

Moral Cosmetics.

To who would save your features florid,
Little limbs, bright eyes, unwrinkled forehead,
From age's devastation horrid,
Adopt this plan:
'Twill make, in climates cold or torrid,
A hale old man.

Avoid in youth luxuriant diet,
Restrain the passions, lawless riot,
Devoted to domestic quiet,
Be wisely gay:
So shall ye, spite of age's fiat,
Resist decay.

Seek not in Mammon worship pleasure,
But find your richest, dearest treasure
In books, friends, music, polished leisure:
The mind, not sense,
Make the sole scale by which ye measure
Your opiate life.

This is the source, this is the seed,
Life's purest, sweetest, best applique,
That disappoints not man's reliance,
What e'er his state:
But challenges, with calm defiance,
Time's, fortune's, fate.

An Apparition.

THE LATE EMPEROR OF RUSSIA.

It is believed in Russia that the late Czar appears every night in the Cazan Cathedral. One of the watchers there is said to have first seen him, and to have forthwith reported it to the senior priest. The latter watched one night, saw the apparition, and mentioned it to his bishop. The bishop went to the church in the evening, and waited several hours before the high altar. Adjoining this is the so-called Emperor's door, through which only the Emperor and the ecclesiastics have access to the altar; and near the door is a picture of the Virgin, believed to have miraculous virtues, the tradition going that it was not made by the hands of man. It was formerly in Moscow, but when the French occupied that city it was removed to St. Petersburg, and afterwards placed in this church. It is one of the most revered relics of the Russian church, and is inclosed in a gold frame, the jewels, diamonds, rubies and emeralds of which, represent a value of millions (of rubies). After waiting some hours, the bishop was convinced that it was all imagination on the part of the watcher and the priest, when all at once the Emperor's door slowly opened and the dead Emperor entered, dressed in full parade uniform worn just as when he lay in his coffin. The bishop advanced so near steps to give him a benediction, but the Emperor motioned him away with his hand, and stepping up to the before mentioned picture of the Virgin, knelt down before it, and remained for a long time absorbed in prayer; he then left the altar by the same way he came. The whole story is not only related, but entirely believed, in the best society. In all social circles one hears of nothing but this apparition and the most extraordinary conclusions are quite seriously deduced from it. It is observable that the Cathedral, by order of the Metropolitan, is closed from six o'clock in the evening and no one obtains admission.—London Court Journal.

WORSE THAN BURGLAR.—Just as the train was entering a tunnel on a Mississippi Railroad, a stout woman opened the window. In came the gas and smoke which alarmed her and she began to screech frantically: "Murder! Murder! I am killed." In a moment the car filled with smoke and gas and came very near smothering every person in it. She couldn't understand where the smoke came from, and yelled, "Fire! fire! murder! we're all killed! For God's sake, help! Don't let me burn up!" By this time the passengers were coughing and tumbling over each other, rushing to the car doors in a most ludicrous manner. The car doors were locked; the old lady fainted, while other passengers yelled for help, carried on like madmen, and by the time they reached the end of the tunnel were exhausted and almost suffocated. The old lady told the conductor that she would never travel through an underground gas works again.—Free Press.

NIAGARA FALLS AND THE ELECTRIC LIGHT.—An agreement has been made between the Prospect Park Association at Niagara Falls and Leonard Henkle, inventor of Rochester, N. Y., through which the power of the Niagara River at the Falls will be made available for generating electricity for illuminating purposes. Henkle claims to have perfected a plan by which the electricity will be taken on underground cables as far east as Boston, and as far west as Chicago in sufficient quantity to light the streets and private residences. Henkle's plan is to erect enormous hydraulic machinery on the American side, just below the Falls. He is to pay the Park Association a million dollars for fifteen acres of land.

THE SHINER.—A silver dollar with a bit of concave mirror set into one side is by gamblers called a "shiner." By laying it among the coin and dealing over it, the operator can know what every player holds for that deal, the cards being reflected in miniature. A member of the mining club of Leadville has been caught using a shiner. By means of it he won $2,600 in a night at poker.
