THE CENSUS.

Toronto Globe: An attempt is being made to show that there is an extraordinary discrepancy between the census returns and the municipal statistics, which are collected every year by the department of agriculture. These returns do not lend themselves to the theory that the census figures are too low. The last available municipal returns give Ontario a population of 2,010,000, while the census says 2,167,978. However, it must be said that the municipal returns are always below the census. The reason is that they are taken on the defacto instead of the de jure system. For instance, the census of 1891 gave Ontario 2,114,321, while the municipal returns for 1890 were 1,917,514, and for 1891, 1,922,121. The census figures for 1891 are 158,000 ahead of the municipal returns. The municipal returns show an increase of 88,000 from 1891 to 1899, while the census shows an increase of 53,657. Here are the figures for the township for thirteen years:

1898.....	1,110,891
1897.....	1,113,530
1896.....	1,112,900
1895.....	1,109,631
1894.....	1,103,828
1893.....	1,096,984
1892.....	1,102,467
1891.....	1,116,347
1890.....	1,118,252
1889.....	1,130,060
1888.....	1,133,046
1887.....	1,140,138
1886.....	1,148,856

These figures show an actual decline of the rural population to the extent of 38,000 in thirteen years. In the same period there was an increase, according to the same returns, of 121,000 in the cities, and of 119,000 in the towns and villages. Again, the increase is greatest in the cities, next in the towns, and least in the villages.

THE PRESS VISITORS.

The reception extended the visiting pressmen from the upper provinces by the citizens of Fredericton was of a most enthusiastic nature and they cannot fail to carry to their western homes pleasant reminiscences of their visit to the capital city of New Brunswick. It is to be regretted that their visit was of such short duration, yet it must be borne in mind that the members of the party have already been absent from their homes and business over a fortnight and this to busy newspaper men is quite a long vacation. Fredericton was at the bottom of their list of stopping places therefore the good impression made upon their minds by the heartiness of the greeting here, cannot fail to be of a lasting nature.

Some of the brightest journalistic minds of Canada were of the party, and no doubt their impressions of Fredericton and its people will be fully set forth in the columns of their respective newspapers when they return home.

Those who had charge of the arrangements for entertaining the distinguished visitors, are to be congratulated upon the success which attended their efforts. The citizens certainly responded nobly to the appeal for carriages, and the turnout was one which would have reflected credit upon a city of much greater pretensions than Fredericton.

The officers of the Board of Trade and Tourist association, the local members for York, and the energetic proprietor of the Queen Hotel co-operated heartily with the members of the local press in providing entertainment for the visitors, and are deserving of the thanks of all citizens who have regard for the good name of Fredericton.

The visiting pressmen and their wives added materially to their list of acquaintances while here, and should they ever honor us with a return visit, another warm welcome is assured them.

Englishmen are confident that Sir Thomas Lipton is going to win America's Cup with his new Shamrock. Already suggestions are being freely made as to what he ought to do when the famous trophy is in his possession. For one thing, he is advised in the event of victory to ask the New York Yacht Club to consent to vary the deed of gift. It is considered unfortunate that competition in sport should be so largely competition in expenditure. The argument is that there would be just as much room for originality in design in races between thirty or forty footers, which could be built for comparatively trifling sums, as there is in matches between those gigantic ninety-foot cutters, which cost a fortune to build, and are as a rule short-lived.

The cooks of the King of Spain have gone on a strike. Their grievance is not mentioned in the cable report. Perhaps the Royal help has heard of the Chicago manifesto, and wants three afternoons off, no late suppers, the privilege of entertaining company and immunity from interruption on the part of the King while engaged in conversation with such company. Or may be, the demand is for the privilege of eating with the family. At any rate it is to be hoped that the young King will not be forced to cook his own meals.

A Long Islander, who for years had been a sufferer from rheumatism, was returning recently from a hospital where he had been undergoing treatment, when he was struck by lightning. For several days after it was thought he would die, but gradually he became better, until now he has fully recovered from the shock and the rheumatism as well. This method of obtaining relief has its bad features, however, for there are those who might think the cure worse than the disease.

The census has turned out to be a preliminary to a sort of national revival meeting. The American dispensation of small families may have its advantages, but Ontario is learning that it plays the duce with the decennial census. It has not reached the Province of Quebec, of whose patriarchs it is now said that "their quivers are full and they are the envy of all the other Provinces." How would it do to take a census every year? —Montreal Herald.

The Ottawa Journal says:—The Prime Minister has added himself to the list of citizens who do not keep fences between their lawns and the streets. Nothing has tended more to beautify Ottawa of late than the removal of fences around private lawns. And so far as the Journal has heard, the lawns do not suffer injury. They are none the worse. The Premier is to be congratulated. Let the good work go on.

The Brandon Sun hints at the candidature of Mr. G. E. Foster in Liegar. Why should he go to the wild and woolly west when there is a seat vacant in his own province of New Brunswick? And a seat once occupied by him.—Amherst Press.

A contemporary says that it is a mystery to Canadians that Mrs. Carrie Nation should be adored and idolized by Americans. But she is not. Her friends say that she does not get fair play from the Americans.

MARYSVILLE.

The Town Visited by the Canadian Press Excursionists — Personal News.

Aug. 28.—Fred Smith returned home yesterday afternoon from a lengthy trip to the States.

The young son, of Mr and Mrs Bird, who recently had the misfortune to fall and break his arm is improving nicely.

Mr and Mrs George Eao, Miss Alice and Master Harrison Enc, have left to visit relatives at Lowell, Mass.

Yesterday afternoon our town was visited by the ladies and gentlemen of the Canadian Press Association, who came up by special train, and could not be gratified with the very warm welcome they received, flags were flying from the cotton and saw mills, and a number of private residences. As the train steamed in the church and mill bells were heartily rung, as well as the various buzzes blowing, for about a quarter of an hour. Alexander Gibson, sr., was on the platform to receive the party and escorted them to the cotton mill. They went through all the rooms and were much interested in witnessing the various kinds of work. On leaving there they were driven up to the Methodist church, which was greatly admired. They were afterwards entertained at the home of Mr. Gibson. On leaving, one and all concluded that not the least pleasurable part of their trip was their visit to this busy town, and the kindness they had received from their worthy host.

Mr Bradley, of St John, who has been spending the past two weeks here his with sister, Mrs Sherman, has returned home.

This morning a large crowd was at the station to give the press party a hearty send off as they passed through on their way to Chatham.

Mr and Mrs A G Robinson are home again from their trip to St John and Digby.

Miss May Rowley has returned from St John, where she was visiting friends.

HANWELL.

(Special correspondence to the Herald.)

Aug. 27.—The summer is pretty well spent and the haying and the harvesting is pretty nearly done, which has been an abundant crop.

A pie social was held at Phillip Renhan's residence Wednesday evening last. Some of the pies were said to have been made by the Imperial bakery of F'ton. The pies were auctioned off by Johnnie Mysheral. The amount made was $32.50 which goes towards paying for an organ for the church.

Edward Powers is employed with Mr. Brewer of Woodstock, building the Andover bridge.

Jack Powers and Charlie Mysheral and George Soucie, intend leaving for the Maine lumber woods.

We are glad to welcome Avie Gallop in our midst again, who for the past two years has been in Grand Rapids, Min.

We think that we hear the jingle of wedding bells in the near future.

Our school is under control of Miss M. Orcharde of Fredericton.

Charles Gallop has sold his engine to Mr. Spragg of F'ton.

One of our prominent young men has purchased for himself an elegant trotter, and carriage.

Mr and Mrs Gallop, paid a flying visit to friends in Harvey.

Mr Marshal King, has returned home from the Victoria hospital, where he has been for over two months, from a gun accident.

Mrs James McGolderick is the guest of her father, at Maple Hill farm.

Measers T Powers, and P Renham are about to start their old trade thrashing.

NOTICE

Water Consumers.

The attention of water consumers is called to section 12 of the Water Bye Laws as follows:

12. Persons removing from any premises who have paid full rates in advance, will be entitled to an allowance for the time unexpired, provided written notice is given at the Superintendent's Office at the time of such removal.

Persons wishing to discontinue the use of water must give written notice thereof at the Office previous to the expiration of the time for which payment has been made, otherwise they will be liable for the rent for the ensuing six months.

Owing to the increasing tendency of water consumers to ignore the above Bye Law, it will be strictly enforced in future.

Dated this 17th day of August, 1901.
