LITERARY NOTES.

The British American Workman is the name of a new paper, published by Bengeough, Moore & Co., of Toronto, seeking the suffrages of Sunday-schools, &c.

A catechism of saving knowledge compiled mainly from the shorter catechism and the Baptist catechism, printed by the Christian Helper printing and publishing Co.

This compilation has been made by Rev. J. Donovan. It is Baptist in a certain sense but we should like to see it more outspoken on the matter of the relation of the ordinances.

News Summary.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

The potato bug, which is so much dreaded by the farmers on account of the havoc it makes in the potato field, has made its appearance in Richibucto.

The wooden frigate "Charybdis," recently presented to Canada by the Imperial Government as a training ship for boys, arrived at North Sydney, C. B., on Sunday from Plymouth Sound, whence she sailed on June 16th. The "Charybdis" had just arrived in England from a nine years' cruise in Chinese waters, and is not, of course, in the best of condition after such a long stay in Oriental seas.

She would be a fast sailer were she merchant-rigged, and would almost be yacht-like. The "Charybdis" is 23 years of age and is 1507 tons. She is expected in St. John harbor this week.

NOVA SCOTIA.

A few days ago, a workman in Messrs. J. W. Carmichael & Co.'s shipyard, New Glasgow fell from the scaffolding on the vessel now building and broke his neck, killing him instantly. His name was Donald Carey, belonging to Guysborough.

There are more men now employed in Cape Breton Mines than at any period during the last seven years.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

In the case of the prisoners convicted on the 7th of the Manson outrage, the sentence of the Chief Justice is as follows: John McCloskey and Patrick McCloskey, the jury have convicted you under the third Count of the Indictment of assaulting and beating Manson, a patient in the Lunatic Asylum under your care, occasioning to him serious bodily harm. You have not been found guilty by the Jury of any malicious intent, and therefore the punishment will not be so heavy as it otherwise would be.

You seem to have assaulted and beaten the man unmercifully. Probably had you been old men and men of more experience this would not have occurred. In my opinion those who placed you in the responsible situation did not exercise a reasonable or sound discretion, and they are really more responsible for what took place than you are. I do not know who appointed you, but it is plain and apparent you were altogether too young and unsuited for the position. I will not go in the extreme, or anything near extreme, the law allows me. I sentence you to two years in the Penitentiary, and then be discharged.

Joseph McRad, to one year in the Common Jail, with hard labor.

UPPER PROVINCES.

The steamer Circassian, which arrived at Rimouski on Saturday morning last, has among her passengers forty-three boys and girls, ranging from four to eighteen years of age, sent out from London by Cardinal Manning, for distribution in the Province of Quebec.

In the competition for the Elcho shield at Wimbleton, England, was the victor, making a total score of 1,642 points, against Ireland 1,549 and Scotland 1,501. In the 800 yards competition for the shield, England scored 558, Scotland 516 and Ireland 512. At 900 yards England scored 1,096; Scotland and Ireland each 1,022. The Duke of Cambridge lunched with the Canadian team on the 21st. He congratulated them on their victory in winning the Kolapore Cup on the 20th, and said he hoped they would continue coming over every year. The number of their members who got into the first 60 in the competition for the Queen's prize, he said, showed that rifle shooting was improving in Canada, and that they might bring over the lucky men who would carry off that honor.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

A profound sensation was produced throughout Washington, and in all circles, at the announcement Saturday afternoon that the President was worse. The morning bulletin cautiously intimated that his condition was not nearly so favorable, although it was not absolutely hopeless. It is announced that the wound is closed up, which is a most unfavorable symptom. His pulse is 125, and altogether his condition justifies the prevailing anxiety.

A despatch from Washington of the 23rd 5 p.m., says: The President's pulse is lower, but the situation is regarded as very critical. Drs. Agnew and Hamilton have been summoned here by a special train. When they arrive a consultation of physicians will be held in regard to opening the wound. The greatest anxiety prevails in the city and over the country since the alarming tidings have been sent abroad.

Sunday, 10 a.m. The President was more restless than usual during the night and had another rigor just before midnight. This morning, at 8.51, his pulse was 98; temperature, 98.4; respiration 18. A consultation was then held with Dr. Hamilton, of New York, and Dr. Agnew, of Philadelphia, after which a counter opening was made through the integument of the back, about three inches below the wound, which it is hoped will facilitate the drainage of pus and increase the chance of recovery. The President bore the operation well. His pulse is now 112.

Unofficial bulletin, 6.30 p.m.—The President's wound has been dressed and the surgeons feel still more encouraged.

Official bulletin, 7 p.m.—The President has been much relieved by the operation of this morning, and the pus has been discharging satisfactorily through the new opening. At noon to-day, his pulse was 118; temperature 99.8; respiration 24. At present his pulse is 104; temperature 99.2; respiration 23.

Executive Mansion, 10.30 p.m.—Secretary Blaine and Postmaster General James have just left the mansion. They said in response to an inquiry, that the President continued to rest comfortably and that his condition was as favorable as it possibly could be, considering the recent complication. Secretary Blaine remarked that the President was doing as well as they dared hope he should.

Unofficial bulletin, Executive Mansion, 11.30 p.m.—The attending surgeons report at this hour that the President is resting quietly and that, although they have not thought it best to disturb him by taking his pulse and temperature, they believe he is entirely free from fever. There are no indications of a recurrence of rigor.

A Washington special says it is understood that Drs. Hamilton and Agnew both disapproved of the diet of the President and of his talking so much, but it is probable that they shared this opinion with the attending physicians and that all agreed that for the immediate future the President's liberty in these respects must be restricted.

The Times announces that a proposal is on foot among the Liberal members to consider the propriety of advising the Queen to discharge the "suspects" under the Coercion Act on the occasion of the royal assent being given to the land Bill.

It is stated that Bradlaugh has been advised that the payment of £200 and the execution of indemnity bonds by Charles Newdigate, Conservative M.P., the instigator of Bradlaugh's prosecution, to Clark, a common informer, renders Newdigate liable to proceedings for maintenance, and that Bradlaugh intends to sue Newdigate for damages to cover the whole of the expenses to which he has been put. According to "Russell on Crimes," a person is guilty of maintenance who shall provide money or otherwise aid in the prosecution of a suit to which he was not personally a party.

An official bulletin from Washington on the 25th says: The President passed a more comfortable night, and had no rigor since that reported in the bulletin of yesterday morning. He is doing well this morning. Pulse 96; temperature 98.4; respiration 13.

A New York despatch of the 25th says: Vice-President Arthur was kept in his house yesterday, except a few hours in the evening. He received a number of telegrams from Washington city, but none even hinted at his starting for the capital. He is at the call of Secretary Blaine at any time, and when summoned will go at once.

The Times says that eighty Conservative Peers met at Lord Salisbury's house on Saturday. Lord Salisbury severely criticised the principles of the Land Bill, but recommended that no division be taken in the House of Lords on its second reading. Several amendments will be proposed and the opinion was held that the clause admitting leaseholders to the privileges of the bill ought to be eliminated. It was decided to meet again before the bill comes to the House of Lords.

A St. Petersburg despatch of the 21st says the Czar has granted the petition of Hessa Helfman, the woman convicted of complicity in the assassination of the late Czar, and commuted the sentence of death to penal servitude for life.

The Sultan of Morocco has appealed to the Sultan of Turkey to put a stop to the agitation in Northern Africa lest insurrection result in the expulsion of himself from the throne of Morocco and the complete separation of the Barbary States from Turkish hegemony. It is stated that these representations have produced a profound impression at Constantinople.

The army worm is making terrible havoc in the oat fields of Iowa and in large areas the crop will fall short of the seed planted.

Severe thunder storms, with much damage to crops and other property, are reported from various parts of Illinois and Indiana.

The summary of the work of the army worm in Illinois shows that the territory just north of the centre of the State and extending eastward to the eastern boundary has been ravaged. In Michigan the worm has appeared in several counties.

The opening out of the Caledonia mine at Terra Valle, D. T., caved in on the 20th, burying seven miners. Three were taken out alive, four are supposed to be killed.

A London despatch of the 22nd says: The vote of censure which Sir Michael Hicks-Beach will move on Monday next, in the House of Commons, is as follows: "That in the opinion of this House the course pursued by the Government in regard to the rising in the Transvaal which so far as yet explained in Parliament, has resulted in the loss of valuable lives, without vindicating the authority of the Crown and the safety of Her Majesty's dominions in South Africa and other parts to provide for the fulfilment of the obligations contracted by England towards European nations and natives of the Transvaal." Mr. Rathbone (Liberal from Carnarvonshire) will move an amendment as follows: "That this House, believing that the continuance of war in the Transvaal would not advance the honor or interests of England, approves of the steps taken by the Government to effect a peaceful settlement, and feels confident every effort will be taken to guard the interests of the natives, to provide full liberty and equal treatment for the entire white population and to promote harmony and good will among the various races of South Africa."

The Times' Berlin despatch says the assertion that General Skobloff went to Paris for the purpose of sounding the French Government in regard to an alliance with Russia is entirely erroneous.

The Suez Canal is again open for traffic. Duarte Potter & Son, merchants of Liverpool, have suspended; liabilities £150,000. Julius Mosenthal & Co., London and Paris, have failed.

In the case of Clark against Bradlaugh, before a special jury, an action to recover £500 penalty from the defendant for having sat and voted in the House of Commons without taking the Parliamentary oath, the jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff.

The consideration of the Land bill in committee was finished amid loud and prolonged cheers and the Bill was ordered to be reported to the House.

Latest details of the capture of Sfax say 100 French were killed or wounded, a portion of the town is held by the Arabs.

In the Cork Assizes the trial of criminal agrarian cases was stopped by Justice Barry on the ground that juries persistently declined to return verdicts of guilty despite plainest evidence.

Minister Lowell cables Secretary Blaine the text of the note from Gladstone to Mrs. Garfield, expressing himself and his countrymen's assurance of their deep feelings on the occasion of the recent horrible attempt on the President's life, and says: the interest felt in the President's recovery in England is hardly second to that manifested in the United States. He commended with the President's heroic bearing in his affliction, and pays a high compliment to Mrs. Garfield for her devotion to her husband. The note closes with Mr. Gladstone's personal congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Garfield.

Secretary Blaine has made a reply in which he states of all the messages of sympathy received by Mrs. Garfield, none touched her more deeply than the kind words of Mr. Gladstone.

A Paris despatch of the 22nd says: M. Rochefort's organ, L'Antenne, which has a monopoly of Nihilist news, prints a despatch from St. Petersburg, dated the 18th, which says: "The Nihilist executive committee has held a great and solemn meeting. Several exiles came from Geneva to attend it. They resolved to give the Czar one more warning, and if he does not heed it he and all his pig-headed advisers will perish."

The draft of the convention proposed by royal commission virtually retrocedes the whole of Transvaal to the Boers. The draft has not yet been accepted by the Boers.

The Common Expression.

"I feel so dragged, my food don't digest," "I do not feel fit for anything," which we so often hear during the Spring and early Summer months are conclusive evidence that the majority of people require at this season, especially a reliable medicine that will strengthen the organs of digestion, stimulate the circulation of the blood and "tonn up" the debilitated constitution.

VEGETINE.

Worthits Weight in Gold.

TORONTO, ONT., June 2, 1880. H. R. STEVENS, Esq., Boston, Mass. Sir:—Having been persuaded by a friend of mine to try VEGETINE for Kidney Disease, with which I had been troubled for four years, I consented and have given a fair trial, and am happy to say that I am relieved to such an extent that I can attend to my work with ease and comfort, which I was deprived of for over three years. The best medical men of Toronto have given my case up as hopeless. I have tried every kind of medicine I ever heard of, but with no avail whatever. Any person who has been afflicted with the same terrible disease I would advise to try VEGETINE, for I assure you (as many can testify) that it is undoubtedly the best medicine on record for the Kidney Disease. I am able to work at my trade as elder and earn a living for my wife, two children and myself through VEGETINE, which I consider is worth its weight in gold. Hoping that those who may give VEGETINE a trial may receive the same benefit that I have, I remain, Sir, Yours respectfully, CHAS. COOKE, 106 John St.

I gave Mr. Cooke the medicine, and I know this statement to be true. JAS. D. MERRIDITH, 36 Adelaide St., W.
