Much Improved.

F. E. Blackmer the popular jeweller, has made some attractive improvements in his store which will immediately attract visitors' attention. A new hardwood floor has been laid, the walls have been neatly papered, a handsome border included, and the woodwork generally brightened up. Mr. Blackmer has the nearest shop of the kind in the city, and is doing a thriving trade.

A Successful Season.

The Fredericton curlers have done great work in their foreign games this season, winning all they played with one exception. They defeated St. Andrews twice, St. Stephen twice, and Hampton, Campbellton, Moncton, and the Thistles once each, and were once beaten by the Thistles. The record stands: games won 8, lost 1. No wonder the boys are putting on considerable airs.

Another Nova Scotia Tragedy.

On Monday, two young men, Henry Keay and Thomas Carey, went to Guysboro from St. Francis, and in the afternoon when returning home called at the house of John O'Connor, three miles from Guysboro town. Edward O'Connor came over from his mother's house, which is a short distance from the opposite side of the road. After a short stay, Keay and Carey left in their wagon, and Edward O'Connor went with them up the road. Later in the afternoon O'Connor was found on the side of the road near Milford Haven bridge, with his skull badly fractured and blood apparent. He was carried into the store of Thomas MacDonald, and a messenger went to town for Doctors Buckley and Elliott, but they could do nothing for the injured man, and he died Tuesday afternoon. One theory is that drinking had been going on.

Yes Shakespere was right, for "tis pity," there should be such a slaughter of beautiful silks tomorrow at Edgecombe's. What wonderful prices these shimmering fabrics they would have fetched in his days. But then things move faster in these later days, and the goods have been marked to go, no matter what loss is entailed to the seller. Tomorrow's faction will undoubtedly be a great social success.—d.

Three rinks of sturdy Moncton curlers, chaperoned by the redoubtable Ned Allen, now a popular resident of the railway city, blew into Fredericton last night and were taken into camp by the home players, who met the men from "the Bend" on the ice for the first time.

The game commenced at 8.30 and was through at midnight, Fredericton winning by a majority of 25 points. There was a large attendance of spectators, among them many ladies, a number of whom seemed to be looking for Jimmy Cook, one of the unmarried visitors.

Mr. Speaker Robinson, Mr. Copp and Mr. Humphrey, M. P. P's for Westmorland, watched the game their constituents were putting up with great interest.

At the close of the match the visitors were entertained by the home club to luncheon at the rink, and a round of toasts and speeches followed.

The Moncton men who are still here, and leave for home this evening, are much pleased with their trip, and speak in praise of the hospitable manner in which they have been treated by their Fredericton brethren.

TURNED HIM DOWN.

Bourassa's Pro-Boer Resolution Defeated in House of Commons

BY A VOTE OF 144 TO 3.

Premier Made an Eloquent Speech Against the Motion.

Ottawa, Mar. 12.—The debate on Mr. Bourassa's motion on the war in South Africa was listened to by filled galleries today.

Mr. Bourassa spoke for about two hours and a half and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who followed, completely disposed of every contention that Mr. Bourassa had set up. In fact he showed the member for La-belle to be in a ridiculous position.

Mr. Bourassa, in his opening remarks, made reference to the various views expressed by the press with respect to himself. He said that in Ontario, he was denounced as a demagogue desirous of raising racial questions in Canada. In Quebec, a section of the press denounced him as a dangerous British imperialist. Dismissing both with a few words, he proceeded to again assert his determination to stand against Canada being thrown into war by order-in-council.

While taking that stand, he argued that Canada, having contributed money and men to the South African war, the dominion had a right to express an opinion upon the settlement of the war.

He also protested against the recruiting of the Baden Powell police for here, saying efficient recruits could not be secured in England, and New Zealand had refused to allow recruiting there. He thought it was time to put a stop to the speculations of Sir Alfred Milner and Mr. Joseph Chamberlain upon the naivete of Canadians.

Mr. Bourassa then branched out into a general denunciation of Imperialism which, the greater it grew, the less respect it showed for liberty and toleration. He said the colonial pride manifested in regard to Imperialism recalled the decadent years of Rome. He then devoted his attention to Mr. Chamberlain, the colonial secretary. He quoted the answers given him in parliament on the 4th of June, 1900, and on the 18th February, 1901, by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in which it was stated that no members of the Canadian government had offered any advice or suggestions in regard to the settlement of the war.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied to Bourassa, calling on the House to vote down the resolution. The Premier's speech will appear in the Herald tomorrow.

The discussion was continued by Charlton, Hughes and Borden of Halifax, and on a division being called it was voted down, 144 to 3. The minority consisted of Bourassa, Monet and Angers.

When the vote had been declared the members arose to their seats with the exception of Bourassa, Monet and Angers, and sang lustily "God Save the King."

MONCTON DEFEATED.

Fredericton Curlers Added Another to Their Long List of Victories.

Trouble With Doukhobors. (Special to the Daily Herald.)

Winnipeg, March 13.—The Doukhobors whom the Dominion Government brought to Canada at a great expense and gave them homesteads in Manitoba have revolted against the laws and usages of the country. They have addressed an appeal to all nations of the earth protesting in the name of God against the alleged tyranny of the government.

They declare that no country has the right to dictate in matters of marriage, births or allotment of lands. They believe in free love and since God knows who is born and who there is, there is no necessity to register in the public records. They say the land of the world belongs to God, not to man, and God's children have a right to it without interference from the government.

A Big Shoe Purchase. (Special to Daily Herald.)

Mr. M. Fickler, of the downtown departmental store, spent yesterday p.m. and this forenoon with Manager Savage, of the Hart Boot & Shoe Company's sales room. When these two gentlemen separated Mr. Savage had sold to Mr. Fickler 854 pairs of Hart boots and Oxfords for men, women, boys and children. These goods are the over production of our Fredericton factory, and as it is near inventory times with them they have cleared out this lot at a special discount. Mr. Fickler says that this is the biggest and best bargain he ever made with one firm at one time. This is a good chance for our citizens to procure some good spring footwear at a very low price from the best goods produced in Canada. The sale begins on Saturday, March 16th.

Objection to the Chaplain. "I thought she said she wouldn't go to the service with her aunt this summer because she latter insisted upon making her wear a loose and baggy bathing suit." "She did, but she has changed her mind. She has evolved a great scheme, you know."

"What?" "Well, her bathing suit is to be made baggy and loose enough, but she has selected a material that is warranted to shrink."

No Objection to His Part. Tired of seeing him hanging about the neighborhood the citizens organized an amateur vigilance committee and proceeded to ride him out of town on a rail. "Now, you pestiferous old vagabond," said the leader, "do you think you'll stay away from this part of the country after this?" "Yes," replied Tufford Knutt from his precarious perch on the rail, "if you carry me far enough away."
