THE LATE MR. MCCLURE.

The death of Mr. Firman McClure, ex-M. P. of Truro, removes one of the most prominent young men of the Maritime Provinces, and a highly esteemed member of the Liberal party. Mr. McClure, amid many handicaps made his way in a few years to a prominent position in his party, and there was undoubtedly a bright future in store for him.

Born in humble circumstances without the aid of means or influential family connections, he secured for himself a liberal education, was called to the bar, and distinguished himself in law, journalism and politics. He represented Colchester in both the local and federal Parliaments for short terms, and made his mark as a public speaker.

For many years Colchester had been represented at Ottawa by conservatives but in the bye election of 1897, he redeemed the constituency after having been defeated in the general election of 1896.

Mr. McClure was a prominent temperance man and prohibitionist, and gave much time on the platform and in the press towards helping along the cause. He was only 41 years old, and sincere regret will be felt all over Canada that so promising a career was cut short by death.

ANDREW CARNEGIE.

The multi-millionaire philanthropist, Andrew Carnegie, who is now enjoying a holiday in his native Scotland, was born at Dumfries in 1837, the son of a laborer. He came to the United States in 1848, when eleven years old, and his first job was that of a bobbin boy in a cotton factory; next he ran a stationary engine at $1.20 per week, then he served as a telegraph messenger at $2.50 per week, next as a telegraph operator with the Pennsylvania Railway Company, rising in thirteen years to the position of division superintendent. His first investment was in sleeping cars, the Civil War came and he went to the battle fields in charge of the telegraph lines. After the war he invested in oil wells, buying a farm for $40,000 which when the oil industry on it was developed, advanced in value to $50,000. From this Mr. Carnegie went into the iron and steel business at Pittsburg, and in a few years controlled the trade, heaping up riches until he is now estimated to be worth $250,000,000. His contributions to charity total over $20,000,000 and he has only commenced to give.

Such in brief the life story of a man who started without means, and is now one of the wealthiest and most talked of personages in the world.

It has leaked out that some three years ago a British syndicate, headed by Baron Rothschild, obtained enormous concessions of coal, iron and petroleum lands in China, embracing an area of some 71,000 square miles, in Shansi and Honan. The region is said to contain a quantity of the products named sufficient to supply the world for more than a thousand years at the present rate of consumption. The correspondent of a New York paper declares that by this deal Britain "has secured the very heart of the real wealth of China, and is preparing to drive all competition to destruction by her monopoly of thousands and thousands of miles of coal, etc., which the cheap labor of China is to turn against all rivals."

If any of our citizens are thinking of inviting the Duke and Duchess of York and their suite to tea during their visit to Fredericton, the table will have to be an extensive one. Their Royal Highnesses are accompanied in their colonial tour by Lady Mary Lyon, Lady Catherine Coke, the Hon. Mrs. Derek Keppel, Capt. Lord Wenlock, Prince Alexander of Teck, Lt. Col. Sir Arthur Bigge, Sir Charles Cost, R. N., Major the Hon. Derek Keppel, Sir Donald Mackenzie Wallace, B. Godfrey Faurest, R. N., Capt. the Lord Orlington, the Duke of Roxburgh, Major James Bor, M. R. A., Mr. J. Anderson, of the Colonial Office, Dr. Manley, Mr. Sydney Hall, Chevalier E. de Martino and Col. Byron.

So far as we can see, Mr. Cook has not proved that Mr. Cameron was acting on instructions of any member of the government. Undoubtedly Mr. Cameron professed to have the authority of Sir Richard Cartwright, but Sir Richard makes a categorical denial.—Sun. And thus we have the reluctant Tory admission of the total collapse of the Cook charges, that the government of Canada offered to sell Cook a senatorship.

The Sun's fault finding with the government because no New Brunswickers were given commissions in the South African constabulary, is answered by Hon. Dr. Borden, minister of militia, who says that while the work or recruiting for the South African constabulary was under the direction and control of the imperial authorities, the Dominion government was in no way responsible for the appointment of the officers. The machinery of the militia department was simply utilized by them to expedite the work.

Mr. Black's newspaper usually keeps the public accurately informed of that gentleman's movements, but it seems to have lost interest in his present trip. Some weeks ago the organ announced that Mr. Black had left for England on professional business, but his arrival on the other side has not yet been chronicled in his newspaper. We sincerely trust that no mishap has befallen the secretary treasurer, but that he has reached the old country and is enjoying his trip.

If the Canada Eastern Railway passes into the hands of the government, and the projected lines of railway are built from St. John to Fredericton, and from this city to Woodstock, Fredericton will be the chief railway centre of the province.

If the friends of sewerage were defeated in the plebiscite, the city has a mayor and council that are evidently alive to the necessity of improved sanitation. The sewerage system is bound to come, possibly next year.

The Herald owes an apology to Dr. Drummond. The types made us say he was 57 years old, when as a matter of fact he is only 41. The Doctor declares that he does not want to lose those sixteen years.

The government proposes handsome treatment for the University of New Brunswick, a vote that will put the old institution on its feet and keep it well in advance.

Who would care to believe H. H. Cook in preference to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright?

March is giving a vigorous kick before resigning into the hands of gentle spring.

The troopship Montfort with the Canadians for the South African constabulary on board, weighed anchor at noon Friday at Halifax, and decorated with flags and bunting, steamed slowly down the harbor tooting her steam whistle, which was answered from all sides by steamers in port. Crowds gathered at heads of wharves as the troopship passed and shouted and waved farewell to the soldiers who cheered in reply.

LOCAL LEGISLATURE

Bill to Renew Charter of Grand Falls Co. Under Discussion.

SOME MEMBERS OBJECT TO ITS PASSAGE AND IT IS STOOD OVER.

Privileges for Graduates of St. John Law School.

The house went into committee Friday on the bill renewing the act of incorporation of the Grand Falls Water Power Co. Mr. Laforest wished to know who was promoting this bill, and why application was made to this legislature for the renewal of their charter.

Mr. Porter said that the charter was about expiring, and the company having intention of going on with this work wished the charter renewed.

Mr. Laforest said the company had done nothing, and had not manifested any intention of doing anything. The people of Madawaska and Victoria desired to see this power developed. We are keeping back our country by giving franchises to companies for simply blocking up.

Mr. Osman said the company were required to expend at least $250,000 within three years, otherwise the act would be void. That was sufficient penalty.

Mr. Hazen said this company asks for an act of incorporation, and instead of bringing in a proper bill they ask us to re-enact legislation passed by the parliament of Canada six years ago. They got legislation on the understanding that they would go on with their work. They have done nothing, and they have prevented any one else from doing anything. Water powers are now becoming of almost priceless value, and no one should be allowed to use them for speculative purposes.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley said that he had been furnished by Mr. McLean with information that the company intended to go on. He had a telegram to that effect from Senator Proctor, who is largely engaged in pulp mills. Another member of the company is Sir William VanHorne, who had spoken of the possibilities of Grand Falls. It was absurd to suppose that VanHorne would become interested in this property for the purpose of selling it. Mr. McLean had plans for a large mechanical pulp mill. These plans would cost $20,000. The company had also purchased for $5,000 a half interest in a property there. Is it worth while denying these gentlemen a renewal unless some other persons are ready to take hold? The works proposed at Grand Falls will cost $3,000,000, a sum not easily raised. The owners of this charter are large owners of the pulp mills at Grand Mere in Quebec. They are trying new machinery and the delay is to test it. All we are asked is to re-enact the dominion act so far as it can be done by this legislature.

Hon. Mr. Hill thought that this was not a good form of legislation. It would be better to withdraw this bill and introduce an ordinary act of incorporation. No doubt the legislature would be willing to incorporate the company.

Mr. Lawson was sorry that the premier was not present, for he remembered when a company sought incorporation which had for its object the locking up of rivers, Mr. Tweedie took strong grounds against it. This bill goes very much further and controls a far more valuable franchise. This company held this power for six years and did nothing. Should we give them three years longer in which to peddle this valuable franchise? Legislation of this nature is calculated to lock up the privileges for three years longer for the purposes of speculation.

Mr. Porter said the company had not speculated with its charter. The work has not progressed, but other companies were in the way, and this company had to buy them out. If other companies wanted the franchise why are they not here to take over the powers.

The question was further discussed by Messrs Hazen, Pugsley and Hill, and at the suggestion of Mr. Hazen the bill was referred back to the corporations committee, where counsel for the company might be heard and the matter more fully considered.

The house went into committee on bill 69. Hon. Mr. Pugsley said a law school has been maintained in St. John in connection with Kings college, Windsor. Legal gentlemen give of their ability and time free of charge to that school, and it is possible for a law student to obtain a complete training at that institution. At the end of three years, if the candidate has passed all examinations, he is given the degree of bachelor of civil law. It has been thought desirable that graduates should be admitted attorneys without further examinations. This bill has the unanimous approval of the council of the Barristers' society and also of the law committee. There is nothing to compel students to attend the law school, but the bill simply gives its graduates the privilege and advantage of being admitted as attorneys of law without further examination. If at any time a law school should be established at the U. N. B. the same privileges are extended to its graduates as to the graduates of the law school at St. John.

Mr. Copp suggested that the bill should apply to Mount Allison university, which should be placed upon an equal footing with the University of N. B.

After some discussion the section relating to the University of New Brunswick was struck out and the bill adopted. House adjourned.

Always the Best.

Lucy & Co., wish to inform the public that they handle nothing but first class goods. Their stock is the cheapest because it is the best. Manufacturers usually have a large supply of inferior goods, the result of errors, inferior workmanship or some other such cause. These they frequently offer to at a nominal price but we do not think them fit for our customers. Lucy & Co. don't deal in such goods. They annually return hundreds of pairs of boots and shoes which are not up to the samples. They retain the best only. Their goods are the cheapest because they are the best. Deal with Lucy & Co.—d.

TALK OF THE STREET

Devoted to Financial Affairs of a Well Known Legal Firm.

LIABILITIES SAID TO BE QUITE HEAVY.

Two of The Concern Absent From the City.

PROPERTY MADE OVER BY BILLS OF SALE.

The financial affairs of the law firm of Black, Bliss & Neale are causing a great deal of talk about the city, and some rather sensational developments are looked for. Their liabilities are said to reach a large amount, and those who have knowledge of the firm's affairs declare that the available assets are small.

Mr. John Black, the head of the firm, who is also secretary-treasurer of the Municipality of York, left here a few weeks ago, and it was announced at the time that he was going to England on professional business, but his business associates have not heard from him recently.

Mr. Fred St. John Bliss, another member of the firm, is quite ill at his home in this city, and is said to be much worried over the firm's affairs. Mr. Neale, the junior member who attended principally to the firm's insurance business, has not been seen about the city today, and there is a report in circulation that he has gone to Boston.

Before leaving the city Mr. Black gave a bill of sale of his furniture and other personal effects to J. D. Hazen, M. P. P., as security for a claim of some $1,200. Mr. Bliss has also given a bill of sale for his furniture, books, etc., to M. G. Teed of Dorchester, as security for a claim of $1,250.

Mr. Black represented the county of York in the local legislature from 1895 to 1899, and was the chief financial critic of the government and chief lieutenant to Dr. Stockton. He was a candidate for reelection in the general election of 1899, but was defeated, and his friends claim that his party succeeded in defeating the government he would have been appointed provincial secretary and treasurer. Several banking institutions are said to be interested in the firm's affairs to quite a large extent, and it is also said that the list of creditors include several municipal and ex-municipal councillors.
