by all I bore to others just as precious, by all that is high and holy, I vow against this trade an eternal war.

DRIVING FLUES FROM HORSES .- It is an act of humanity to come to the aid of the horse, powerful as he is, against his nimble assailant, the fly. Here is a recipe which is said to be an excellent defence against it. At all events a trial of it will not involve much expense, nor will it do harm should it prove unavailing as a defence to the horse. Take two or three small handfuls of walnut-leaves, upon which pour two or three narts of cold water; let it infuse one night, and our the whole next morning into a kettle and let pour the whole next morning into a kettle and let it boil for a quarter of an hour; when cold, it will be fit for use. No more is required than to moisten a sponge, and before the horse goes out of the stable, let those parts which are most irritable be smeared over with the liquor, viz: between and upon the ears, the neck, flank, etc.—

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP

To MR. JAMES I. FELLOWS, Manufacturing Chemist, Saint John, N. B. We, the undersigned, have much pleasure in recommendong your Compound Syrup. After a fair and protracted rial of the same, we consider your preparation avery valuable nervous tonic, far surpassing many others of considerable repute, and well worthy the confidence of the pro-

rable repute, and we reside the reside repute, and we beg to remain, yours, very truly,

MR. JAMES I. FELLOWS, Manufacturing Chemist. SIR-For several months past I have used your Compound Sin—For several months past I have used your Compound syrup in the treatment of Incipient Phthisis, Chronic, Bronhitis, and other affections of the Chest, and I have no helitation in stating that it ranks foremost amongst the remedies used in those diseases. Being an excellent nervous tonic, it exerts a direct influence on the nervous system, and through it invigorates the body.

It affords me pleasure to recommend a remedy which is really good in cases for which it is intended, when so many directioned are worse than useless.

R. JAMES I. FELLOWS, St. John, N. B. Sir.—Having, while at your Establishment, carefully ex Sir.—Having, while at your Establishment, carefully exmined your prescription, and the method of preparing our Compound Syrup, I felt anxious to give it a fair trial a my practice. For the last twelve months I have done o, and I find that in Incipient Consumption, and other dieases of the Throat and Lungs, it has done wonders. In estoring persons suffering from the effects of Diptheria, and the cough following Typhoid Fever prevalent in this egion, it is the best remedial agent I have ever used. But it persons suffering from exhaustion of the powers of the rain and nervous system, from long continued study or eaching, or in those cases of exhaustion from which so tany young men suffer, I know of no better medicine for estoration to health than your Compound Syrup.

If you think this letter of any service you are at liberty o use it as you see fit.

THE Proprietor of PICKSTONE'S WASHING AND CLEANSING CRYSTAL, deems it his duty to caution the public against spurious imitations of his highly celebrated Washing Crystal, which is the most harmless compound extant. It is free from Lime, Vitriol, and all other deadly mixtures so common to be found amongst washing compounds. Try Pickstone's Washing Crystal, if you want case, comfort, and economy in washing, which washes every thing, and has rapid sale.

It will be found invaluable for the following domestic purposes, viz.—It washes all fine things, such as Muslin Lace, Crotchet Work, Baby Linen, &c.; cleaning Sponges, Combs, and Brushes; removing stains from the hands, and grease from Carpets, Cloth, Flannel, &c. It makes Hard Water Soft, and may be used with good effect in Baths, as it immediately removes all condensed perspiration from the skin. A small quantity should also be used in the foot pan. It forms a cooling and cleansing wash for the head, by dissolving a teaspnonful of the Crystalin a quarter of a pint of water; and for cleansing the Mouth, Teeth, and Gums, it is quite a luxury, by adding a teaspnonful to a tumbler of water. It renders linen beautifully white, and unlike other preparations, at the same time preserves the fabric. It contains nothing injurious to life. A child esting it by mistake, will not be injured.

If you have not used this Cleansing Crystal, lose not time in obtaining it. Nothing has ever been introduced into this country which has effected such a wonderful change upon Washing Days. It saves your time—saves your clothes—saves your money; and it does not injure the most delicate hands. Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal, makes washing a pleasure, reduces the cost of fuel, the wear and tear of labor, and improves every article washed. For Linens, and heavy washes, it cannot be surpassed; for Laces, and line fabries, it is unequalled. It does not injure the color of Prints, but strengthess and improve them—by its use they retain their original brill

PARRISH'S CHEMICAL FOOD. PARRISH'S CHEMICAL FOOD.

PREPARED by J. Chaloner, Dispensing Chemist. It is Food for the Blood; it is composed of Saline Substances, Iron and Phosphorus; it is not a secret preparation, the recipe being published; it is prescribed by leading physicians in St. John and elsewhere; it contains Phosphate of Iron, yet differs from the Syrup Phosphate of Iron of the British Pharmacopeia; it may be combined with Bitter Tonics when required.

The Chemical Food is used in cases of weakness, paleness, nervousness, bysterics, etc., dependant on a low state of the blood. The taste is agreeably acid. We offer a first quality article in bottles at 40 cents and 70 cents.

and all know that what it does once it does always that it never falls through any fault or neglect its composition. We have thousands upon the sands of certificates of their remarkable cures of tollowing complaints, but such cures are known every neighborhood, and we need not publish their Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates containing neither calomel or any deleterious drugthey may be taken with safety by anybody. The sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and make them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessmess, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaunitoe or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Pevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Distributes, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

disappear.

For Bropsy and Bropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.
