Lack of Snow.

A lumberman from the Miramichi reports that the snow in that section this winter has been practically nil. There is even much less than in the vicinity of Fredericton.

May Be Interesting.

A well known carriage maker has lodged a complaint with the police magistrate, charging a King street grocer for assault. The case is to come up for trial at the police court on Tuesday.

Sporting Notes

The St. John Thistle Curling Club have decided to build a new rink and one third of the necessary capital has already been subscribed.

Fred Yapp, who pitched for the St. John Alers base ball team last season has signed with the American League of Boston.

A Coming Event.

The opera house has been engaged for April 10 for an entertainment that promises to be of a most interesting nature. Two of the leading drawing cards will be a bell drill by a number of young ladies, under the instruction of Prof. Cadwallader, and a flag drill which is now being prepared by Sergeant Brewer.

The Coal and Railway Company.

Among the members of the company incorporated to build a railway from Chipman to Gibson and to develop the Grand Lake coal areas, are E. Byron Winslow and Willard Kitchen of this city, A. P. Barnhill of St. John, Ernest Hutchinson and C. A. C. Bruce of Miramichi and R. A. Irving of Kent. The capital stock of the company is to be $100,000. The bill of incorporation has passed the legislature, and the company is to be known as the New Brunswick Coal and Railway Company.

Killed His Children.

Devil's Lake, N. D., March 30.—Emil Zagerlin, a well-to-do farmer, living eight miles northwest of this town, killed his three children and stabbed himself to death yesterday.

He went to the barn accompanied by two little daughters, aged seven and five. As he did not come to dinner his eldest daughter, aged nine, was sent to call him. It is thought that before she reached the barn her father had killed the others and immediately killed her. Zagerlin was sent to the asylum about 10 years ago, but was soon allowed to return home, apparently fully recovered.

A Rare Treat.

Dr. Drummond's recital drew a full house last evening. The large audience doubtless expected a rare treat and now that the event has passed, nothing but favorable comments are heard on every hand. To those who have lived among the French population in Dr. Drummond recalled many instances in their own experience. The poet rendered his selections in an easy conversational manner, made hosts of friends for himself and awakened ed a deep interest in the Habitant. The college glee club delighted the audience with two of the choruses.

REMEMBERED BY FRIENDS.

A Pleasant and Successful Donations Party for a Worthy Clergyman.

About one hundred and fifty people of Stanley and the surrounding communities, representing five different denominations, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Griffiths, Limekiln, on Tuesday evening, March 26th. Mr. Griffiths new residence was entirely at the disposal of the visitors, so that, though the company was large, there was ample room, with opportunity for playing games, etc., and for those who preferred quiet, there were comfortable corners where older ones indulged in happy reminiscences, and younger ones enjoyed a tete-a-tete.

In the kitchen and dining-room there was constant bustle, for many had brought heavy-laden baskets anticipating the effects of a bracing drive. The aroma of hot tea and coffee assured guests that every preparation was being made to meet the longings of the inner man, and not until the last one of the company had feasted did the rattle of dishes cease.

Music was one of the prominent features of the evening. Miss Mandie Griffiths and Miss Lavinia McNatt presided at the piano, accompanied by Clarence Sansom, the violinist of Stanley, and at times the choruses of voices that joined with the instruments was sufficient to make the entire building vibrate with the melodious sounds.

While the company were thus enjoying themselves the teams were not compelled to shiver in the cold. Mr. Griffiths had made such provision that only two teams failed to find stable room and these were otherwise specially cared for.

Before the company broke up the real intent of the gathering became known. Leslie White, accompanied by the generous hostess of the evening, passed with plates, pencil and note-book and the generous sum of seventy dollars was soon in their hands, showing the enthusiasm of the gathering.

Rev. Mr. Bayley was then called for ward and Major Howe, chosen spokesman of the company, in his happy and matchless manner presented the amount to the Reverend gentleman as an expression of the esteem and regard in which he was held by those who had come together and had thus so generously contributed. Mr. Bayley replied in a fitting and appropriate manner.

The company broke up after having spent a pleasant and profitable evening—profitable to one of the company, at least.

The thanks of the entire company is due Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths for the generous way in which they opened their home, and for the matchless manner in which they acted as host and hostess of the evening. Every one says, if you want a warm welcome and a good time go to Mr. Griffiths on a donation evening.

Public Accounts.

The public accounts committee of the legislature held a meeting this morning, and transacted considerable business. The accounts in connection with the recent small pox outbreak were examined into and explained by Premier Tweedie and Mr. Babbitt. Mr. Winslow was also present and gave information regarding expenditure on bridge.

A Case of Theft.

A young man belonging to a respectable family, who has lately been employed at the dairy depot, was arrested by Police Sergeant Phillips this morning, on a charge of theft. He was arraigned before Col. Marsh at the police court and remanded to jail until Tuesday.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Just a Quorum Present at the First Meeting of the new Board.

CIVIC ESTIMATES FOR THE ENSUING YEAR ADOPTED.

Letter From Tourist Association Brings on Discussion

A GRANT OF $300 ASKED FOR TO ASSIST IN ADVERTISING THE CITY.

There was just a quorum present at the special meeting of the city council last evening to ratify the assessment for the ensuing year. His Worship Mayor Crockett was in the chair, and the aldermen present were Messrs Farrell, Merrithew, McNally, Vannart, Moore and Rossborough.

After stating the object of the meeting the mayor read the following communication:—

March 29th, 1901.

To His Worship the Mayor of Fredericton:

The Fredericton Tourist Association propose to issue a special edition of the Fredericton book for distribution at the Pan-American Exposition, to be held at Buffalo during the coming summer. It is estimated that the expense in connection therewith will amount to from $1,000 to $1,200. The city council is hereby respectfully requested to grant the sum of three hundred dollars ($300) to assist in defraying the same.

Yours Very Truly,
(Sgd) C. FRED CHESNUT,
President.

The city clerk in reply to Ald. McNally stated that the question involved was one relating to the assessment, and was therefore open for discussion by the meeting.

Ald. McNally said he was sure the object for which the grant was sought was a very worthy one and should commend itself to the favorable consideration of the council. The amount asked for was not large, and he was certain that the city derived great benefit from the work done by the association. The council had in the past aided the association to the extent of $550, of which amount $250 had been granted in 1897, $150 in 1898 and a similar amount in 1899. Last year the association had received no grant and the amount asked for this year was $300. The association had already gone to considerable expense this year in sending a representative to the Chicago Sportsmen's show. Their literature distributed at the show had been eagerly sought after, and he felt sure the result would be beneficial to Fredericton and to New Brunswick. He thought the opportunity to do some advertising at the Pan-American exposition would be an excellent one and we are pleased to know that the Tourist Association was to take advantage of it. He understood that the St. John council gave a grant of $500 to the Tourist Association of that city, and the Local Government had this year set aside $2,000, to encourage tourist travel, but it was not yet known what proportion Fredericton was to receive. He thought evidence of the good work being done by the Fredericton association was to be found in the increased number of strangers who visit the parliament buildings each season. In 1896 the number was only 500, against 3,500 for the year 1900. The great increase in the receipts from the sale of game licenses was also a large extent due to the efforts put forth by the Tourist Association of the province. He hoped the request of the Fredericton Association would be complied with.

Ald. Farrell said he did not wish to shut out Ald. McNally, but he thought the proper time to move in the matter was when the item for contingencies came up. As there had been nothing on the notice paper in reference to it, it might be as well to wait for a full board before taking action.

It was agreed to go on and pass the item of assessment and this was accordingly done. The whole amount ordered was $55,900, as already published in the Herald.

When the item for contingencies was reached Ald. McNally suggested that the amount asked for by the Tourist Association be added to it.

Ald. Moore thought the matter should lay over for a full board.

Ald. Merrithew was in favor of a grant, but he thought it could be provided from the contingent fund already voted.

Ald. Farrell thought that inasmuch as the total amount of the assessment had been freely circulated, he did not think it would be advisable to increase it. He believed when the proper time came the council would consider favorably the proposition made by the Fredericton Tourist association. He believed, however that a grant could be made without increasing the assessment.

Ald. McNally agreed with Ald. Farrell that the grant if made should come out of the amount already set aside for contingencies.

Ald. Rossborough was strongly in favor of the grant being made. The Tourist Association had sent thousands of their books abroad and he believed the result had been of great benefit to the city. It looked to him as if some of the aldermen were putting up a game of bluff and had no notion of voting for the grant. He thought the matter should be disposed of at once.

Ald. Farrell, regretted that Ald. Rossborough could not give expression to his views without intimating that other aldermen were bluffing. He did not think there was any necessity for remarks of that kind at this early stage of the aldermanic year. He (Farrell) was sincere in what he said in regard to the $8,000 set aside for contingencies being sufficient for all purposes. He was sure that the men applying for the grant had no other object than to advance the interests of the city, and he was sure that tourist travel to Fredericton had increased as a result of their efforts. He had no doubt but what the council would do what was right by the association.

Ald. Rossborough claimed that it was customary to put items of that kind in the assessment. He had no reason to doubt Ald. Farrell's word, but there was another alderman present who was trying to shift the matter off.

The matter then dropped, with the understanding that if a grant were made at a future meeting it would come out of the contingent fund.

The remaining items of the assessment were read over and adopted, after which the council adjourned. It was understood that the appointment of committees would be notified at the regular meeting next Tuesday.

The new mayor acquitted himself like an old hand at the business and made a most favorable impression.

BISHOP CASEY ENTHRONED.

Short But Impressive Service Friday Afternoon.

The enthronement of Bishop Casey took place at the Cathedral at St. John Friday afternoon. The ceremony was short, but very impressive. Bishop Casey wearing cope and mitre of gold, also with crozier and carrying the papal bull of his appointment, came to the foot of the altar, attended by Archbishop Bruchet, of Montreal, and Bishop Blais of Rimouski, all the priests being present in the sanctuary. Having ascended and kissed the altar, Bishop Casey was escorted by hand to the throne where he received fealty of the priests of his diocese, this being done by kissing his ring. While this was in progress the choir of priests sang the grand Te Deum. The special chapters were Rev. Fathers Cormier, Robichaud and Legere. As a tacit assumption of the position of head of the diocese, Bishop Casey ascended the pulpit. The ceremony concluded with the bestowing of the blessing of the bishop upon the congregation. After the service hundreds of the people were received by Bishop Casey in the vestry of the church and received his blessing.

Riddled With Bullets.
(Special to the Daily Herald.)
Montreal, March 30.—John Knox of Quebec, who was lynched by a mob at Seranton, Mississippi, three weeks ago, was not hanged, but riddled with bullets.

A Southerner who witnessed the murder, is visiting here, and informs the relatives of the dead Canadian that just as the noose was about to be thrown over the victim he broke away from the hands and climbed a tree, but a volley of bullets followed him, and he fell to the ground dead. Priests who came to prepare Knox for death were roughly thrown aside. The trial of the murderers will be a farce, as the witnesses are afraid to swear to the truth.

DECISION IN DELPIT MARRIAGE CASE HOLDS

Contract was Binding—Burned to Death in Tenement House.

Decision in Delpit Case.

(Special to Daily Herald.)

Montreal, March 30.—Judge Archibald in the superior court this morning, gave his decision in the Delpit case, in which he holds that marriage in the province of Quebec is a civil contract and the fact that two Roman Catholics were united by a Protestant minister, does not affect the law.

It will be remembered that Delpit was the former secretary to Lieutenant Governor Jette, and after he had lived seven years with his wife, and three children had been born to them Delpit claimed that the marriage was illegal because the ceremony was performed by a Protestant clergyman.

He appealed to Rome for annulment of the marriage, and it was granted.

This is the first instance where civil and ecclesiastical law in Quebec have come into conflict.
