Our brethren of Leinster street have nobly dismill, their late pastor and his wife, by placing a beautiful Italian marble monument over their graves in the Rural Cemetery. It consists of an obelisk, finished with pillars in each corner, plain top with crochet ornament, about nine feet high, including a good and substantial base. The inscription is as follows:

Erected by the Leinster-street Baptist church, in Memory of their late Pastor, REV. E. BUDD DEMILL, A. M., who died Aug. 1st. 1863. "And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, who is able to build you up."

ELIZABETH M., His wife, who died February 4th, 1864, aged 25 years. The Monument was manufactured at the establish ment of S. P. Osgood, Esq., and, we understand, gave entire satisfaction to the Committee.

Mrs. Robinson, widow of the late Samuel Robinson, in attempting to cross the street near her residence, one day last week, was thrown down and driven over by a milk cart. One of her limbs was so much injured, that she has been compelled to keep her bed ever since the occurrence. The wonder is that she was not mained for life or killed on the spot. Such carelessness on the part of the driver, should subject him to a severe penalty. Mr. R. is gradually improving, but is still suffering

A Brief Review of the News of the Week. THE GREAT STORM OF MONDAY NIGHT.

As far back as last December, Lieutenant Saxby, of the Royal Navy, wrote to a leading London paper thus :-

I now beg leave to state, with regard to 1869, that at 7 A. M. on October 5, the moon will be at the part of her orbit which is nearest the earth. Her attraction will, therefore, be at its maximum force. At noon of the same day the moon will be on the earth's equator, a circumstance which never occurs without marked atmospheric disturbance, and at two p. m. of Civil Service Gazerre remarks:-"The singular the same day lines drawn from the earth's centre success which Mr. Epps attained by his homosopathic would cut the sun and moon in the same arc of right ascension (the moon's attraction and the sun's attrac- any experimentalist. By a thorough knowledge of the tion will therefore be acting in the same direction); natural laws which govern the operations of digestion in other words the new moon will be on the earth's and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine equator when in perigree, and nothing more threatening can, I say, occur without miracle. The earth, it is true, will not be in perihelion by some 16 or 17 seconds of semi-diameter.

With your permission I will, during September next, for the safety of mariners, briefly remind your readers of this warning. In the meantime there will be time for the repair of unsafe sea walls, and for the circulation of this notice, by means of your far reaching voice, throughout the wide world.

At the period referred to in 1863 the moon happened to be in the extreme south declination, and accordingly the greatest devastations occurred in the southern hemisphere (e. g., Melbourne—vide London Times of Feb. 13, 1864—the Cape of Good Hope, &c.), but next year the two hemispheres will be af-

At the apointed time the prediction was fulfilled. Showing that Lieut, Saxby's astronomical calculations were based upon correct scientific principles. Some heeded the warning and governed themselves accordingly; but more treated it as a fiction of the imagination. But as forewarned by the navy officer so the storm came on in tremendous power. The mor- By using Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosning of Monday was delightfully warm for the season, and to the general observer there was no occasion for alarm; but the sudden changes of the barometer indicated that a storm was at hand. Early in the afternoon of Monday the wind came in fresh from the south-east, and by 7 A. M., it had increased to a perfect gale, and the rain came down in torrents. With the rising wind in rushed the raging sea threatening destruction to everything within its scope. The ves-

and several broke from their moorings and were for sometime in imminent peril; but no very scrious da-mage was done to vessels inside the island. Several of the wharves suffered immense damage, and some important ones are well nigh ruined. The Globe of Tuesday, says that about 8½ P. M., the ships Twilight and Ansel, moored at the Custom House wharf, broke away, and came down upon the Armanella at Lawton's wharf, but here they were secured, having done wonderfully little damage. The brig L. L. Wadsworth, of Eastport, broke away from her moorings at Walker's wharf, struck against the mooring post of the wharf above, staving a large hole Potter, lying in Rodney Slip. Carleton, was driven across the dock, snapped off her bowsprit, and at Dealers in Medicine. last drifted into the harbor where her anchor held her. The waves broke in upon the southerly face of the Anchor Line wharf at Reed's Point, and tore up the top covering as far in as the warehouse. The warehouse itself is in a most delapidated condition, being almost broken in two. Everything has been moved out of it. From this to Pettingill's wharf, the old and water, then pour the whole down the horses's abutments in front of the New Water Street Extention. In ten minutes the horse will begin to eat. sion were almost totally demolished. Pettingill's wharf and the Empress's warehouse upon it, are all destroyed. The freight was saved. On the Carleton side, the devastation was fearfully great. At Sand side, the devastation was fearfully great. At Sand Point especially, the ruin was upon an extensive scale. Several dwelling houses were nearly demolished, and others were slightly injured.

The new Temperance Hall in Fairville, was blown down. Several buildings in the suburbs of the city were more or less damaged; among them, Scovil's and Smith's Founderies. The Steamer Olive, on her upward trip, was overtaken with the gale and received some damage in her upper works, but nothing ner upward trip, was overtaken with the gale and received some damage in her upper works, but nothing very serious. The Empress remained over Light at Digby. The Railway bridge over Jonathan Creek, near Moncton, was swept away by the form gale; convenient of the convenient of the cause of religion are respectfully requested to attend. Tickets 30 cents. Children under 12 years half price. Tea on the table at 6 o'clock, P. M. Gilbert M. Peck, Sec. to Cummittee. near Moncton, was swept away by the fury of the gale; consequently no thorough train on Tuesday. The telegraph wires were smashed in all directions at an early stage of the storm

AT SAND POINT. - The Telegraph says :- The tide not only broke over the wharves and houses, but coulders, stones of various sizes and course clear over the tops of the houses! The waves rolled over the houses on the side of the street and cast their spray on the sidewalks of the houses op posite. Whole families, young and old, women and children, including young babes, were turned out in the streets, barely escaping with the clothing they had on, and losing everything else; while, with the noise of wind and waves, the cries of men trying to save their propery, and the wailings of wombn and oblides. So the cries of wombn and on the streets of the streets. No. 4., 6th sentence, read—"He reigns over the universe."

Thirdly. No. 1, read—"The Lord shall send the rod of thy strength out of Zion: rule thou in the midst of this elements." No. 3, third paragraph and third sentence, read—"He reigns over the universe." children, Sand Point about ten o'clock on Monday night presented a troly apalling scene. Even the re-turn tide proved, in some cases, as disastrous as the incoming march of its proud waves.

At Sackville the gale was terrific, and causing higher tides than was ever known. A special to the Telegraph and Journal says:

The Marshes are completely covered with water as far as the eye can see. Thousands of tons of hay have been destroyed; whole barns and their contents have floated for miles in some cases. The railway is completely torn up. The roads are impassable between here and Amberst. Their condition is perfectcharged a debt, long over due, to the Rev. E. B. De- ly awful. Horses, oxen, sheep and pigs have been drowned, in great numbers, and are lying amid rubbish of every conceivable kind! There is scarcely a fence to be seen; all are swept away. The loss is incalculable. The estimated rise of water six feet above highest known tides, and ten feet above the level of Marsh ! Reported that the Missiquash bridge has been carried away. The new line of Telegraph, built on the line of railway this season from Dorchester to Memramcook, is almost destroyed.

The steamer New Brunswick arrived this morning. She was safely moored at Gloucester, Capo Ann, during the gale. She reports storm not severe at Portland, Me., but at Eastport fearfully destructive. Wharves nearly all destroyed: fish houses and stores swept away; steeples of churches and chimnies of private residences broken down. A church at Lubec badly damaged. The steamer New York, which left St. John on Monday morning, is still at Eastport. She parted both her cables, broke loose from all her fastenings and went ashore. Those on board felt themselves in great danger; but, by great exertions, they were mercifully saved from a watery grave- The steamer floated again at high tide; but she has to wait for repairs.

UNERRING PRECISION. - In these autumnal months the human health is sorely tried by the extreme changes of temperature, which bring on coughs and so many disorders of the pulmonary organs. The vast majority of lung complaints may be checked in their dangerous courses by the use of Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam. It commends itself to the world as the best remedial agent-the most rapid in its operation, and the most safe, speedy, certain, and permanent in its cures. It knows no failures, is devoid of danger, restores the strength, and imparts vigor and life, however much shaken by disease.

DETERMINATION OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD. - Imprudence or neglect of health is tantamount to constructive suicide-the penalties short, quick struggle, and instantaneous death. All who are of a full habit, or subject to apoplectic or epileptic fits, should never be without a supply of Dr. Wilson's Family Anti-bilious Pills, as they will find a safeguard in occasional doses of them. In every instance they have been attended with the most successful results.

The best remedy you can apply to your horses for Sprains, Stiff Joints, Lameness, &c. &c., is Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Limment. This valuable combination is much esteemed by those who have the care of horses, and is found to be safe and effectual. Use it once and you will never do without it.

The horse, naturally the friend, companion, and the most useful servant. of man, is peculiarly liable from change and exposure to Coughs, Colds, Founder, Heaves, &c., which, by reason of not being properly cared for, soon grow into magnitude and importance. To correct all mischief, Clark's Derby Condition Powders are just the thing required.

The importation of rags from the Mediterranean, bides from Brazil, and other commodities from the tropics, is known to bring the germs of disease, chiefly fevers, which are sometimes very affl cting and fatal. AYER'S AGUE CURE stimulates the Liver to excrete these germs from the system as effectually as it does the miasmatic poison of our Ague districts. Consequently it affords invaluable protection to stevedores and others whose occupations expose them to these dangerous infections; and we hope to render them a valuable service in giving them this information.

BREAKFAST - EPPS'S COCOA. - GRATEFUL AND COM-FORTING. - The very agreeable character of this preparation has rendered it a general favourite. The properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' Made simply with boiling water or milk. SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT ON SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLES. -As the Mind governs the voluntary muscles through the medium of the nerves, so the involuntary muscles on whose action the Liver, Heart, Lungs, Stomach and other organs depend for health and condition for effective duty, are influenced by the brain through the nervous apparatus. How necessary then that the nervous apparatus should be perfect and the brain be vigorous, when either becomes exhausted through overwork or other imprudence, disease in some organ is developed, the remedy lies in removing the cause. phites the tone and vigour is soon restored to the brain and the whole nervous system, while diseases of the above named organs disappear.

At Harvey, A. C., on the 9th inst., Miss Martha Wilber, in the 20th year of her age.

On the 29th of August, at Upper Gagetown, Queen's Co., of consumption, Pairick Brown, aged 24 years. Patrick Brown was a native of the County Fermanagh, Ireland. He came to this country in 1864, and at once hired with Deacon George W. Coy, with whom he lived till death removed him. Mr. Coy soon found him to be trustworthy; and all that he needed was advantion and vifal religion to and all that he needed was education and vital religion to make him useful in society; and by the assistance of Mr. Coy and family, Patrick employed his leisure moments in learning to read and write, which he scon became fond of.
The Bible became his chief reading book, which discovered to him the necessity of a holy life. On one occasion, he said to the writer, "The more I try to live right, the more I come short of it." The reply was, "The more you measure yourself by the law of God, the more you see the need of Christ." In the spring of 1863, he repoursed of Christ." In the spring of 1863, he renounced the Church of Rome, and upon profession of faith in Carist, was baptized and inducted into the baptized church of this place, y the writer, of which he remained a faithful member un til removed to the Church triumphant. In his sickness, which was protracted, he would often bless God for giving him such kind friends in a strange land. His remains are buried in the family burying ground of Mr. Coy, where they await the trumpet's sound to awake them to immersality.

"Sweet is the christian's parting hour, When peacefully he sinks to rest; When faith, endued from heaven with power, Sustains and cheers his languid breast.

That smile upon his wasted cheek:
They tell us of his glory nigh,

Christian Intelligencer.
Our friends will find at Mr. Waters' Store the very best assortment of Pianos, Melodeons and Organs to be found in the United States.—Graham's Magazine. MUSICAL DOINGS .- Since Mr. Waters gave up publishing sheet music, he has devoted all his capital and attention to the manufacture and sale of Pianos and Melodeons. He has just issued a catalogue of his new instruments, giving a new scale of prices, which shows a marked reduction from former rates, and his Pianos have recently been awarded the First Premium at several Fairs. Many people of the present day, who are attracted, if not confused, with the flaming advertisements of rival piano houses, pro-bably overlook a modest manufacturer like Mr. Watters; but we happen to know that his instruments earned him a good reputation long before Expositions and 'honors' connected therewith were ever thought of; indeed, we have one of Mr. Waters' Pianos now in our residence, where it has stood for years, of which any manufacturer in the world might well be proud. We have always been delighted with it as a sweet toned and powerful instrument, and there is no doubt of its durability; more than this, some o the best amateur players in the city, as well as several celebrated pianists, have performed on the said piane, and all pronounce it a superior and first class instrument. Strong-erendorsement we could not give.—Home Journal.
