

SAID BY THE LITTLE ONES.

Some Bright Things Culled From the Talk of Youngsters.

A little fellow of 5 was quite sick and his mother said, "Here, Willie, take this powder the doctor left for you."
"Powder," exclaimed the small invalid, "why, mamma, I'm not a gun!"

Neighbor—I saw the doctor at your door this morning. Is any one sick?
Nellie (aged 5)—Yes'm. Papa's got the exclamation-rheumatism.
Neighbor—Oh, no. You mean inflammatory rheumatism.
Nellie—Well, anyway, he just hollers all the time.

There are organists and organists. The organist of the church was a guest of little Margie's father, and at dinner she said to him, "Do you play an organ?"
"Yes, my dear," was the reply.
"Then," gravely inquired the little miss, "where's your monkey?"

Johnny—Tommy Smith's mother makes him go to Sunday school every Sunday.
Johnny's Mamma—Why do you say she makes him go?
Johnny—"Cause he goes."

Little Edith had been very sick, but was convalescent. Waking up suddenly and finding a strange lady at her bedside she asked, "Are you the doctor?"
"No, dear," replied the lady, "I'm your trained nurse."
"Oh," exclaimed Edith, pointing to a cage hanging near the window, "trained nurse, let me introduce you to my trained canary!"

Clarence, aged 5, had been severely chastised by his parents for disobedience, and the next day, without saying a word to any one, he called at the office of the family legal adviser, who happened to be a particular friend of the little fellow's.
"Well, Clarence," said the man of the law, after shaking hands, "what can I do for you?"
"Please, Mr. Brown," replied Clarence gravely, "I want to get a divorce from our family."—Chicago News.

Flooded.

The orator was speaking in fervent tones. He was absorbing the atmosphere and turning it loose weighted with golden thoughts.

"What man is there who has not felt a thrill of pride in flaunting the gladness of the whole world that the American woman is the gentlest and most divine creature that ever delighted the waste places of the masculine heart?"
"Me," came a voice from the audience.
"My wife's just moving into a new flat." For a moment the orator was stunned. Then he slunk back, for he realized he had been flooded.—Denver Times.

The Disagreeable Man.

"Do you think the face an index to the mind?" asked the prosy boarder.
"Well," said the savage bachelor, "when a woman makes up her mind that she has lived single too long she is apt to make up her face."

Where Respect Is Due.

Young love may laugh at locksmiths; true, But though its scorn sublime, You'll find it takes its hat off to The goldsmith every time.

Requiescent In Pace.

Bing—What's become of your dog? I haven't seen him around lately.
Baker—I took the precaution to try some of the medicines on him that were recommended to me for the grip.

In the Midst of Life We Are In Debt.

McSwatters—What happiness! I'm all out of debt!
McSwitters—That's good.
McSwatters—And thrice nappy day! I can go in debt again.

A Shrewd Guess.

"I wonder how long 'Unleavened Bread' will hold the stage?"
"Just as long as there's plenty of dough in the box office."

Beat 'Em to the Possum.

A possum had been located in the top of the tree, and they started to cut the tree down when a voice called in the darkness:
"Per de Lawd's sake, don't cut dis tree down!"

"What's that?" asked the leader of the party, looking around.

"I ax you, sub," said the voice from above, "ter please not cut dis tree down, kase I'm up it!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Society's Best Effort.

Towne—I see one of our college presidents declared in a recent speech that society is becoming more intellectual.

Browne—Well, I believe society is taking to cats as pets.

Towne—What has that to do with it?
Browne—That's one way of cultivating the mews.—Philadelphia Press.

Preserving the Family Credit.

"Clara, I get tired seeing you carry that everlasting reticule around with you."

"Well, George, I'd hate awfully to have a man snatch my purse from my hand and find out that there wasn't a cent in it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Literally Speaking.

She was rather plain, but wealthy. He had proposed and requested a kiss.

"Oh," she giggled girlishly, "I don't like to kiss a man with a mustache."
"Nonsense!" he replied, "I don't mind. Your mustache isn't very heavy really."—Philadelphia Record.

A Doubter.

"A woman," said Mr. Plattitood, "can't keep a secret."

"Huh!" said little Johnny. "Teacher kep' me workin' an hour on a ole example when she might have told me the answer any time."—Indianapolis Press.

Over the Phone.

"Hello!"
"Hello! Who is this?"
"Mr. Lloyd of Riverside. I want to ask if—" "Mr. who?"
"Lloyd."
"Can't make it out. Say it again."
"Lloyd—Lloyd."
"Molloy?"
"No! Lloyd—just Lloyd."
"Gus Joy!"
"No, no! Lloyd! Can't you?"
"Try it once more."
"Lloyd."
"Can't get it."
"Double l, o, y, d."
"Dub lello wydee? I don't understand Kanaka. Ring off!"
[Hangs up phone in disgust.]—Chicago Tribune.

A Matrimonial Fence.

"I notice that your neighbor, Rasper, is taking down his fence. I wonder if he is going to put up another one."

"I guess not. According to his own statement, it won't be necessary since he's married again."

"How is that?"
"Why, he says his wife is always a-railing around the house."—Richmond Dispatch.

The Iceman In Summer.

Nabb—I believe Mme. De Touch can foretell one's fortune accurately.

Dabb—Nonsense!
Nabb—But she said a cold, haughty man would cross my path.

Dabb—Well?
Nabb—Well, as I left her apartments the iceman entered.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

BYE-LAW.

L. S. (Signed) Wesley Vanwart, Mayor of Fredericton, harbores of dogs in the City of Fredericton, as follows:

1. Every person who is within the City of Fredericton the owner, possessor or harborer of a dog or bitch, shall pay a yearly license for each such dog or bitch, as follows:—
For each male dog $1.00
For each female dog or bitch $3.00

2. Every person who is in the City of Fredericton, aforesaid, the owner, possessor or harborer of a dog or bitch, shall before the first day of August in each year, procure and cause such dog to be numbered and described for the year ensuing. In the office of the City Treasurer, and shall cause such dog or bitch to wear around his or her neck, a collar of metal, or of leather with metal plate on which metal or plate collars shall be inscribed the name of such person, and to which collar shall be secured, or attached, a metal check upon which shall be inscribed the letters F. T. P. (Fredericton Tax Paid) and figures indicating the year for which such tax has been paid, and a number corresponding with the number under which said dog or bitch is for the time being registered in the books of the City Treasurer.

3. Every person shall on payment of the tax imposed by section one of this law, and registering his dog as provided in section two, be furnished free of charge with the check mentioned in the next preceding section.

4. Any police constable, city marshal, or other person authorized for that purpose by the Mayor, City Council, or Police Magistrate, may seize any dog or bitch found running at large or elsewhere than on premises of the owner, possessor, or harborer thereof, contrary to the provisions of this law, and it shall be the duty of such police constable, city marshal, or other person so to do; and every such police constable, city marshal, or other person shall forthwith after making such seizure, deliver such dog or bitch to the Pound Keeper of the city; and it shall be the duty of the Pound Keeper to whom the same shall be delivered to impound such dog or bitch in a suitable box or stall, to be by him provided for that purpose, and supply it with food and water while so impounded; and in case it shall not be reclaimed as hereinafter provided within six days after it shall have been delivered to the Pound Keeper, it shall be the duty of the Pound Keeper to kill such dog or bitch.

5. The owner, possessor or harborer of any dog or bitch impounded under the foregoing section may reclaim his or her dog or bitch on application to the Pound Keeper and proof of ownership, and on payment to the Pound Keeper of the sum of twenty-five cents for each and every day the said dog or bitch has been impounded, and the further sum of three dollars, one dollar of which shall be retained by the Pound Keeper, one dollar paid to the person or persons by whom such dog or bitch shall have been impounded, and one dollar to the City Treasurer to form part of the city revenue.

6. Any person or persons so keeping or harboring or allowing to be kept or harbored, any dog or bitch within the City of Fredericton, neglecting or refusing to comply with the provisions of the first section of this bye-law, shall be liable to a penalty of three dollars for each and every dog or bitch so kept; and in case any person or persons shall neglect or refuse to take out a license for any such dog or bitch within four days next after any conviction, under this bye-law, said person or persons shall be liable to a further penalty of four dollars for each and every subsequent offence.

7. All licenses issued under the provisions of this bye-law shall expire on the first day of August next following the date of the issue thereof.

8. Dogs and bitches under the age of six months are excepted from the provisions of this law.

9. This law shall come into full operation, force, and effect, on the first day of August in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

10. The bye-law passed on the fifth day of August, A. D. 1886, entitled, "A Law to impose a tax on the owners or harborers of dogs, and otherwise restrain the keeping of dogs in the City of Fredericton," and any and all bye-laws passed in amendment thereof and in addition thereto are hereby repealed.

Passed and enacted this twentieth day of June, A. D. 1895.

Clined Plaster
Land Plaster
Rock Wall Plaster

A convenient Wall Plaster for farmers and other living in localities distant from central markets, where lime, hair, etc., necessary for use in making ordinary mortar cannot be procured without considerable delay. Rock Wall Plaster is put up in bags of 100 lbs each, and is ready for applying to walls by the simple addition of sand and water. Rock Wall Plaster saves time, admits of carpenters immediately following the plasterers, giving the owner his building weeks earlier than with ordinary plaster. Rock Wall Plaster is a substitute for ordinary lime mortar and makes a much superior wall. The most inexperienced plasterer can apply it.
