LAKE GEORGE

(Special correspondence to the Herald.)

Sept. 5.—There took place at Houlton, Me., on the 26th, the sudden and lamented death of Ellen, beloved wife of Tyler Irvine, in her 32nd year. Deceased seemed to be in her usual health until within a few days of her death and it was only within the last few hours that serious results were feared.

Mr and Mrs Irvine were both brought up at Lake George, and the news of the deep sorrow into which the family had been plunged came with great shock to their many relatives and friends of that place. On the following day the remains were brought to their former home, when after divine service by Rev Wm Ross, they were interred in the churchyard here.

For many years Mrs Irvine was a member in full communion of the Presbyterian congregation of Prince William. She was of a most genial and happy disposition and was loved by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

She leaves a sorrowing husband, one child, father, three brothers and three sisters to mourn their loss. The sympathy of the community goes forth toward them all in their sudden bereavement.

This income has been judiciously applied in the public interests and last year there was a surplus of $76,000. The Provincial debt was consolidated in 1899 at a low interest rate of 3 per cent.

A Toronto Druggist Tried All the Catarrh Remedies Known.

SAYS JAPANESE CATARRH CURE IS THE ONLY PERMANENT CURE.

Mr. John Wylie, the well-known Senior Clerk for Mr. Geo. Marshall, the leading Queen St. East Druggist, Toronto, writes:—"When I say I believe Japanese Catarrh Cure the only cure for catarrh on the market, I think I know just what I am talking about. I have tried every remedy which I thought would do me good, and also several doctors, but only received a little temporary relief. After hearing several of our customers, who had used Japanese Catarrh Cure, speak so highly of it, I tried it. From the very first it gave me much relief, soon the dropping in my throat ceased, and now, after using in all four boxes of Japanese Catarrh Cure, find myself completely cured of this most disagreeable disease, after suffering for years. I have since recommended it to some of our customers, and know of several of them whom it has cured."

Japanese Catarrh Cure permanently cures catarrh and catarrhal deafness. All druggists, 50 cents.

An Affronted Cook.

Wellington's personal tastes and habits, like those of most great men, were very simple. He cared not for show or pomp of any kind. Instead of building a counterpart to Blenheim, for which money had been voted, he bought and improved Strathfieldsaye, a common country gentleman's house. In his diet he was very abstemious, even to the injury, it appears, of his health. He, of course, kept a first-rate French cook for his guests. The cook, it was said, one day suddenly resigned. The Duke, in astonishment, asked the reason. "Was his salary insufficient?" "No, my salary is very handsome, but I am not appreciated. I cook your dinner myself, a dinner fit for a king. You say nothing. I go out and leave the under-cook to cook your dinner. He gives you a dinner fit for a pig. You say nothing. I am not appreciated. I must go."—Goldwin Smith.

A Good Lesson Parody.

In the way of recent parody the subjoined is very good. It is from a Halifax correspondent, signing himself "W. D." to the London Daily Mail, and the point of it is contained in the fact that the English Board of Education insists that scholars in the first and second year's course in higher elementary schools shall spend at least four hours per week in the study of science, half of which time must be devoted to practical work. The ages of these scholars will vary between ten and twelve. Half of them are girls:

Seated one day at my lessons,
I was wearily trying to learn
A problem in hydrostatics—
Something about a gramme.
I know not if I was dreaming,
I fancy I wanted my tea;
But I heard a melodious murmur
Like the sound of A. B. C.

It flooded the dreary class room,
Like an echo from long ago.
It filled my soul with yearnings
And my eyes with H₂O.
I couldn't think where I had heard it,
My memory seemed to falt;
It brought back the days when a children
Called sodium chloride "salt."
It made me forget or a moment
The smells and formula.
And it trembled away to all ears
With a sound I thought was I.

I have sought, but I seek it vainly,
That A. B. C. divine:
I heard it in my childhood.
But now I am nearly mine.
I learn about nitric acid,
I learn about NH₃.
Perhaps when I go to the technical school
I shall learn my A. B. C.

Practice Makes Perfect.

A boy of 12, dining at his uncle's, made such a good dinner that his aunt observed:
"Johnny, you appear to eat well."
"Yes, aunty," replied the urchin; "I've been practicing eating all my life."—Tit-Bits.
