A Living Victory.

Hon. Mr. Wark, the Liberal senator of New Brunswick, and the oldest legislator in the world, is something of a living victory for the anti-smokers. The Senator smoked one pipe away back about the time of the battle of Waterloo. It made him sick and he hasn't smoked since.—Montreal Herald.

What do They Contain.

THE CHICAGO SHOW.

The New Brunswick Log Cabin Attracts Attention.

(Chicago Evening Post)

Among the exhibits at the Sportsmen's Exposition that of New Brunswick, showing all the varieties of wild fowl and game, attracts considerable attention. There are many excellent specimens of moose, caribou, bear and birds, but the features of the exhibit are the guides and woodmen. Back in the corner of the space alloted to this display they have built a log cabin of pine trees, the cracks and crevices have been chinked with clay and in every respect it is a counterpart of the cabins constructed in the forests of Canada by lumbermen and hunters. Inside a rough bunk leans against one of the walls and has been bedded down with balsam bows. Over this the regulation guide's blanket is thrown and it affords a good resting place for the men when they are not talking to visitors. In the center of the room is a rude pine table and around this are built stools of birch, Robert P. Allen, secretary of the Fredericton, N. B., Tourist Association and city editor of the Fredericton Daily Herald, is in charge of this display.

ROTHESAY VOTERS' LIST.

Government Bill to Correct the Fraudulent Addition of Names.

In the Legislature Tuesday, Attorney General Pugsley introduced a bill for the preparation of a legal list of voters for the parish of Rothesay. This bill declares the list of names filed with the county secretary on the 11th of December, 1900, to be void, the list of non-resident electors signed by the sheriff of King's and filed with the county secretary is also declared to be null and void. The revisors are required within twenty days after the passing of this act, to make an alphabetical list of all duly qualified voters in the parish of Rothesay, and of non-resident voters, and the chairman of the revisors shall immediately transmit this list by registered letter to the county secretary. The latter, on receiving the list, is required to notify the sheriff of Kings, whose duty it shall be to attend immediately at the office of the county secretary and make up lists of the resident and non-resident electors of Rothesay. The lists so made up shall be signed by the sheriff and deposited with the county secretary, and they shall be the voters' list for the year beginning on the 1st January, 1901. In case of the revisor neglecting to make up the new list within twenty days, it will be the duty of the county secretary to prepare it.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley explained the provisions of the bill. The bill required that each sheet of the list should be signed by the magistrate before whom the revisors made oath and also by the revisors themselves. This provision would apply to all future lists. A penalty of $500 and two years' imprisonment was imposed on any person tampering with the lists.

"I WIN" AND "I LOSE."

Sporting Men Ignore Their Tenses and Seem Pleased.

"Have you ever noticed the satisfied manner of gamblers while twisting their tenses into the 'I win' and 'I lose' common to the fraternity?" remarked a man who has a fondness for investigating the peculiarities of his fellows. "I have thought of that for a long time—ever since that form of expression came into common use among gamblers. Watch the first sport you hear talking in that style and notice the pleasure he seems to take in rolling his method of expression. The tense he uses evidently carries him back, and he enjoys again in the present the pleasures of the act when he speaks of it. Even if he says he 'lose' it gives him gratification, according to the philosophy of Charles Fox, who is authority for the statement that the greatest pleasure in the world, next to winning money, is to lose it.

"The ungrammatical fashion among gamblers dates back about 15 years. It seems impossible to conceive any reason for the custom other than the one I have mentioned. That form of speech is still growing in popularity. The so called 'sporting men' have extended the scope of the present tense to all their verbs. It jars on me sometimes, but even then I find consolation in the knowledge that if the 'sports' did not affect that particular style of speech 95 in 100 of them would do even worse, and their present picturesque defiance of grammar is a relief from the possibilities of such expressions as 'I seen' and 'I done.'"

How He Knew.

A ragman who was gathering up wornout clothing in the country purchased a pair of discarded trousers at a farmhouse and remarked to the man of the house as he paid for the stuff he had bought:

"I see, sir, that you are about to lose your land on a mortgage."

"Guess you are right," said the discouraged looking farmer, "but will you tell me how the Sam Hill you found that out?"

"Easy enough," said the cheerful ragman as he settled back on the seat of his peddling wagon. "I notice that these old pants are completely played out so far as the part of 'em you sat down on is concerned, but they show mighty little wear anywhere else."

How He Broke It.

An irascible old gentleman had met in early life with an accident which left him with a broken nose, a deformity about which he was known to be a little sensitive.

One day a new inquirer propounded the old question, "How did you manage to break your nose?"

The old gentleman answered solemnly, "To tell the truth, my friend, the accident was caused by my poking it into other people's business."—London Answers.

CARD.

To the Electors of the City of Fredericton.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—At the solicitation of a number of the ratepayers of the city, who believe that infusion of new material into the City Council would be for its best interest, I have allowed my name to be placed in nomination, and beg to announce myself as a candidate for Alderman of Carleton Ward.

If favored with your confidence, I shall, I assure you, give the public questions which come before the council my best and impartial attention.

The question of sewerage has been placed before you for your sanction or disapproval, and it shall be by earnest endeavor to carry out your wishes whatever they may be. While I do not consider the scheme of sewerage placed before the council is at all practicable, I shall do my best to carry out certain sanitary reforms which would place the city in a healthy condition, without burdening us with much heavier taxes, and placing a debt on the city, which will take half a century to discharge. I have given the question of sewerage careful thought, and I believe that if the intake of the waterworks was removed to a point where it could not be contaminated by sewerage, and the back part of the town drained properly, we should have a healthy city, and it shall be my endeavor to carry out these reforms, if elected.

Soliciting your support on Monday next,

I am your obedient servant,

GEORGE J. McNALLY.
