SO GOES THE WORLD.

Laugh and the world laughs with you;
Weep, and you weep alone.
For this brave old earth must borrow its mirth;

It has trouble nough of its own,
Sing, and the hills will answer;
Sigh, it is lost on the air;
The echoes bound to a joyful sound,
But shrink from a voicing care.

Rejoice, and men will seek you;
Grieve, and they turn and go;
They want full measure of all your pleasure,

But they do not want you woe.
Be glad, and your friends are many;
Be sad, and you lose them all;
There are none to decline your nectared
wine,
But alone you must drink life's gall.

Feast, and your halls are crowded;
Fast, and the world goes by;
Succeed and give, and it helps you live,
But no man can help you die.
There is room in the halls of pleasure
For a long and lordly train;
But one by one we must all file on
Through the narrow isles of pain.
—Col. John A. Joyce.
