Appreciative Words.

The Fredericton Herald, after only one day's suspension as a result of Thursday's fire, made its reappearance Friday evening, as bright and new as ever. It takes more than a baptism of fire and water to put the Herald out of the race. —St John Globe.

Instantly Killed.

A. S. Hay, son of Hon John Hay, United States Secretary of State, and late U. S. Consul at Pretoria, fell 60 feet from a hotel window at New Haven, Saturday night, to the pavement below and was instantly killed. It is believed to have been an accident. Young Hay had just arrived to attend Yale University convocation.

All Go Free.

Both lay and ministerial delegates to the Methodist Conference now in session at Marysville, are allowed the privilege of travelling free on all trains running between Marysville and this city during the life of the Conference. It is needless to say that the kindness of Mr. Gibson in granting this concession is greatly appreciated by the delegates.

Dr Parkin Commended.

Says the Toronto Globe editorially: There can be no doubt that Dr Parkin is admirably fitted for the position which he holds as principal of Upper Canada College. His kindness, his earnestness, his deep sense of duty, give him a powerful influence over the boys, and the spirit that permeates the institution is manly, generous and honorable.

A Draw Game.

The base ball match at Marysville on Saturday afternoon between the Bankers of this city and the Marysville nine resulted in a draw. Five innings were played and at the close the score stood 8 to 8. The Bankers are confident that they can down the boys from the Nashwaak town, and are anxious to play them a return match in this city on the morning of July 1st.

Died at New York.

Mrs. Eliza Bird, aunt of Premier Tweedie, died at New York, June 8. The deceased lady was the daughter of Rev. John McGeary, who was the first missionary sent from England by the Wesleyans to the colony of Newfoundland. He remained in the work there for several years, and then returning with his family to Canada, bound to Quebec, they suffered shipwreck and took up their residence in Prince Edward Island, where Mr. McGeary died.

Adjourned the Court.

The York circuit court was adjourned by Chief Justice Tuck on Saturday until the 19th of November. The trial of the suit of Swim vs Kelly, which engaged the attention of the court for three days, is not yet finished. One witness in this case was on the stand a day and a half and consumed so much time in answering the question addressed to him by the counsel that the learned Chief Justice was constrained to ask if he had ever heard of cold molasses. The witness, however, did not seem to take the hint.

LOCKED THE MINISTER OUT.

He Was Opposed to Dancing at a Tea Meeting.

There was an interesting matter in the Nova Scotia Methodist Conference at Lunenburg Thursday afternoon. Five trustees of the North East Harbor Church notified the Conference by letter that they had locked the door of the church against Rev J. A. Smith, the minister there during the past year, because he had insulted the trustees. They wanted another man or they would get a minister from some other body.

Mr Smith explained as follows: At the annual tea meeting under the direction of the trustees they had introduced dancing at the close. Mr Smith had taken strong exception to the course and hence his enemies.

The trustees will be notified that they have no power to lock the church against the minister. Mr. Smith was fully justified by the conference and the action of the trustees was strongly condemned.

It is understood that none of the trustees concerned are members of the Methodist Church.

The London Belles.

The London Belles were notified at Eastport by wire on Saturday that Mayor Crockett had refused to grant them the use of the Opera House for the performance advertised to take place this evening. The company was expected in on the Western train today, but failed to show up, and the supposition is that they have cancelled their engagement here.

Manager Calder has orders not to open the Opera House to the company should they put in an appearance.

At the morning service in St Dunstan's Church yesterday, Rev Father Carney, commended Mayor Crockett for the action he had taken in regard to the London Belles, and counselled his hearers against patronizing plays of a questionable character.

Enjoyed Themselves.

The members of the Methodist conference and their friends, to the number of 150, were hospitably entertained by Mr. Gibson at his farm at Penniac on Saturday afternoon. A special train in charge of Conductor Sterling left Marysville with the party at 1.30 o'clock, and returned with them at five o'clock. During their sojourn in the country the guests were treated to ice cream, fruit and cake, and Mr. Gibson, who accompanied the party, did all in his power to make the outing an enjoyable one. Upon disembarking from the train, after the return to Marysville, the members of the conference joined in three hearty cheers and a tiger for the lumber king, as an evidence of their appreciation of his kindness.

Death at Royal Road.

Mrs. Bridget Nealis widow of the late Patrick Nealis, died at the home of her son William Nealis, at Royal Road on Friday at the ripe old age of 92 years. The deceased was a native of the Emerald Isle, but had been a resident of this country for many years. She leaves a family of two sons, William of Royal Road and Patrick of this city, and one daughter, Mrs. Moses Brown of Boston. The funeral took place at two o'clock Sunday afternoon and was quite largely attended. The remains were brought to the city and interred in the Hermitage. Services were conducted at St. Dunstan's church by Rev Father Carney. J. D. Hanlon was funeral director.

Bicycle Thief Caught.

A young man named Edward Crossin, but who has a number of aliases, was arrested in St John on Friday, on charge of stealing a bicycle belonging to James Green from Parson's Hotel in this city. He escaped from the officers at the police station, but was recaptured later in the day in a house on Brittain Street. The stolen bicycle, a Red Bird, is now in the possession of the St John police. Crossin will be brought to Fredericton for trial and will probably arrive tomorrow evening.

Lumbering Notes.

The recent rain fall has had little effect upon the water in the river, and though a slight rise is likely to occur, it will not be sufficient to bring out the stranded lumber drives. A despatch from Edmundston states that there was a slight shower at that place on Friday afternoon, but there has been no rain since.

John Kilburn has paid off and discharged his men, and abandoned his drive of nine millions above Seven Islands.

The corporation drive is now below Wheeler's Island, and will likely reach the limits by Tuesday night.

A Mr Carrie of Tobique, arrived at Springhill on Sunday with a raft of spruce and hemlock logs for Hilyard Bros. He left home a week ago, but was delayed by head winds.

Prisoner of Zenda.

The mere announcement that "The Prisoner of Zenda" will be produced at the Opera House on Thursday, June 27th by Shipman Brothers' Company of well known artists ought, to be sufficient to pack the house. If there is a man or woman in this city who has not read Anthony Howe's famous novel, we should like to hear from them. This will likely be the last opportunity for some time to witness one of the greatest successes in theatrical annals. Shipman Brothers', who secured the sole rights for the eastern States from Mr. Daniel Frohman, will withdraw "The Prisoner of Zenda" at the close of this season and next season make an equally lavish production of the sequel "Rupert of Hentzau."—d.
