An American gentleman is erecting a lath and paling mill at Gibson, York Co.

Two weeks ago Mr. Patrick Whalen, Renous River, while engaged in excavating at Stewart's Point, six or eight inches below the surface discovered a large copper box in which was the skeleton of a man, together with tomahawks, a sword and some other things. At the bottom of the box was a mat of cedar bark and on that a blanket. A copper pot was also found with four skulls in it. Mr. Stewart, who died 14 years ago at the age of over eighty, often mentioned the election of an Indian Chief, who was afterwards shot near the White Rapids by a discontented Indian. Probably the body found is that of the murdered Chief.

The Carleton Baptist Sabbath School had its picnic Thursday last at Grand Bay. There were about 300 persons present, who went out in a special train on the Saint John and Maine Railway.

A brick yard has been started at West Quaco, on the level flat east of Mosher's saw mill, and a few rods south of the railway crossing. The clay is said to be of superior quality, and at the present price of labor and the easy access to the interior of the province furnished by the St. Martins & Upham Railway, a brick yard in that locality would be a paying affair.

Friday one of the drivers employed by Samuel Ewing in hauling manganese to Sussex from the mines at Markingville, accidentally fell off his wagon which was loaded with manganese. The wagon wheels passed over both his legs, breaking one of them and severely injuring the other.

The Loch Lomond House ten miles from the City, was opened on Saturday by M. M. Underhill. This is a popular summer resort, and the hotel will be conducted with every regard for the convenience and comfort of visitors from the city.

A number of the St. John City police took their pay for the month of June on Saturday last, less 20 per cent, and gave receipt for the amount received on account.

Messrs Simmons and Burpee are building a saw and grist mill at Poquico, about three miles from the mouth of the Topique. The saw mill is rotary, having a forty-two inch saw, and is driven by a turbine wheel under a thirty-four foot head of water. They expect to have the mill running in a few days.

Three children of Chipman Carter, at Mr. McKenzie's Gulf Shore, which we reported as being down with diphtheria have since died. Two were buried the same day.

The St. Andrews "Standard" says:—"The potato bug march is telling now." They are appearing in hosts, and require constant attacks from men women and children, where there are large patches. Every hour thousands are burned, and persons return to the fields to find them nearly as numerous as before. As yet they have not been very destructive, but it is feared that next year they will be in our midst in myriads."

A man named John McIntosh, of Caraquet, while under the influence of liquor, on Monday last, fell out of his boat when quite near the shore, but before assistance could reach him was drowned. A coroner's jury rendered a verdict of accidental drowning.

On the night of Tuesday last the store of Mr. Geo. Fraer Chatham, was broken into and goods stolen. The robbers first took off one of the door shutters, broke the windows and then entered.

Late accounts from the County of York says that the potato bug has made its appearance there, and has already done considerable damage.

A steamer at Pictou, on Friday, from the Magdalen Islands, reports that the weather last week was cold and foggy, with wind and rain, which has done much injury to crops. There has been scarcely any kind of fishing done, the foggy weather preventing the fishermen from going out on the fishing grounds.

Eastern Extension and Western Counties Railways are both again in progress of construction.

Alex. Grant, son of Duncan Grant, of Bonarville, C. B., fell dead on the high road near his father's gate on Monday. The deceased was a young man about eighteen years old. At the time of his death he was in company with three young men, all being in the best of humor, when young Grant suddenly fell and instantly expired.

A barn, owned by Mrs. Bartlett, at East Mountain, Colchester, was burned on Saturday. Cause; children playing with matches. No insurance.

Last Sunday, C. F. Bond of Clarimont, found that one of his lambs had been killed as he supposed by a bear the previous night. On Monday he and Mr. J. E. Carter got guns and set them where they found the carcass of the lamb. Next morning they were rewarded for their trouble by finding a medium sized bear that had evidently been the cause of the trouble.

Last week a woman named Rebecca Melvin was found lying in a swamp off the Collins' property, Tower Road. A police officer got a cab and drove her to the police station. She was in a pitiable condition—a living skeleton, scarcely able to move. From her story it appears that she escaped from the Poor's Asylum, and, after wandering about some time, lay down in the swamp on Saturday morning to die. She had part of a loaf of bread with her but had not tasted anything to drink from Saturday morning until found yesterday morning—five days. How she existed in that swamp amid the rain, fog, and cold, without food and drink during that period, is a mystery. She says she went there to die, and is sorry she was not left there. She is evidently not in her right senses. It is not likely she will recover. About a year ago she was found in a swamp back of Steel's pond, under similar circumstances.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

He was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday morning, when it came out on evidence that the bill he attempted to pass was a Commercial College note which somebody had given him, and which he thought was genuine money. The case was dismissed.

A correspondent to the Summerside "Journal" writing from Lot 14 says that times are looking up at that place. Haying operations have commenced, and the crops promises to be an average one. Other crops are looking well.

The annual Fair and Exhibition for Prince Co., will be held at Summerside on Oct. 1st.

A man by the name of Murphy is said to have been drowned in the breaker on the North Shore on Saturday last. He belonged to Summerside.

A man named Duncan McEachern, residing south of the Hillsborough, hanged himself yesterday. It appears that the poor man recently lost a favorite child through diphtheria—which, with other afflictions, proved too much for his sanity. Coroner Beer held an inquest. The verdict was "Suicide—being of unsound mind at the time."

On Thursday night about twelve o'clock, the warehouse of Mr. F. Abbot, Union Road, was discovered to be on fire. With great effort the flames were confined to the building. In the progress of the fire it was discovered that a new wagon of Mr. Abbot's, which was thought to have been in the house, was gone. Suspicion was at once aroused that the wagon had been stolen and the building fired to conceal the crime. The wagon was tracked to Hunter River. A man named Mallet, supposing it was the intention of the thief to take it to Summerside and thence by boat to Shediac, took the morning train which connects with the boat at Summerside. On the boat he observed his neighbor's carriage, and a man paying freight on it. Upon arriving at Shediac, Mallet tapped the man upon the shoulder and informed him he was a prisoner, whereupon, he kicked up quite a fuss. He was taken back to Summerside and sent to jail. But as he can be tried for the offence only in the County in which he committed the deed, he was remanded to Queen's County jail for trial. His name is William Wheeler. He tells a queer and rather fishy story about getting the wagon on the way to Summerside from a captain, whose name he did not know, to take it to Shediac for him. He says he did not know where he was to leave it. As it is, the case looks black for Wheeler.

A rather novel and interesting ceremony was performed in the Summerside jail the other day. A young lady named Smith, and a young gentleman named McDougald, were keeping company, and McDougald had won the affection of Miss Smith. But one unfortunate day McDougald saw some other fairer face and "went back" on his first love. Overflowing with revenge she goes to the authorities and has her lover arrested on a bailable writ for breach of promise and lodged in Summerside jail. But after all she was not happy, and so went to Summerside to see her beloved. She conversed with him through the iron grating, and there within those prison walls he swears that, if she will set him free, he will marry her, and she consents. She has no money to pay the lawyer, but she has a cow in the country, and away she goes through swamps and woods, finds the cow, brings it to Summerside, sells it, gets the lawyer satisfied, but the sheriff is to be paid, and a compassionate heart is touched, a collection taken and the sheriff's fee paid, her intended freed, and in the Court Room a lawyer ascends the throne, reads the license, the justice performs the ceremony and the brave girl and her conquered husband leave amidst many congratulations.

A horse mackerel 9 feet 9 inches in length, and 6 feet 5 inches round was caught at Minginash last week. When killed and cut up it filled a puncheon.

A barn belonging to Mr. Mountain, Alma, containing four or five tons of hay was burned down on Sunday last. It originated from children handling matches.

The Zulu war is about at an end. The yellow fever is spreading in Memphis, and a death-like gloom hangs over the place. Business is suspended, and all who could leave the plague stricken city have done so. Twenty thousand whites have left the city. Physicians say that with few exceptions the disease is yielding readily to treatment, much more than last season.

A lad named Stinniford, living at Dover Me., who was born without eyes brows and eye-lids, but there is nothing which indicates the presence of eye-balls. Doctors say that he has nothing whatever in the nature of an eye or organism. There are slight openings between the lids, but they are apparently not more than a quarter—and perhaps not more than an eighth—as long as they would be for the natural eyes. He displays much natural capacity for music.

Two steam yachts lashed together, started from Clayton for an excursion on the St. Lawrence Thursday morning. When a short distance the lashing loosed and one boat capsized and sunk. Five ladies were drowned.
