ADTIALY MAATSALHT) SILL THE CHRISTIAN VISITOR.

The Family and the Farm.

Judging by Appearances. BY FRANK DORSEY.

Mrs. Highflyer. Dear me! what a bother these poor people are, to be sure ! It was only last week that I put my name down for five dollars at the Goldfront Church, for the benefit of the pappers of this district. It is so nice to see one's name in the Transcript, together with those of the principal people of the city. By the way, Jane, does the Rev. Mr. Meek publish the names of the donors to the paupers of his society ?

Jane. Oh, yes, mum; I saw the Wigginses' names in the Journal, the other night, for ten dollars apiece !

Mrs. H. Is it possible ! I must write to Mr. Meek at once; and I think I'll-no, I won't though ; yes, I will. I'll send him fifteen dollars, I won't be outdone by the Wigginsnot I.

Jane. Well, mum, shall I invite the plain looking party to come up stairs?

Mrs. H. Can't you tell her I'm not at home? Jane. I did, mum; but she said as how I was mistaken, as she saw you sitting at the winder, when she was a comin' down the street.

Mrs. H. Well, I suppose I must see her. Exit Jane.

What if Mrs. Mordaunt should call to-day ? Won't the Mantons, and the others of our set be jealous when they learn that Mrs. Mordaunt, the senator's wife, has spent the whole afternoon at my house? Miss Burton told me they would certainly call some day this week, and this is Friday.

[Enter MRS. MORDAUNT, attired very plainly.]

Mrs. Mordaunt. Mrs. Highflyer, I believe. Mrs. H. (Loftily.) Mrs. Augustus Highflyer, my good woman. Mrs. M. I have taken the liberty of calling on vou, madam, in behalf of "a poor widow and her children, who are in great need of charity. Mrs. H. J am sorry, madam, but I have nothing to give you. By applying at some of the charity bureans, you will doubtless obtain anything you require. Mrs. M. Oh, it is not for myself I want your assistance, Mrs. Highflyer, but for a poor, a very poor woman, who lost her husband by the late railroad accident, and it is certainly our duty to help her.

Mrs. H. (Aside.) What assurance ! "Our" duty, indeed ! (7 o Mrs. M.) - I have nothing to give, my good woman; and my time is at present very valuable. My servant will show you to the door. [Exit Mrs. H., serenely.]

Mrs. M. And this is a charitable woman !--My informant was right in saving that her charity is all on the surface. God grant that she may never be in need herself. Exit.

[Re-enter MRS. HIGHFLYER.]

Mrs. H. Well, I've got rid of that disagreeable person nicely.

[Enter JANE]

Are you sure she did not take anything out of the entry, as she was going out, Jane? Jane. Oh, yes, mum; I "watched her clost. mum.

Mrs. H. Jane, how is my back hair ? Jane. Never saw it so nice in my life, mum. Mrs. H. I am very glad, for I expect Mrs.

Mordaust every moment. (Door bell rings.)-There ! run, Jane, and open the doc Exit JANE. They do say that Mrs. Mordaunt is very rich; and then her husband is one of our leading senators.

"Then we are all dead ?" "Yes." She sat down on the floor, and thought the matter over a bit.

The doctor could not imagine what she would say next, and was trying to fancy, when she be-

"You must know the ways of this country a good deal better than me. Where can you get a good drop of whisky now, reasonable?" That floored the doctor, and turning to the gentleman, he said :

Squire, you had better take your wife home. If she thinks there are whisky shops in Hades, there is no use trying to frighten her with death. Take her home and let her live."

An eccentric old gentleman of London, named Savage, who was supposed to live upon the charity of his relatives, has just died, leaving $600,000 to the Emperor Napoleon.

Investigation into the cause of a late fire in London proves conclusively that it was occasioned by the rays of the sun setting fire to a swallow's nest under the eaves.

Mrs. Henry B. Stanton has come out in favor of the wearing of pantaloons by women. She declares her design to be to adopt masculine costume as a disguise of sex.

 24 Water Street. August 26 CAUTION! CAUTION! CAUTION! THE Proprietor of PICKSTONE'S WASHING AND CLEANSING CRYSTAL, deems it his duty to cru-L CLEANSING CRYSTAL, deems it his duty to cau-tion the public against spurious imitations of his highly celebrated Washing Crystal, which is the most harmless compound extant. It is free from Lime, Vitriol, and all other deadly mixtures so common to be found amongst washing compounds. Try Pickstone's Washing Crystal, if you want ease, comfort, and economy in washing, which washes every thing, and has rapid sale. It will be found invaluable for the following domestic purposes, viz.:--It washes all fine things, such as Muslin Lace, Crotchet Work, Baby Linen, &c.; cleaning Sponges, ice, Crotchet Work, Baby Linen, &c,; cleaning Sponges, Combs, and Brushes; removing stains from the hands, and grease from Carpets, Cloth, Flannel, &c. It makes Hard Water Soft, and may be used with good effect in Baths, as it immediately removes all condensed perspiration from the skin. A small quantity should also be used in the foot pan. It forms a cooling and cleansing wash for the head, by dissolving a teaspnonful of the Crystal in a quarter of a pint of water; and for cleansing the Mouth, Teeth, and Gums, it is quite a luxury, by adding a teaspoonful to a tumbler of water. It renders linen beautifully white, and unlike other preparations, at the same time preserves the fabric. It contains nothing injurious to life. A child eat-ing it by mistake, will not be injured. If you have not used this Cleansing Crystal, lose no time in obtaining it. Nothing has ever been introduced into this country which has effected such a wonderful change upon Washing Days. It saves your time-duves your clothes—saves your money; and it does not injure the most delicate hands. Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal makes washing a pleasure, reduces the cost of fuel, the wear and tear of labor, and improves every article washed. For Linens, and heavy washes, it cannot be surpassed; for Laces, and fine fabrics, it is unequalled. It does not injure the color of Prints, but strengthens and improve them--by its use they retain their original brilliancy. Flannels become white and loft like new. White things are much improved, and keep their color, even if put by for months. Thousands of Families made happy! No misery on a Washing Day, with PICKFONE'S Cleansing Crystal. Sold by most respectable Grocers and Chemists, in Pack-ets THREE CENTS EACH, sufficient for 20 Gallone of water, or Twelve for Thirty Cents, also in Boxes containing 144 Packets, price Three Dollars eaub. The Be sure to ask for Picksrone's Washing Crystal, as there are spurious imita-tions. Do not condemn't untried. Make one trial! Pro-TECTED BY ACT OF PARLIAMENT. Sole Agent for New Brunswick

[Enter Miss BURTON.]

Miss Burton. Good morning, Mrs. Highflyer.

Is Mrs. Mordaunt here? Mrs. H. Oh, no indeed ! I expected her to come with you. Miss B. Not here? It's very strange; for I saw her ascending your steps a short time ago; and she was to await me here. Mrs. H. I'm sure she hasn't been here, nevertheless. The only visitor I have had was a very plain, not to say shabby looking person, soliciting assistance for some widow or other.

Miss B. Did she have a black bonnet on? Mrs. H. (Somewhat alarmed.) Yes, I believe the person did; but it can't be possible that it was-

Miss B. Mrs. Mordaunt, of course. She always dresses very plainly, as she spends a great deal of her time among the poor of our city. Mrs. H. Can it be possible? Oh, what have

I done!

Miss B. Why, what is the matter ? Mrs. H. Oh, don't ask me! Such a stupid blunder!

Miss B. We are soliciting charity, among some of our wealthy friends, for the poor widow Murphy, who is in great need, Mrs. Mordaunt came here while I went to see Mrs. Baxter, across the street, and we were to meet again here. But I must not stay here prattling, for I suppose Mrs. Mordaunt is waiting. AC

Mrs. H. Did the Baxters give you anything? Miss B. Oh, yes; ten dollars; and they have promised to send some nice, warm clothing to the children. By the way, there's a model woman for you! She made me promise that her name should not appear either in print or on any subscription list. Charity and mumility, with her, go hand in hand. Good byes Exit Miss B.

Mrs. H. I feel so much aslamed of my conduct that I hardly know what to do. What will Mrs. Mordaunt think of meter And then she is said to give the finest balls and parties of any lady in the city. Her aniability and accomplishments are the theme of general conversation. She will never even speak to me again, I am sure, as I have never been formally introduced to her. Ah, me. There is a lesson 1 hope I have learned, however, -never to " judge by appearances." Exit. -Our Boys and Girls. 002-

The Power of Passion.

An Irish gentleman was much troubled with a wife who drank tremendously-in fact, she spent every farthing on whisky, and sold everything she could lay her hands on to get more. The poor fellow was almost at his wits' end what to do about her, and so he went to Dr. Murphy for advice in the matter.

" Could the doctor give him nothing ?" " Is it poison you want ?" said the dector, " because if it is, say so like a man." "Of course it's not poison I want, but only a trifle to cure her of dricking." Can't you mix me up something ?"

"If I could mix up anything to cure that disorder," said the doctor, "I should be a made man. But I tell you what take home a gallon of whisky, and let her drink as much as she likes, and I will be round before the night is gone."

It was in the summer time but not moonlight and when the woman was thoroughly drunk, the doctor and her husband carried her down into the vault of an old castle close by, and laid her
