

appear a tenth so majestic as when we only heard his roar miles away." The bazaar which was opened in the evening of the Metropolitan Tabernacle at 7 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, was an expression of gratitude from the church congregation who have enjoyed the preaching of Mr. Spurgeon through twenty years. To the disappointment of the visitors, the pastor was unable to be present; he was even too unwell to write a letter; he had intended to send. Under the circumstances the bazaar was opened by Rev. J. Spurgeon, who expressed his sorrow at the inability of his brother to attend or even to write a letter. They expected to go through some ceremony, and although sorrow was in their hearts on account of the absence of one who wished to see, they could still sing a hymn, "Let us with a glad mind sing the hymn Mr. Chown offered an appropriate prayer, returning thanks to God for the twenty-five years of service they were commemorating, and asking a blessing for the pastor and "his beloved and dear partner in life." Mr. James Spurgeon said that he had never been able to understand how to open a bazaar, but thought the most suitable method was to hold a simple service, and then to let people go and clear the stalls. He sure they all sympathized with the pastor in his pain and disappointment, belonged to a family which could never get of holding any great inheritance save it, and he had a grandfather who at fifty-two, would rub his knees in pain, remark that the gout would shorten days! If Mr. Spurgeon could have present it would have done him more than doctors' medicine. As it was wished he was still further off, and lately a round robin had been present, asking him to leave England for three months, and they were hoping that the three would be acted upon. If the three months proved beneficial, they would be glad to have them repeated, as a long spell rest was necessary, and the church could better without its pastor for six months than do without him altogether. They were glad to celebrate this silver wedding because the last twenty-five years had been a magnificent time. Their experience was about a parallel. The Tabernacle, the Orphanage, together with the other agencies, represented a huge work there was no wonder if one man had an away beneath the burden. It was thought that the twenty-five years of service should be commemorated in some way, and as the pastor declined to accept anything on his own account they resolved endowing the almshouse, the aged inmates of which received five shillings a week. A sum of £5,000 was required, £800 had been promised, and the remainder they hoped to raise by the bazaar.

And now as to the monster bazaar itself. The stalls were arranged in two aisles, and altogether presented a brilliant appearance. It was announced at the commencement that there would be no reduction in prices for the sake of effecting clearance, as the goods which might remain unsold would most likely be disposed of on June 19, at the Orphanage birthday celebration. In all there were about thirty stalls, and perhaps the most imposing or most expensively furnished, was that of the deacons; then came those of the sisters and students of the college. The Sunday School and the orphanage each had a stall of special interest. A similar remark would also apply to the colporteurs and college evangelists, who were also represented. Then, besides the Flower Mission, a number of Bible classes were contributors and made a handsome show. In addition to all these, many private ladies gave their assistance and contributions, so that there seemed little fear of the amount required not being realized. We should omit mentioning the Butchers' stall, which was furnished excellently well with several hundredweights of very reasonable price. There was prime Christmas beef, mutton, pork, hares and fowls, and the attractions being amply sufficient to command a brisk sale. Apart from all these, the most expensive article we happened to notice was a fourfold pictorial draught screen at eighty-five guineas. The maker was Mr. W. Tempest, a decorative painter and a member of Mr. Spurgeon's church, the article in question being an artisan's contribution to the bazaar, and testimonial to the pastor's worth.

Tuesday was a half holiday, and, in spite of a wet afternoon and evening, the attendance was as large as the rooms could accommodate. There can be no doubt that the bazaar will prove a brilliant success, and the satisfaction of its promoters could have been made complete could Mr. Spurgeon himself been present to share the general joy.

Literary Notes.

THE NATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER for February maintains its reputation of being first class.

THE BLACKBOARD is the name of a new periodical intended to illustrate our Sunday-School Lessons. It is printed on a sheet of strong paper about four feet square, and just the help needed in a blackboard. 52 copies a year $3.00, or $1 per quarter.

SEQUEL TO THE LONE STAR TRACT, by Dr. McKenzie, is the title of a pamphlet in which we have set forth the wonderful work of grace in connection with the Teelooos. It begins with the year 1873 and gives a graphic sketch of occurrences to the present date. It reads like the early chapters of the Acts of the Apostles, and its circulation in our churches and mission circles, cannot but be inspiring and assuring to faith. Jesus lives and the Comforter is present.

THE BIBLIOTHECA SACRA for January is before us brimful of good solid mental food. It has articles on the following subjects: Organic forms by Dr. Hill; notes on Galatians 3: 16, by Dr. Gardner; The unchangeableness of God, by Dr. Dornier; notes on Acts, 14 16, 17, 30, and Romans 3: 25, 28 by Prof. Robbins; American Pre-Revolutionary Bibliography, by Dr. Butler; A Defence of the Catholic Faith concerning the satisfaction of Christ; against Faustus; Socinus of Sienna, written by Hugo Grocius, with notes by Rev. F. H. Foster; Mohammedanism a Missionary Religion, by Dr. Aiken; Theological Education by G. T. L.; and Book Notices. Our Churches would be better for subscribing for this Magazine for their pastors. It cannot but be stimulating to every cultured thoughtful minister. It is $4.10 per annum, and we will receive subscriptions at the Visitor Book Room. Now that we have no PARTISAN QUARTERLY this is the best to be had, and worthy of our patronage.

SELECT NOTES ON THE INTERNATIONAL S. S. LESSONS FOR 1879 by Rev. T. N. and M. A. Peloubet. This is the most satisfactory help on the S. S. Lessons, in book form, with which we are acquainted. Help is gathered from authors everywhere. The Lessons are first treated generally as to time, place, and circumstances; then explained, then illustrated, and lastly practical deduction are made. The work is well done. The Visitor Book Room supplies it for the price $1.25 postage paid.

THE ACADIA ATHENAEUM for January is an extra large and good number. Professor Welton's articles are interesting. We copy them in the Visitor. They are worthy of a wide reading. Our College editors do their work exceedingly well, and as to the mechanical appearance of the ATHENAEUM we think it first class. In matter and "make up" Acadia needs to be proud of her paper.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for January is a superb number. The illustrations are especially good. "Winter Sports in Canada," with nine illustrations is a seasonable article. The five editorial departments are well supplied. J. & A. McMillan, Agents, Prince William Street.

THE S. S. LESSON QUARTERLY by D. C. Cook, Chicago, ranks among the best. Price 30 cents a year.

Publication Society's Periodicals.

All the periodicals of the publication Society are valuable and instructive. There probably are no denominational Sunday-School papers in the whole country that have met the success that have been awarded to the Society's periodicals. See advertisement in this number.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Mission Aid Societies of New Brunswick, will be held under the auspices of the Central Board, in the Leinster Street Baptist Church, Saint John, N. B., on Thursday next, January 30th, commencing at 2 o'clock, p. m., when the reports of the Central Board and of the Branch Societies will be submitted. The earnest and successful work being done by these organizations should engage the sympathies and co-operation of all who are interested in the spread of the gospel among the Teelooos, and we trust the approaching gathering will be largely attended.

It is a dangerous thing to neglect a cough or cold or any difficulty of the throat or lungs. Lose not a moment in getting a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Lincture. You can rely upon it to cure you. It is also a sure preventive of diphtheria.

Ordinary notices, however, exceeding twenty lines, will be charged at the rate of 25 cents for each additional ten lines, counting ten words to a line. The money should be sent with the notices. Encouraging to Dyspeptics.

Mr. James H. Robinson, St. John, N. B., writes: "DEAR SIR.—By I may say, almost an accident, early this morning, being confined to my room for nearly three months, and during this time I was under the combined care of three of the most eminent physicians of Charlottetown, and by them and my friends given up as beyond all power to help me. Dr. Baxter, of Moncton, having occasion to call upon me in business, very naturally observed my state of health, and after fully describing my trouble, which he said was dyspepsia, he said he could only cure me or induce me, (in a word) that after being made at least three days, while tea, coffee or milk I dare not touch, and a slice of dry toast would invariably give me the most distress. Dr. Baxter recommended ROBINSON'S PHOSPHORIZED EMULSION, and I feel that I owe the public a debt which can only be paid by saying to all similarly afflicted, "Go thou and do likewise." My Robinson's "PhosphORIZED Emulsion." To-day I am hearty and strong, and can, without fear, indulge in all the luxuries of a first-class hotel. Yours, etc., J. INTELLIGENCE OFFICE, 102 PRINCESS ST., SAINT JOHN, N. B., JULY 29th, 1878.

MESSES. HANINGTON BROTHERS:

Gentlemen,—Three years ago I was going to write you how much benefit I received from taking two bottles of your QUININE WINE AND IRON, being then very weak and low, with no appetite for any kind of food, after severe attack of Erysipelas in my head. Again, after the fire, I was nearly quite gone, and was restored to strength and activity by taking two bottles more, and lastly, I had to have recourse to the QUININE WINE AND IRON again with the same beneficial results.

While I was taking it at last, a person came in who had left her situation to get into the Hospital, being so weak she could not work. I said, I will send you to a place where you will get seven dollars a month for two bottles of HANINGTON'S QUININE WINE AND IRON with you, and if you are not able to earn the seven dollars I will pay you for the medicine. At the end of the month she was quite cured, and is still filling the situation. I send you these few lines in the hope that you will get some of your friends to use it, as there are so many sick at present. It would greatly benefit persons after Sickness or Diphtheria, and would most certainly prevent the same by strengthening and building up the system.

Yours very truly, JANE A. YEE.
