

An Alarming Disease Afflicting a Numerous Class.

The disease commences with a slight derangement of the stomach, but, if neglected, it in time involves the whole frame, embracing the kidneys, liver, pancreas, and, in fact, the entire glandular system, and the afflicted drags out a miserable existence until death gives relief from suffering. The disease is often mistaken for other complaints; but if the reader will ask himself the following questions, he will be able to determine whether he himself is one of the afflicted: Have I distress, pain, or difficulty in breathing after eating? Is there a dull, heavy feeling attended by drowsiness? Have the eyes a yellow tinge? Does a thick, sticky, mucous gather about the gums and teeth in the mornings, accompanied by a disagreeable taste? Is the tongue coated? Is there pain in the side and back? Is there a fullness about the right side as the liver were enlarging? Is there costiveness? Is there vertigo or dizziness when rising suddenly from a horizontal position? Are the secretions from the kidneys scanty and highly coloured, with a deposit after standing? Does food ferment soon after eating, accompanied by flatulence or a belching of gas from the stomach? Is there frequent palpitation of the heart? These various symptoms may not be present at one time, but they torment the sufferer in turn as the dreadful disease progresses. If the case be one of long standing, there will be a dry, hacking cough, attended after a time by expectoration. In very advanced stages the skin assumes a dirty brownish appearance, and the hands and feet are covered by a cold, sticky perspiration. As the liver and kidneys become more and more diseased, rheumatic pains appear, and the usual treatment proves entirely unavailing against this latter agonizing disorder. The origin of this malady is indigestion, or dyspepsia, and a small quantity of the proper medicine will remove the disease if taken in its incipency. It is most important that the disease should be promptly and properly treated in its first stages, when a little medicine will effect a cure, and even when it has obtained a strong hold the correct remedy should be persevered in until every vestige of the disease is eradicated, until the appetite has returned, and the digestive organs restored to a healthy condition. The surest and most effectual remedy for this distressing complaint is "Seigel's Curative Syrup," a vegetable preparation sold by all Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world, and the price of the proprietors, A. J. White, Limited, 17, Parkington Road, London, E.C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system.

Market Place, Pocklington, York, October 2nd, 1882.

Sir,—Being a sufferer for years with dyspepsia in all its worst forms, and after spending pounds in medicines, I was at last persuaded to try Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and am thankful to say have derived more benefit from it than any other medicine I ever took, and would advise any one suffering from the same complaint to give it a trial, the results they would soon find out for themselves. If you like to make use of this testimonial you are quite at liberty to do so.

Yours respectfully,
(Signed) R. Turner.

ALL SORTS.

A man is not like a chicken—the older he gets the tenderer he becomes. Young ladies, please note!

I have used Minard's Liniment freely on my head and now have a good head of hair after being quite bald for several years. It is the only hair restorer I have ever found.—Mrs. CHAS. ANDERSON, Stanley Bridge, P. E. I.

While her mother was taking a fly out of the butter, little Daisy asked, "Is that a butterfly, mamma?"

An Eastern paper says: "Every man who goes into the lumber woods this winter should take with him a supply of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and Parsons' Purgative Pills. This little precaution may save months of labor and much suffering."

Is a colony of mosquitoes placed along every stream, so that the fishermen may be always sure of bites?

CAUTION.—Beware of Diphtheria, influenza, bronchitis, congestion of the lungs, coughs and colds at this season of the year. Keep Minard's Liniment in the house ready for immediate use. It may save your life; it has saved thousands.

"Can women sue and be sued?" asks B. Lockwood. No, Belva, but she can make big bills, and her husband can be sued.

The exposure of the utter worthlessness of the large packs of horse and cattle powders has saved our people a vast sum. There is only one kind now known that are strictly pure and these are Sheridan's. Don't throw away your money.

Extract from a letter from Angela: "Dear Henry, you ask if I return you my love. Yes, Henry, I have no use for it, and return it with many thanks."

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL, with Hypophosphites, For Bronchial Affections and Lung Troubles.—Dr. A. B. Poore, Cedar Rapids, Mich., says: "I have used your Emulsion for several years in my practice and have always found it thoroughly reliable, pleasant to take, and most valuable for throat and lung troubles."

A would-be-wit once said, speaking of the fair sex: "Ah! it's women's mission to make fools of men." "And how vexed we are," said a bright-eyed feminine present, "to find that nature has so often forestalled us!"

Mason & Hamlin commenced as melodeon makers in 1854. They soon introduced the improved instrument now known as the organ, or American organ, as it is termed in Europe. The new instrument proved so superior that it soon took the place of everything else in this country, being adapted and manufactured by all who had previously made melodeons, and many others who were induced to commence the business by the rapidly growing demand. Now about 80,000 American organs are made and sold yearly. The use of the Mason & Hamlin Company have always stood at the head, being acknowledged the best. The same makers are now producing improved Upright Pianofortes, which, they believe, are destined to rank as high as their organs have done.—Boston Traveller.

The Girl of the Period.

The following is an extract from an address recently read by Nancy Willard Covell, before the Massachusetts Suffrage Association: All that girls are taught is to be pretty, and hide their faults, and read love stories, and crochet, and make sponge cake, until someone asks them to marry. So the poor creatures, through fear that they will miss their chances and fail to marry, begin very early to pinch themselves in some places and pad themselves in others. Sometimes they wear clothing enough to founder a ship, and again it is pronounced "lovely" to appear without any to speak of.

With the injunction ringing in their ears, "Whatever you do, be pretty," girls paint their lips and crook their eyebrows, and take opium to make their eyes soft, and arsenic to make their complexions clear. It was an unfortunate day when Paul or somebody else said that the joy of woman was her hair. What nameless and untold tortures has this appendage to the human body not been subjected to? It has been filled with "rats" and "mice," heroically pulled out by the roots to make the forehead high, glued to the forehead with extract of quince-seed, and again brought over the eye in tangled snarls. It has been curled with over-hot irons, and then allowed to float free far down the back; it has been puffed, and frizzed, and powdered, and curled, and greased, and banged—done up high or low, made longer or shorter, or dyed black or blonde—in strict accordance with the caprice of the fickle goddess of fashion. Does the Grecian bend require them to look like a dejected monkey, straightway they become limp in body, and chatter that they do not do it because it is fashion—it is perfectly natural to them. To-day they drag innumerable yards of dry goods through the streets, and to-morrow they appear in tie-backs so tight that it is at the risk of their lives that they attempt to board a railroad train. Now the head is surmounted by a bonnet the size of a postage stamp, and then by one larger than an umbrella. Sometimes women are supposed to have hips, and then everybody, no matter how slender, grows broader than a donkey with panniers. Then hips are abolished, and no trace of them can be discovered. If snakes and bugs become fashionable as ornaments, the snakes and bugs become "perfectly lovely," and every girl who shrieked at the sight of a spider, simpers "that they are just too lovely for anything."

When iridescent beads become fashionable, one has only to wait a little and every woman becomes a walking rainbow. Now cardinal is the rage, and then gold; now mits, and then twelve-button gloves; now plaiting, and then ruffles; now hems, and then facing; now waists long, and the ribs are laced down until they adhere to the liver, and the waist gets shorter, and an opportunity is given to breathe. In short, woman's enslavement by fashion has resolved life for her into an eternal game of "wigwag," and until she escapes this bondage there is no mental life for her.

Tone up the system by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will make you feel like a new person. Thousands have found health and relief from suffering by the use of this great blood purifier when all other means failed.

The Oldest Bank Notes.

The oldest bank notes are the "flying money," or "convenient money," first issued in China, 2697 B. C. Originally these notes were issued by the treasury, but experience dictated a change to the banks under government inspection and control. A writer in a provincial paper says that the early Chinese "greenbacks" were in all essentials similar to the modern bank notes, bearing the name of the bank, date of issue, the number of the note, the signature of the official issuing it, indications of its value in figures, in words, and in the pictorial representations of coins or heaps of coins equal in amount to its face value, and a notice of the pains and penalties of counterfeiting. Over and above all was a laconic exhortation to industry and thrift, "Produce all you can spend with economy." The notes were printed in blue ink on paper made from the fibre of the mulberry tree. One, issued in 1399 B. C., is preserved in the Asiatic museum at St. Petersburg.—Inter-Ocean.

So stringent are the laws in Sweden concerning those who separate from the State church that our Baptist brethren in that country have preferred for the most part to retain a nominal connection with the established church. A church may separate; but it must petition the king, present its creed and rules of church order, elect a pastor who shall be responsible to the civil power for the public worship of his flock, and if then the king sees fit, he can grant the petition. But such a church can receive no member under eighteen years of years. No person from the State church can be received into such a body without cumbersome preliminaries. No person who is a member of such a separate church can hold a civil office without a special dispensation from the king. If the privilege of public worship is abused—and the king is to decide whether such is the fact—all grants are revoked. Piety is not essential to membership in the State church, nor even to be a preacher in it. Of course no discipline can be maintained. It is, therefore, not surprising that the real Christians in it are dissatisfied. There are many who are organized into "mission societies," who are really, though not formally, separate from the State church, yet are not in all respects Baptists. If the revival work continues to go on in Sweden, there must come a revolution that will give a larger liberty to truly evangelical churches, and make visible the distinction between believers and unbelievers.—Ex.

Report on Budd's Emulsion.

PROVINCIAL AND CITY HOSPITAL, Halifax, April 30th, 1884.

Budd's Cream Emulsion has been recommended itself at the Hospital as being a very palatable preparation of Cod Liver Oil. It is the only one prescribed here now.

M. A. B. SMITH, M.D., Home Surgeon.

REST AND COMFORT TO THE SUFFERING.

"Brown's Household Panacea" has no equal for relieving pain in the side, back or bowels. It cures Pain in the Side, Back or Bowels, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Toothache, Lumbago and any kind of a Pain or Ache. "It will most surely quicken the blood," and heal, as its acting power is wonderful. "Brown's Household Panacea," being acknowledged as the great Pain Reliever, and of double the strength of any other Elixir or Linctus in the world, should be in every family handy for use when wanted. "As it really is the best remedy in the world for Cramps in the stomach and Pains and Aches of all kinds, and is for sale by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle."

Always ask for BUDD'S CREAM EMULSION of Pure Cod Liver Oil. The only EMULSION made by Puttner Bros. T. B. Barker and R. W. McCarthy, Wholesale Agents, Sold by all druggists. Price 50 cents.

Coughs and Colds that we so frequently neglect, and which so often result in the seed sown for a harvest of Consumption, should have immediate and thorough treatment. A teaspoonful of Phosphorized Emulsion taken whenever the cough is troublesome will relieve the patient, and preserved in, will effect a cure in the most obstinate cases. Always ask for Phosphorized Emulsion and be sure you get it.

From the Late Hospital Surgeon J. A. Spangale, M. D. C. M.

From what I saw of your new EMULSION, "BUDD'S," while residing in the P. and C. Hospital I have no hesitation in recommending it as a MOST AGREEABLE and TRUST-WORTHY preparation of COD LIVER OIL. For debility and weakness, and especially when the result of one of those trying and tedious "Colds," so common in Nova Scotia, it has proved itself of great and permanent value.

J. A. SPANGALE, M. D. C. M. Late House Surgeon of P. and C. Hospital.

By the use of Hamlin's Quinine Wine and Iron, and Tonic Bitter Pills, the blood is purified, and a healthy skin is the result. Beware of imitations. See that you get "Hamlin's," the original and genuine. For sale by all Druggists and General Dealers in Canada.

No lady who delights in Flowers, and likes to see them do well and bloom abundantly, should be without Hamlin's Food for Flowers. Ordinary packages 50c—sufficient for 20 plants for one year.

Rheumatism is a constitutional disease and must be treated through the blood to entirely remove it from the system. It is an exceedingly painful disease, but not dangerous, excepting when it attacks the heart, when it usually proves fatal. SCIENTIFIC cures it permanently by neutralizing the RHEUMATIC POISON in the blood.

St. John's, Newfoundland, Nov. 16th, 1883. To PUTTNER BROS.

Having used the BUDD EMULSION as prepared by you, I have found it very efficacious in the diseases of children, especially when of a flabby and enfeebled constitution.

It has produced admirable results in the debility following the Acute Fevers. Its power to resist decomposition, its agreeable taste, and the readiness with which Children take it must render it an important addition to our Pharmacopoeial remedies. I therefore have much pleasure in recommending it.

Yours truly,
K. MCKENZIE, M. D. C. M. & Co.
