

News Summary.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

A man named Tyner, employed in digging a sewer on Germain street, near the Market, had a narrow escape from death on Thursday afternoon. The heavy rain had softened the earth on the sides of the cutting, and while the man was at work in the excavation an immense mass of earth and rock fell on him, completely burying him up to the waist. One of his hands appeared to be hurt, but beyond this and some slight bruises on his legs he escaped injury.

Mr. Emery, of Carleton, bought a pail of what he thought to be strawberries, yesterday, but on getting them home and taking off the top layer of strawberries found that his pail was more than half full of stones.

Ross has no choice of a course and is willing to row anywhere.

The potato bug has appeared in York County committing extensive ravages.

The indications are at present favorable to Canadian farmers. The crop prospects throughout a large portion of Canada are fairly good. The crop prospect in Britain is rather gloomy. That of some of the countries from which the British people draw large supplies—notably that of Southern Russia—is discouraging. The harvest in France seems likely to prove defective. Canadian farmers will have much to sell. British consumers much to buy. The result will be doubtless beneficial to Canadian husbandry.

A codfish, measuring 33 inches around the body, and weighing 62 lbs., was caught on Wednesday last below Partridge Island.

Hugh Doherty, of Hampton, while intoxicated, was run over by a gravel train, on Monday last completely severing his head, one leg from his body, and mangling his body.

They borrowed during the past week sufficient money to pay the half year's interest on their bonds, and on Monday last the school teachers were gladdened by the receipt of one-half the amounts due to them up to 1st August.

The Fredericton Reporter says: "We learn that the balance of Mr. Shute's stolen goods have been found hanging in two sleeves of an old coat somewhere along the Fredericton Railway line. It will be remembered that the coat the goods were found on in Bangor had no sleeves in it, and this may account for it."

Mr. Tilley has secured his loan of £3,000,000 sterling, on what appears to be most favorable terms. The loan is to redeem a six per cent loan falling due this year, and to provide the money for the purchase of the River du Loup Branch, and to pay the contractors on the Welland Canal.

A Sussex correspondent of the Telegraph writes:—Mr. Alfred Taylor, of Dutch Valley, lately discovered growing on the side of the body of one of his sheep, a perfect miniature horn about 2½ inches long and ½ of an inch in diameter. The discovery was made in washing the sheep, and the horn was removed, but a new one is growing in the same place. D. R. Munro, Esq., of St. John, who is spending a few days in the country, has the original curiosity in his possession.

The Manganese mining under the superintendence of the popular County Warden, Alfred Markmen, Esq., of Markhamville, never was so vigorously prosecuted in that place as this year. There are at Sussex Station now 350 tons of that valuable mineral, which will be sent to England shortly in the hold of a vessel.

The Hay Crop in the upper part of Kings county will be generally light. The grass in the early part of the spring was very promising, but the latter part of May was very dry, and the first half of June cold and unfavorable. A second drought, late in June, produced startling effects which the frequent showers and warm sunshine of July could not overcome in the meadows. Upon most other crops, however, the past three weeks of very fine growing weather have had a telling effect. Potatoes especially have grown wonderfully, and should the Colorado bug and the blight spare them the yield will be uncommonly good. Beans and some other productions have been very abundant.

Small-pox has again invaded Kings, from St. John. It appears that M. W. H. Smith, who lived on or near the Fingerboard Road, leading from Norton Station to Springfield, went to St. John a short time ago, and against the warning of a physician (who is reported to have told him that small-pox was in the family that he proposed to visit) he exposed himself to the contagion. It is also said that he remained in St. John until he had been for some days ill, and then returned by train to Norton Station and thence to his late home, the house of Mr. Smith Sharp, his nephew, who is brother of Dr. Sharp in St. John. On Friday of last week he died, and preparations were in progress for a public funeral at Springfield church, on Sunday, when it suddenly transpired that Mr. Smith had died of small-pox, and his remains were therefore interred on Saturday. As Mr. Sharp's family and neighbors were not aware that the disease was small-pox, many persons, last week, were exposed by Mr. Smith's illness, and after his death to the contagion.

Several of her neighbors testified that the house was a nuisance and had been an annoyance to them for some time past, and that the proprietress was constantly drunk, and ill-used her little children. Her daughter aged twelve years was put on the witness stand and testified against her mother. This child's evidence, the details are unfit for publication, showed the woman to be a most abandoned character, and secured her conviction. She was sentenced to three months imprisonment with hard labor. A man named Thomas Barron, a stranger, was fined $40 for being an inmate of the house. On hearing the sentence the woman and her child both burst into tears, and the former professed great concern as to the fate of her three little children while she was in jail. He walked along quietly until near the jail when he made a sudden onslaught on the officers and before they could recover from their surprise had knocked one of them down tripped the other up, and ran off at full speed. When last seen he was going over Black Sam's bridge, and no tidings of his whereabouts have since been received.

"Throw Physic to the Dogs"

DR. HALL'S ELECTRIC BELT

For the cure of all nervous diseases, without least derangement of the patient's habits or occupation. This appliance exerts powerful and official influence throughout the whole frame, is capable, either sex, and affords instantaneous relief in the following diseases:

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dizziness, Headaches, Lumbago, Gout, Debility, Nervous Exhaustion, Impotency, Premature Decay, etc.

These Belts are the result of the most profound search and experiment in Electro-Therapeutics, by their peculiar construction, a continuous "vanic current" is generated, which permeates the whole frame, and especially envelops the sensitive parts with its gentle influence. This current acts closer to the Nervous Fluid than any known to Medical Science—hence its potency curative agent. Most especially is the application of Electricity this form beneficial to those disorders arising from youthful indiscretion, sexual excess or disordered action of any kind, whereby the procreative powers are weakened and impotency threatened. No false delicacy or sense of shame should prevent the sufferer, subject to restless nights, nightmares, dreams, palpitation of the heart, neuralgia, dimness of sight, other symptoms of nervous and physical debility, from using this Belt. It is perfectly flexible, and adjusted, all of which together with their charge renders them superior to any other form of application of Electricity, medicinally. $50.47 of these belts were sold in Europe in year 1876.

"ELECTRICITY IS LIFE."

And no remedy can be compared to it for the treatment of IMPOTENCY and loss of nervous vitality.

This Belt is recommended by the most eminent physiologists of this country and Europe.

"Ingenious, wonderful—a death-blow to the system of drugging."—London (Eng.) Lancet.

"You have perfected a great blessing on suffering humanity."—Dr. Richardson, London, Eng.

"Wonderful for the restoration of exhausted vitality."—Dr. Ferriar, London.

"I cheerfully recommend Dr. Hall's Electric Belt, and consider it one of the greatest blessings to mankind that has been put before the public."—Dr. Barr, Paris.
