News Summary.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

Tertullus Theal, the proprietor of the Lake View House, a short distance from Fairville, brutally beat his wife a few days ago, from the effects of which she died. The evidence before the Coroner's Jury shows that Theal habitually treated his wife in the most brutal manner. At times she was compelled with her little girl seven years old to take shelter for the night in an adjoining shed, or under a neighbor's roof. The last assault, and which ended fatally, appears to have been committed under the following circumstances: Theal wanted his wife to get out of bed and get him liquor, but she was unwilling to do so. He then went for it himself. She followed to try and prevent him taking it. Knowing too well what would be the result. He turned upon her, striking her a tremendous blow on the head with a stone bottle and then gave her a violent kick in the side and then left her lying on the floor all night insensible. Theal has been arrested and bail refused.

At noon Friday, a large pile of boards on the edge of the wharf at Mr. Alexander Barnhill's mill, situated at Milford, and facing directly opposite Indiantown, was discovered on fire. A number of the hands of the mill immediately set to work scattering the burning heap, while others had a hose stretched from the mill and by means of the engine pump they succeeded in keeping a stream upon the fire until the Portland engine arrived. The firemen were summoned by an alarm from box 231. Owing to the direction of the wind which was quite strong at the time, the mill was not endangered. $500 is the estimated loss of the lumber.

At the annual meeting of the Teacher's Institute held Friday evening in the Winter street school building, there were present about fifteen teachers. The election of officers resulted as follows: Wm. Parlee president; S. L. T. Frost, secretary. The executive committee is composed of the following persons:—Messrs. Belyea, Parlee, Frost and Miss Grace Murphy and Miss Jennie Rowan. This committee were authorized to prepare a list of subjects for the next monthly meeting.

The following was written out by the coroner and signed by the jury:

The jury said that Tertullus Theal did on the 17th day of October last, beat, strike and kick deceased, Mary Janet Theal, causing mortal wounds and bruises, which said mortal wounds and bruises said Mary Janet Theal from the said 17th day of October last did languish and live until the 10th day of November in the year of our Lord 1881, on which said lost mentioned day the said Mary Janet Theal of the said mortal wounds and bruises died; and so the jurers aforesaid upon their oath aforesaid say that the said Tertullus Theal in the manner and by the means aforesaid, feloniously and unlawfully did kill and slay the said Mary Janet Theal against the peace of Our Sovereign Lady, her crown and dignity.

The coroner issued a detainer to keep Theal in custody until the case comes before the Grand Jury, which will be this week some time.

Coal gas was the cause of the suffocation.

Total amount of Dominion notes in circulation on Oct. 31st was $14,872,924, omitting cents. Excess of species and guaranteed debentures was $1,888,986; excess of unguaranteed debentures was $845,306, making total excess $2,734,292.

The circulation of Dominion notes has not increased as rapidly as was expected, after power being taken last session to increase the issue; total increase of circulation since Oct, 1880, has been less than two hundred thousand dollars. The issue of $1 and $2 notes have increased by a million and a half, and of five hundred and one thousand dollar notes has decreased by a million and a quarter dollars.

Total value dutiable goods, $7,876,138; coins and bullion, $6,444;; free goods, $1,882,536. The total value entered for consumption was $1,420,996 in excess of the corresponding month last year. This excess is principally made up of woolen, iron and steel, and cotton manufactures and coal.

A statement of goods exported from the Dominion, exclusive of British Columbia for Sept., shows:

Produce of mine	$202,689
Fisheries	745,997
Forest	3,312,267
Animals and their produce	3,016,320
Agricultural products	4062,625
Manufactures	492,134
Miscellaneous	53,091
Total	$11,795,123

Of this $9,808,992 was the produce of Canada and $1,986,131 other countries.

Compared with Sept., 1880, the exports of Canadian produce have increased $1,723,986. All items are in excess excepting the produce of the mine, manufactures and miscellaneous, which show a decrease compared with the corresponding month. The highly protected goods make a poor showing in the exports; the non-protected, the highly taxed products constitute our chief exports.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

The trial of Guiteau at Washington, began at 10 o'clock, Monday and the interest manifested was unceasing until the adjournment at 1, in consequence of the list of jurors being exhausted. The prisoner was exceedingly demonstrative and insisted upon interrupting the proceedings and protesting against the action of his counsel, Mr. Robinson, assigned by the Court for the defence. Guiteau became terribly excited, refusing to keep his seat until the Deputy Marshall had to resort to force to prevent him from addressing the Court. He early produced a roll of manuscript for a speech and insisted upon delivering it to the Court, which however, was not permitted. His conduct was that of an insane man and if asumed, was cleverly carried out. The preliminary proceedings showed a want of harmony between Scoville and Robinson. The latter appealed for further time in order that a prominent lawyer whom he had consulted might be brought into the case and assist in the defence. The Court was about to grant the request when Scoville created a sensation by arising and protesting, saying that he had not been consulted and did not wish further delay and unless his wishes and those of the family of the President were consulted he would abandon the case. The Court then ordered the case to go on.

At the Lord Mayor's banquet Lord Granville, Foreign Secretary, spoke, discussing the settlement of the Alabama claims. He said: "Ever since the United States became an independet power there has never been a time when the same friendly feeling existed as exists now between the two great English speaking nations. I know of no more striking test than the feeling which has been shown of sincere and deep grief in England in regard to the death of President Garfield and the devoted loyalty of the Americans to our Queen.

It is understood that the American Legation will at an early date thank the British Government for the salute to the American flag when it was carried in the Lord Mayor's procession on Wednesday. She has been within 590 geographical miles of the north pole, having been 540 miles north of the latitude on which the "Hausa," of the German north pole expedition of 1869 was lost; 65 miles beyond the latitude in which Tyson's party left the Polaris in 1873 and 45 miles north of the spot where in 1874. We may, therefore, infer that the attitude of the government upon the Irish question remains unmoved and unmoveable. Forster will return to Ireland with no restraint upon the executive authority."
