BRIDEGROOM, HER FATHER.

A Remarkable Story Which Comes From Mount Gilead, Ohio.

Mount Gilead, Ohio, July 27.—Fifty years ago little Lizzie Collinger, while playing one evening in the dooryard of her mother's home, disappeared. No news ever came of the missing child, and the mother faded and died of a broken heart.

Her father, J H Collinger, still lived on the old farm. Finally Collinger inserted an advertisement in a matrimonial journal. Six months ago he got a reply from a Miss Amy Frantz, San Antonio, Texas. He corresponded with her for several months, and then it was agreed that the two should marry.

Collinger sent the woman money to pay her fare to Ohio. She arrived here a few days ago, and the wedding was to have taken place at once.

The bridegroom-to-be, who is eighty-five, noticed a peculiar birthmark on his prospective bride's hand. He asked the woman her history. She said that until she was sixteen years of age she had travelled with gypsies, when she made her escape in Texas. She is now fifty-four years old. A tiny locket that had escaped the thieving gypsies was produced, and from its golden face smiled the face of the child's mother. There was no wedding, of course, but the ray of sunshine came to the old home of the solitary man in the finding of his long lost daughter.

SOUTH AFRICAN WAR

Lord Methuen Harassing the Boers — Some Minor Successes.

Kimberly, Cape Colony, July 29.—The western border of the railway is now well protected by blockhouses. General Lord Methuen is actively harassing the scattered bands of Boers. His forces have killed or captured a considerable number of the burghers. His work is very difficult, but the results thus far are encouraging. The Boers are in a miserable condition. Whenever one of their laagers is captured both men and women are found to be attired in rags.

The Boers are practically impotent and it is the opinion of everyone, the military included, that the war will end in a few months. The concentration of the women in camps affords a chance for the men desiring to surrender to come in. While the women were in the laagers or on farms, these men were practically forced to remain on commando.

London, July 29.—The war office has received the following despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria: Garratt's column captured a Boer convoy, taking 25 prisoners, near Reitzburg. Our casualties were eight. French's columns are gradually pushing the enemy north in Cape Colony.

Cape Town, July 29.—A fight is reported to have taken place between Jamestown and Lady Grey. Eastern Cape Colony Fonchee's commando attacked 100 Connaught Rangers. Scouts from Aliwal North appearing, the Boers retreated, apparently thinking that the scouts were strongly supported. The Boers are said to have lost heavily.
