Clarke's Kola Compound Cured

Mr. S. Till, 142 Dorchester Street, St. John, N.B., writes:—

"I have been a great sufferer from asthma for nearly ten years. Many months, night after night, I have been so bad that sleep was impossible, and at times I thought I would choke. I used different asthma remedies, and doctored with the best physicians in St. John, but my trouble became worse each year. About a year ago I purchased three bottles of Clarke's Kola Compound; then I took three more, and since completing the treatment with this remedy have not had a single attack. I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Clarke's Kola Compound, which I know has no equal for asthma. Since being cured, I have frequently recommended this remedy to others in our city, and they all speak very highly of it."

Clarke's Kola Compound is the only permanent cure for asthma yet discovered. Over a thousand complete cures are recorded in Canada alone. All druggists sell. Write for book telling all about Clarke's Kola Compound, to the Griffith and Macpherson Co., Limited, 121 Church Street, Toronto.

GREAT RIVER OF OIL.

SCIENTISTS SAY THE TEXAS STRIKE HAS TAPPED IT.

An Interesting Theory Which the Recent Discovery of the Beaumont Spouter Seems to Confirm—Activity in the New Field.

The great oil strike in Texas revives interest in the theory set forth by various scientists that an immense river of crude petroleum flows from the northwestern portion of the United States through Colorado and Texas and out under the gulf of Mexico. It is claimed that the Beaumont gusher tapped this great reservoir. The presence of an oil lake under the gulf has long been known to sailors, and many a sea captain has searched for it as a haven of refuge during severe storms.

Certainly the oil well discovered by Captain A. F. Lucas was no ordinary gusher. When it broke loose, it was as if the power of a confined Niagara was behind the spouter.

There were five men working at the well on the morning of the strike. It is the custom in sinking these wells to decrease the size of the pipe according to the increase of depth. They were far enough down to warrant the use of four inch pipe, and the men were engaged in putting this size in place. A little over 600 feet had been lowered into the well when the pipe suddenly began to come up of its own accord. One man was working on top of the 60 foot derrick, and he shouted to the others below:

tion of the wind then caused it to spray, and it flew into the air fully a hundred feet.

It took nine days to get the giant stream under control, and during that time an immense lake of oil formed which covered 64 acres of ground ten inches deep. The bank of this lake, which had been hastily thrown up, gave way in one place and about 200,000 barrels of oil escaped. It ran down a branch for several miles and made a veritable river of oil.

It is estimated that fully half a million barrels are still in the lake. At the first calculation it was thought this ought to be worth 50 cents a barrel. Later the owners thought it was so mixed with dirt that they might not try to save it. If they decide not to utilize it, it will be turned into ditches and gradually burned.

The flow of the oil was estimated by the owners to be fully 30,000 barrels per day, which was over four times that of the largest one known in the United States prior to this time.

In color the oil found at Beaumont is a dark brown and casts off a strong odor of petroleum. In quality it is what is known as heavy or lubricating oil.

Captain Lucas not only opened the biggest spouter in the world, but was the immediate means of a boom in Beaumont real estate. During the first 30 days after the strike 773 separate leases or transfers were recorded, and many more were on file waiting to be entered. The size of the deals ranged from small leases—to be worked for a share of the possible output—to large transfers covering immense tracts of land and calling for an exchange of thousands of dollars.

Beaumont has been in a prosperous condition for some time past on account of the large lumber and rice interests which center there, but since the big oil gusher broke loose lumber and rice have had to take a back seat. Fully 50 companies have been formed to prospect in the new field, and there are already more than a dozen completed derricks within a radius of a half mile of the big Lucas well. Several of these have their rigs in place and have begun drilling.

Pa's Experience.

Son of a Mismatched Parent—Pa, have you ever been to sea?

Parent—I have, my son.

Son—Is there much difference between life on sea and life on land?

Parent—Oh, yes, my boy; they do occasionally strike a calm at sea.—Richmond Dispatch.

THE BEAUMONT SPOUTER.

"What are you hoisting it for?" They replied that they were not hoisting it, and the words were scarcely out of their mouths before there was the muffled sound of an explosion and the pipe shot into the air with terrific force. About 300 feet of it was broken off and the remaining 300 feet forced into the air. Following the report a quantity of water was forced from the well, and after that came the oil.

The men on the ground scurried out of danger, and the man on top of the derrick hurried down. He was not injured, but was drenched with the torrents of oil and had to almost swim out of it. The oil came from the mouth of the well with sufficient force to throw it two-thirds of the way up the 60 foot derrick in a solid stream six inches in diameter. The ac-
