The News of the City and Vicinity

SINCE YESTERDAY.

General, Social, Personal and Political Items of Interest.

Weather Probs.

(Special to Daily Herald.)
Toronto, Feb. 18.—Moderate westerly winds, fair, Tuesday, westerly winds fair not much change in temperature.
Washington, Feb. 18.—Eastern States and Northern New York: Partly cloudy tonight, Tuesday fair, fresh north westerly winds.

Turo's Globe Trotter.

A letter from Karl M. Kreelman, the round-the-world wheel Nova Scotian, announces his safe arrival at Lunenburg, India, after having spent eleven weeks at Benares, where he was ill.

Successful Operation.

At the Victoria Hospital, on Friday, Drs. Vanwart and G. J. McNally, performed a successful operation on peritonitis upon a young son of Dr. A. J. Murray of Fredericton Junction.

Pay Your Taxes.

Wednesday is the last day for paying taxes to ensure a vote at the approaching civic election. Unless there is considerable hustling done during the next two days the defaulters' list will be an exceptionally large one. To accommodate working men, the city treasurer will keep his office open until 9 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Lost a Valuable Horse.

F. W. Hatheway of Kimberley Grange farm Springhill, had the misfortune to lose his handsome black gelding, Oak Hall, on Saturday. He drove to the city in the afternoon accompanied by his mother, and after transacting some business they started to return home about 3:30 o'clock. The horse trotted along quite briskly for about two miles, and continued on at a walk as far as the McLaughlin bridge, below the residence of Percy Pows, when it fell down and expired instantly. The animal bled quite freely at the nostrils, and the supposition is that death was caused by an affection of the heart. Oak Hall was bred and owned for a number of years by C. H. Thomas of this city, and was afterwards the property of Dr. Atherton, from whom Mr. Hatheway purchased him last summer. He was of Keenage stock, and was looked upon by horsemen as one of the most stylish and best roadsters ever raised in these parts. Mr. Hatheway prized the animal very highly and feels his loss keenly.

A. E. Massie's Experience.

A. E. Massie the well known commercial traveller is in the city, and since his last visit home has had an exciting experience on a snow bound train. He was stuck on the Kent Northern for two or three days, and the only food the party had was some crackers and a ham they procured from a freight car on the train. The ham they cooked on a shovel held over the fire. Mr. Massie and his companions eventually had to walk seven miles through snow drifts up to their middle, and afterwards drove forty miles through drifts.

An Up to Date Factory.

R. Chestnut & Sons woodworking factory, which has been shut down since early in January, started work again this morning. The machinery has been given a thorough overhauling and improvements have been made all around. The proprietors anticipate a big season's work and have laid in an enormous stock of lumber, which will be converted into sashes, doors, mouldings, office fixtures, etc. The proprietors have entered into an agreement with their employees by which the latter are to share in the profits of the concern.

The Natal Campaign.

Bear in mind that Sgt. Major W. J. Cox, the hero of Potgieter's drift, is to deliver a lecture on the South African war at the Opera House on Thursday evening. He will deal promptly with Buller's campaign in Natal, and will tell a story of absorbing interest. Half of the proceeds are to go to the Victoria Hospital. Plan of hall can be seen at McNally's bookstore. Get your seats marked off early.

Signs of Spring.

The soft, spring like weather of the last two days has caused the snow to melt quite rapidly and is having its effect on the streets and sidewalks. It is rather remarkable that there has been very little or no ice on the river for skating this winter. The small boy and his marbles are already in evidence.

DEATH IS BUSY.

Old and Young fall a Prey to its Ravages

IN BOTH CITY AND COUNTRY

The Victims are Claimed by the Great Reaper.

Mrs. Ann Feeney.

Mrs. Ann Feeney, widow of the late John Feeney, a former well known resident of Newmarket, died at the home of her son-in-law J. Alfred Lawlor, Carleton street on Saturday evening, after quite a lengthy illness. She was 76 years of age and leaves a family of two sons, Thomas, one of the proprietors of the Waterville Hotel, and John of Newmarket, and three daughters, Mrs. McGinn of Bright, Miss Stack of Boston, Mrs. Lawlor and Miss Agnes Feeney at home. The funeral will take place from St. Dunstan's church at eight o'clock to-morrow morning. The remains will be interred in the R. C. cemetery at Cork. Undertaker Hanson in charge.

Mrs. Charles Pickard.

Mrs. Isabel Pickard, wife of Charles Pickard of Hawkeham, died at the Victoria Hospital yesterday afternoon after a lengthy illness from consumption of the bowels. She was 27 years of age and leaves a sorrowing husband but no child. The deceased was a daughter of Thomas Trail of Southampton. The remains were prepared for burial by Undertaker John G. Adams, and taken to Hawkeham this morning for burial.

Herbert Dunphy.

The death occurred at the Victoria Hospital, this morning, after a long and painful illness, of Herbert Dunphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Dunphy of Kingsclear. The deceased was a victim of rheumatic fever and had been ill for about six months, during the greater part of which time he was totally deprived of the use of his limbs. He was 24 years of age and unmarried. The remains will be interred at Lower French Village at two p. m. on Wednesday. Robert B. Adams has charge of the arrangements.

Walter S. Doull.

Walter S. Doull, a law clerk of the department of railways and canals, Ottawa, was found Saturday in a semi-conscious state at the exhibition grounds at the capital, and on being removed from there died in a back. Heart failure is given as the cause of death. He was a son of the late John Doull of Halifax, who was president of the Bank of Nova Scotia, and he leaves a wife, formerly Miss Bauld, sister of John Bauld who married Miss George of this city.

Purdy Bulsey.

News has reached Gagetown of the death of Purdy, only child of Hon. and Mrs. G. H. V. Bulsey, of Regina, N. W. T., formerly of Gagetown, and grandson of the late R. T. Babbitt. The boy was at first seized with a delirious fever, from which he had partly recovered, when he was seized with paralysis of the vocal power, which afterwards extended to the brain.

Mrs. Daniel McDade.

Mrs. McDade wife of Daniel McDade, a highly respected resident of New Market, died at her home there Saturday evening, after a short illness from inflammation. She leaves, beside a husband, four sons and three daughters to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother. The deceased was a sister of Mrs. William Scott of this city. The funeral took place at ten o'clock this morning from her late home at New Market, and was very largely attended.

A DISGUSTING SIGHT.

Bull Dogs Fight a Fierce Battle on Regent Street.

Fredericton is not famous for its fighting dogs, but there are a few owned in this city that can put up a pretty stiff fight, and two of that class came in collision near the corner of Queen and Regent Street last Saturday afternoon. They were both bull dogs of large size, one being the property of Timothy Murphy, manufacturer of Oxford sausages, and the other owned by a young man named Gillies, who works for George Y. Dibblee. The dogs met on the street crossing and would probably have settled whatever difference may have existed between them without bloodshed had they kept beyond reach the foot pedestrians who were passing. They did not do this, however, and the Murphy dog received a kick which it promptly resented by pouncing upon the other dog. This was the beginning of one of the fiercest and bloodiest battles between canines ever witnessed in this city. The animals fought with the viciousness of wild beasts for over half an hour, dying the snow crimson with their blood. They seemed to be about evenly matched, and being urged on by several young men in the crowd who ought to have been better employed, they lacerated each other in a frightful manner. Several of the spectators, disgusted at the sight, tried to separate the brutes, but were brushed aside by others who wanted the fight to continue. Mr. Murphy tried to get hold of his dog several times, but was prevented from carrying out his purpose and had the buttons torn from his overcoat. Indeed it looked at one time as if there would be a general row between the two elements which composed the crowd, and the arrival on the scene of Policemen Wright and O'Neill doubtless prevented trouble of this kind.

While the officers were endeavoring to suppress the disturbing element in crowd Joseph Christie dodged in and pluckily catching hold of the belligerent canines tore them apart, and put an end to the struggle. The dogs were both badly cut up, and each seemed glad to get away from the other.

Policeman Wright has lodged a complaint with the Police Magistrate against several young men who made themselves rather conspicuous during the progress of the fight, and it is quite likely that they will hear more of the matter.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.

Ralph J. Markham of St. John, who served in South Africa with the Royal Canadian Dragoons, spent Sunday at the Queen, and received a hearty welcome from many old friends.

Parlor Social at Gibson.

The Free Baptist congregation of Gibson held a very enjoyable parlor social Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. Cameron, when nearly one hundred people were present. The following programme was successfully carried out: Opening chorals—Choir, Solo—Allen Sherwood. Recitation—E. G. Merritt. Organette selections—John Hanson. Solo—Miss Beulah Dennison. Recitation—Mr. Sherwood. Duett—Mr. and Mrs. Garrity. Recitation—Miss Dennison. Solo—Miss Babbitt. Recitation—Miss Victoria Bailey. Solo—Mrs. Sherwood. Recitation—E. G. Merritt. Solo—Miss Babbitt. "God Save the King."

After the above program was gone through with the committee served refreshments. Taking the affair all in all a very pleasant evening was spent, and a goodly sum raised, which goes towards the church funds.

Candidates for the Mayoralty.

Dr. W. C. Crockett's card to the electors announcing his candidature for the mayoralty will be found in the Herald to-day. Ald. Smith is also in the field, and his card appears elsewhere. So there will be a fight anyway. Citizens who have not paid their taxes must do so before Wednesday to entitle them to a vote.

Laid to Rest.

The funeral of the late Kathleen Carten took place from the home of her parents, St. John Street, at two o'clock yesterday afternoon and was attended by a number of sympathizing friends of the family. Interment was made at the Hermitage.

Took a Walk.

A horse belonging to George W. Adams took flight while standing in front of his undertaking establishment, on Sunday evening and made off. It was found several hours later in a yard off Campbell street.

HANWELL.

(Special correspondence to the Herald.) Feb. 16.—It has been very stormy and the roads are in a very bad condition, but our roadmaster is on the alert to see that they are fit for traffic.

James Cunningham and sons are going away to work on another bridge. We are glad to see the smiling faces of Messrs. King who have returned from the lumber woods in Maine. Phil Keohan has also returned from the woods in Maine.

Quilt making is the order of the day. Though it has been stormy, the young people seem to enjoy themselves by coasting and skating on the crust.

We hear that James Cunningham is about to sell his farm and move to Fredericton. We wish him much success in his change of residence.

THE SPORTSMAN'S SHOW.

New Brunswick Representatives to Leave Here on Saturday.

It is very gratifying to know that New Brunswick is to be well represented at the first annual exhibition of the International Forest, Fish and Game Association to open in the Coliseum at Chicago, on Feb. 27th. The C. P. R. which has provided free transportation for six members of the N. B. Guides Association and one representative of the Fredericton Tourist Association, will send a baggage car from here on Thursday for the exhibit. It will be attached to the regular train on Saturday afternoon and will be taken right through to Chicago. The local government, realizing the importance of having a creditable exhibit from this province, are co-operating with the guides and will loan them the stuffed moose, the bear family, pair of beavers, and other specimens from the splendid collection in the crown land office. A large moose head, owned by F. H. Hale, M. P. of Woodstock, has also been procured.

W. H. Allen, the well known guide of Penniac, has erected a log cabin for the New Brunswick booth and will have it here ready for shipment on Thursday.

The idea of having New Brunswick represented to the Chicago show originated, with W. T. Chestnut of this city, who received the hearty support of the Fredericton Tourist Association. The C. P. R. was interested in the matter and agreed to provide free transportation, and afterwards the Surveyor General was approached and readily consented to contribute towards the exhibit anything that might be needed from the Crown Land Office collection.

The Fredericton Tourist Association, which has done much to make the attractions of New Brunswick known to the tourists and sportsmen of the United States, will send their secretary, R. P. Allen, of the Herald, to the show to look after the distribution of their illustrated pamphlets. He will also distribute literature for the New Brunswick Tourist Association of St. John, which is not to be directly represented.

Painful Accident.

W. D. Vandire, an employee of Tabar and O'Neill's factory had the fore finger of his left hand badly lacerated by a circular saw this morning. Dr. Vanwert who was called in found it necessary to amputate the member.

CARD

To the Electors of the City of Fredericton.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—In response to the urgent request of a number of citizens, I beg to announce my candidature for the Mayoralty at the coming elections. I shall, if elected, give to the consideration of all public questions the attention their importance demands, treating them solely on their merits, uninfluenced by any other interests than that of the public welfare. Though the office has never been in line with my aspiration, I have been led into the belief that as a medical man in the civic chair, I could be of service to the city at the present time. The insatiable craving of the city calls for immediate consideration and intelligent action, and it would be my aim to bring about a much needed reform without burdening our already overtaxed ratepayers.

The question of the introduction of a system of sewerage is to be determined by a plebiscite. Should the electors decide in its favor, it would be the duty of the incoming mayor and council to act with the greatest prudence in the financial as well as the sanitary arrangements, and I feel that my knowledge of the subject would enable me to conserve the interests of the public in this respect. If the plebiscite should be unfavorable, the greater would be the need for some one at the council board with an intimate knowledge of matters connected with the public health. Having grown up among you, you are familiar with my course of life, and you may rest assured that I will be amply elected, to uphold the dignity and traditions of the mayoralty of Fredericton in its best days.

I have the honor to be, Yours truly,
W. C. CROCKETT.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—At the solicitation of a large number of the ratepayers of the City, I have decided to be a candidate for the office of Mayor for the ensuing year. Having had the honor to represent you as Alderman for Kings Ward for the past two years, I trust that my actions and capacity will commend me to your further support. Should I have the honor to be elected, it will be my endeavor in the future, as in the past, to devote my energies to the best welfare and advancement of the city. Thanking you for the generous support given me in the past, and soliciting a continuance of the same, I have the honor to be, Your obedient servant,
