

ECHOES FROM PAS-SAMAQUODDY.

The member for Northumberland informed the House that he was in favor of running the elections on party lines; but his faith and works do not go together. He ran as a Liberal on a ticket with a Conservative and he is now in harness under a Conservative leader. He had also brought in the religious question which he (Hill) regretted. Federal and religious matters are entirely foreign to the consideration of this House and should not be introduced. Any man using language to stir up race and religious feeling is the public enemy. The country wants peace and harmony, and it is not patriotic to raise a religious cry on the hustings or on the floor of the House.

The leader of the opposition, has stated that the Halifax award was paid as a recompense for poaching done in Canadian waters by the United States fishermen. He was not aware that there was anything in any of the documents to warrant this opinion. His information was that it was paid for the difference in value for the privilege of using Canadian and American inshore fisheries. The Canadian inshore fisheries were more valuable than those along the American shores, in fact they were among the most valuable in the world. It was clear that the award was not given for fishing done outside of three mile limit, because that was open to the whole world before, consequently the whole amount was paid for the use of the inshore fisheries. The leader of the opposition thinks that a strong legal case could be prosecuted, but does not deem it desirable to do so because he thinks it would be better in the hands of the Dominion Government. That is a strange position to take. It is the duty of the government to have it determined whether the proprietary rights within the three mile limit were vested in the crown in right of the province. It was their duty to establish their rights and the exercising of them was a matter for future determination.

The leader of the opposition holds that increased subsidy will not help the people of New Brunswick because they will have to pay it all back. That statement is misleading. The Dominion government collects in customs and excise duties $50,000,000, the greater portion of which is spent in the development of the west. If a little less were spent in that quarter and $130,000 came to New Brunswick as a fixed annual income, it would aid materially in the support of the various public services. If the contention of the leader of the opposition is true with regard to increased subsidy the same holds good of the subsidy we are now receiving, and according to his doctrine the province gets no gain because it is paying it all back. He would suggest that the leader of the opposition add another plank to his platform, favoring the discontinuance of all subsidies from the Dominion government. We are now paying a tariff nearly double that paid at the time of Confederation. In addition the consuming power and wealth of the country has increased rapidly and it was only equitable that we should receive more in the way of subsidies. Expenses have grown and demands have increased and additional subsidy is one source of obtaining relief.

He (Hill) had wondered what could be said in criticism of the speech from the throne but the leader of the opposition had spoken at some length. He had referred to the hopes mentioned in the speech and he (Hill) would call his attention to the hope that had been expressed year after year of obtaining the amount of the eastern extension claim. The government was finally awarded for its hopes for the money came. The leader of the opposition and his party have been hoping for a great many years to get into power. He would encourage them to keep on, for if they live about twenty-five years longer they may attain the object of their hope.

The Attorney General had referred to his (Hill's) withdrawal from the government. He was absolutely correct in all he had said. He was fully in accord with the acts of the government up to the time of his withdrawal and nothing had occurred since then to shake his confidence in the administration. Mr. Hill explained the manner of his becoming a member of a coalition ticket, showing that there was strong feeling in Charlotte against holding an election in the winter season.

Mr. Loggie followed briefly, and Mr. King moved the adjournment of the debate.

BULGARIANS WARNED.

That in Resisting Sultan's Reforms They Will Not Have Russia's Support.

(Special to the Daily Herald.)

Paris, April 2.—The French foreign office has been officially advised that the Sultan of Turkey has ordered a division of troops to the scene of the recent outbreaks of Albanians.

Official advisers say that the attacking party at Mitrovitz numbered two thousand men, representing an element opposing the plan of reform, which was passed, jointly formulated, and which Turkey accepted.

Another of these despatches announces that the Russians have given Bulgaria definite and emphatic notification that in case resistance of Bulgarian settlers in Turkey to the Sultan's reforms brings on a Turkish Bulgarian conflict, Bulgaria must not count on any support, moral or material, from Russia.

CAPT. BERNIER'S PROJECT.

(Special to Daily Herald.)

Yes, he has an incurable heart trouble. He's fallen in love. Oh, that's not incurable. Not ordinarily, but I'm afraid his age is against him. He's over sixty.

A Sportsman's Mecca.

There is no more delightful place in the Western Hemisphere for out-door life and perfect sport with rod and gun than the famous Muskoka Lakes region of the "Highlands of Ontario" about 100 miles north of Toronto. Canoeing is one of the many pleasures the district affords. The Grand Trunk reaches it with ease and comfort, whirling its passengers through some of the grandest scenery on earth.
