TRIPLE ROMANCE.

Howland Wedding Recalls an Old Story.

HE FELL IN LOVE WITH A DRESS-MAKER TO WHOM HIS MOTHER LEFT HIM.

He Once Saved Her Life and She Has Saved His.

New York, June 28.—When Mrs. Virginia Howland, of New York, lay dying six years ago she gave her two sons into the hands of her dressmaker, Mrs. Carrie Armer, of Newark.

"Take good care of them," she said, "especially of little Clifford, now 23, and Mrs Armer are married and are expected to arrive this week in Bloomfield, N. J. from their honeymoon at West Point.

Mrs. Armer is a bright little woman of 43, with flashing dark eyes and a very youthful appearance. When the Howland brothers lost their own mother she was a mother to them till they got through school. Their father, a Newark banker, had died years before.

"We were all surprised when we heard that Carrie had married a man 20 years younger than she," said Young Howland's aunt, Mrs. Mary Perry of Benson St, Bloomfield, yesterday. "They were married June 6 at Flushing. But, bless you, every one has known that the boy was wildly in love with her. I think they will be happy, in spite of the difference in their ages."

There is a little romance back of this extraordinary marriage. Mrs Armer was divorced years ago. Afterward she bought an interest in a 5th av., New York, dressmaking establishment, and also had an establishment in Newark. She only worked for rich people.

She was highly educated in her youth and had expected to inherit a large property. The shipwreck of her first matrimonial venture broke up her life. For years she lived among her friends as a sort of private seamstress. It was in that capacity that she met the Howlands, then proprietors of the Howland house at Long Branch.

After successfully launching the two Howland boys in the world she returned to dressmaking. Two years ago in Newark she was one of a party of pleasure-seekers upset in a sailboat. Young Howland saw the accident and swam out to save her. He swam half a mile with her on his back. Two men in the boat were drowned. The other women were saved by fishermen.

Young Howland began the study of dentistry, but a cold that he had contracted in the water at the time of the rescue caused an ear trouble. He recovered partially, and believing his happiness depended upon his winning the hand of Mrs. Armer, proposed to her. She refused him and advised him to travel, thinking if he would go to Europe for a year he might meet some girl his own age and win her.

He refused to go. To cure him of his passion she went to Europe herself. Though she loved the boy, she did not want to hurt his prospects by marrying him. Howland followed her, but not knowing where she had gone, missed her. He was taken ill again with the trouble in his ear. From Carlsbad, Germany, physicians wired that he could live but a few days. Friends here cabled to Mrs Armer, who was then in France.

She hurried to Carlsbad and found him at death's door. From the moment of her arrival he began to rally, and in a week was able to recognize her. The illness gave way to her tender nursing and they returned to America together.

How was doing well at the university of Pennsylvania dental school, but refused to return there unless he had the promise of Mrs. Armer that she would marry him. Their natures are much alike. Both are retiring and quiet, fond of books and art. The difference in their ages was the only bar to their happiness.

The young man won the favor of his relatives and friends to the marriage before she actually promised to be his wife. Russell Howland, his brother, gave his full consent, and Mrs Russell Howland was a witness to the ceremony at the parsonage at the Flushing Baptist church. It was decided to keep the wedding a secret for two weeks.

The happy couple went to West Point for their honeymoon. They left there yesterday for Albany. They will return to Bloomfield in a few days and will occupy the beautiful house of Dr Broughton, 15 Church St, this summer. Next fall they will live in Philadelphia, where the bridegroom will continue his studies. He has an independent income.

In some of the Swiss valleys the inhabitants are all afflicted with goitre or "thick neck." Instead of regarding this as a deformity they seem to think it a natural feature of physical development, and tourists passing through the valleys are sometimes jeered by the goitrous inhabitants, because they are without this offensive swelling. Thus a form of disease may become so common that it is regarded as a natural and necessary condition of life. It is so, to a large extent, with what are called diseases of women. Every woman suffers more or less from irregularity, ulceration, debilitating drains, or female weakness, and this suffering is so common and so universal that many women accept it as a condition natural and necessary to their sex. But it is a condition as unnatural as it is unnecessary. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription strengthens the delicate womanly organs and regulates the womanly functions, so that woman is practically delivered from the pain and misery which eat up ten years of her life—between the ages of fifteen and forty-five. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well.

UPPER QUEENSBURY.

Mrs. S. W. Parent is now visiting her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Tracey at Tracey Station.

Our annual school meeting came off the 15th. Although a general excitement prevailed everything passed off pleasantly. The old trustee was re-elected, although the same man that has been on the opposition for so long was again nominated, but without success. How he was elected auditor.

Miss Augusta Coy has collected a sum of money from the residents of this place to buy a present for our teacher, Miss Helen Strange, as a token of regard for her labour in our school.

Wm Hazelton who has been ill for so long is, we are pleased to say, slightly improved.

William Ross and Leveret Stairs, who have been on the corporation drive for the past two weeks, returned home last Saturday. They report the drive pretty well in.

Special from Newcastle, Ont.

Newcastle, July 1.—Mr. Thos Hays is again a well man, and says, "As one who for ten years suffered from Asthma, I recommend Catarrhzone as a positively sure cure; three bottles cured me perfectly." Catarrhzone has never yet failed. Even cases of twenty years standing that baffled the skill of specialists have been cured by Catarrhzone. It cures by inhalation, pleasant to use, no danger or risk. The worst cases of Asthma can be cured by Catarrhzone in two to five weeks. Instant relief and ultimate cure guaranteed if Catarrhzone is used. Give it a trial. Price $1.00; small size 25c. The Mayor of Chicago has forbidden the discharge of cannon-crackers on the Fourth of July. It may be said that the prohibition interferes with "liberty and the pursuit of happiness," but it is certainly favorable to "life." Last year there were 59 people killed and 2,767 injured in the United States by explosions of fireworks.

Hair in the Comb.

A bad sign. You are growing bald. Stop it now. Use Dr White's Electric Comb and you will find no more combings. Your hair will stay where it belongs. Send 60c for one. D N Rose, Gen Mgr, Decatur, Ill.

One of the sights of Chicago today is a professor of English in the Northwestern University building his own house, at least the wooden part of it, with the assistance of two freshmen.

SPORT ON THE FIRST

Yacht Racing on River and Horse Racing at the Park.

YACHT RACE ONE OF THE BEST EVER SEEN HERE.

Bert Atherton's Lark Was the Winner.

McCoy's ROSALINE WILKES TOO FAST FOR HER COMPETITORS.

The yacht race Monday afternoon for a beautiful silver cup, presented by John A. Morrison, of Toronto, was sailed under favorable conditions and was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators, who displayed a lively interest in the event. The competing yachts were the Asthore, owned by W. B. Ganong, the Vera owned by J. P. McMannus, the Lark, owned by Bert Atherton, the Summer Girl owned by A. A. Shute, the Kipling owned by Bayard Simmons, and the Doreen by Enoch Vandine. The start was made in front of the B. & B. club house and the boats were required to cruise down river to a buoy opposite the residence of Henry Chestnut, thence across and up the eastern side of the river as far as the water works pier, and thence back to the starting point by the western side.

After about fifteen minutes had been spent in manoeuvring, the signal to start was given and the boats crossed the line with the Kipling slightly in the lead, and the others fairly well bunched. A strong southwesterly wind prevailed, which sent the white winged fleet to the first buoy in short order, and made a very pretty sight. The boats did not have such plain sailing, however, during the run up river, as the strong head wind kept them constantly on the tack, but this gave the crews a chance to display their seamanship, and they certainly gave a clever exhibition. Capt Atherton of the Lark rather outpointed the others during the run up, and rounded the pier with a substantial lead. As the Summer Girl was in the act of making the turn she capsize and her gallant crew, consisting of Messrs Shute, Robert Coombes and Chauncey Coleman, were precipitated unceremoniously into the drink. Upon coming to the service they all managed to grasp the gunwales of the yacht, and after climbing on board were able to bail her out and complete the course.

After rounding the pier the yachts made a very pretty run before the wind to the starting point, and the Lark succeeded in increasing her lead. The accident which befell her put Summer Girl out of the race and the Vera was overtaken by a tired feeling and dropped out. The others finished in the following order:

Lark, 1 hr, 26 min, 35 sec.
Asthore, 1 hr, 32 min, 11 sec.
Doreen, 1 hr, 34 min, 45 sec.
Kipling, 1 hr, 40 min, 25 sec.

The crew of the Summer Girl claim that their yacht was fouled by the Doreen and there is talk of protesting the race.

The judges were R P Foeter, Eldon Mullin and A W Edgecombe, and H C Rutter and D J Stockford acted as timers.

AT THE PARK.

The stake race at the driving park at three o'clock furnished capital sport for upwards of two hundred persons. The contestants were Harvey McCoy's Rosaline Wilkes, W. A. Lindsay's Harry L., H. C. Jewett's Grocer Boy and Bert Lint's Slago. The race was won handily by Rosaline Wilkes in three straight heats, with Harry L second and Slago third. Grocer Boy was withdrawn after trotting the first two heats without getting a place. The track was in poor condition for racing, nevertheless the race was a good one and the horses made the circuit of the track in fairly fast time. The first heat was trotted in 1.16, and the little bay was never once headed. Sandy Stewart, who held the ribbons over Lindsay's gelding, made it quite lively for McCoy for a time during the second heat, but the gamey little mare pulled herself together on the back stretch and set a pace which the others could do nothing with. She repeated the performance in the third heat, after a bad break made while rounding the second turn, and came under the wire a winner, amidst the plaudits of the spectators. The time of the second heat was 1.18, and of the third 1.19.

The judges were Hugh Calder, John Hood and John Ross, and D J Stockford was timer.

Following is the summary.

Rosaline Wilkes v m.....	1	1	1
Harry l b g.....	2	2	2
Slago b l g.....	3	3	3
Grocer Boy b g.....	4	4	4
Time 1.16, 1.18, 1.19.

You can buy it. They make wigs out of it; but why wait until you are forced to wear it. Use Dr. White's Electric Comb and have live hair, your own hair, glossy and luxuriant and free from dandruff. Sample 60c. D N Rose, Gen Mgr, Decatur, Ill.

Because the schools at McKeesport, Penn., lost 28 teachers in the middle of their terms during the past six years, through matrimony, the school board is making a vigorous campaign to secure teachers who will not marry before the end of the school year. Some members of the board suggest that homely women only be employed. When the applicants filed before the board the announcement was made that all who expected reelection must promise not to wed during the school term. Several of the prospective teachers thereupon withdrew.

While attending a moonlight excursion down the Otonabee River from Peterboro Ont. Thursday night, George Huston, a G. T. R. section man, was drowned. Mr. Huston, in passing from the steamer to the barge in tow, lost his footing and fell into the water. Assistance was offered him immediately, but he called back that he could swim. A bench was thrown overboard and a life-boat lowered, but Huston sank out of sight almost immediately.

"I belong to the buffaloes," confided the young man, with an air of mystery.

"Oh, I thought perhaps you belonged to the bears," commented the young lady, with a shy smile.

"The bears? I don't know what order that is."

"Why, bears, you know—bears—they—they—hug people, sometimes."

WIFE WENT TO CONEY FOR FUN.

Rode with Stranger and Jeered Husband Who Had a Razor.

Michael Glenroz, of 175 East Thirteenth Street, New York, got home Friday to find this loving message from his wife:

"Gone to Coney Island to have a good time."

Michael also went. Cora, his wife, he found dancing in a Surf Avenue pavilion. Home you go, said Michael.

For home they started. On their way to a car the Loop la Loop, Cora watched the car slide around until it was upside down.

Mike, I want to ride on that, she said. Can't afford it, answered her husband. A smooth-faced young fellow came forward.

"You ride with me. I've got plenty of dough," he told the young woman. Cora got in. Just as the car started her husband, leaping the barrier, followed. There were angry words as the car sped on. When the car had inverted itself Cora was delighted.

"This is what I call real living," she exclaimed, "it's so nice to stand on your head." Then, turning to her husband, "You're no good, you never have any money."

Michael drew a razor and slashed the woman's cheek. When he got to the ground the attendants held him, and one tried to dress the woman's cut with a mixture of his own which made things worse.

So Cora went to the hospital while Michael was locked up.

PASTOR WORKS IN TAILOR SHOP.

St. Paul Clergyman Accepts Employment to Prevent Church Amusements.

St. Paul, Minn., June 30—There is trouble in the Olivet Methodist Church, this city. The pastor, Rev. George Shaw, is in the employ of William F. Maehl. He has been working there two weeks. His average wage is about $3 a day. He has not given up his pastorate and does not intend to do so. The situation as described by himself is that, by refusing to accept money which is derived from church amusements, he cannot get enough money to eke out a living. It is, therefore, necessary for him to do outside work, and he naturally turned to tailoring in which craft he is well skilled.

During his course at Hamline university, which was completed this month, he made a partial living by tailoring for the students and Faculty of the school. Shaw is married. During the camp meeting at Red Rock, in which he is exceedingly interested, his employer allowed him to take his work from the shop in the morning and to do it during the day at spare moments. Mr. Shaw says he will continue to make his living as a tailor until such time as he can receive a salary in a straightforward way like any other professional man. The pastors of the city are closely watching what the outcome of Mr. Shaw's fight against church amusements will be.

English papers are devoting a good deal of space of the visit of Hon. Sydney Fisher to Great Britain. The St. James's Gazette describes him as acting as a sort of "glorified" commercial traveller for Canada, and expresses the opinion that the Agricultural Department of the Imperial Government might copy with advantage many of the methods of the Canadian Department.
