

POSITIVELY THE LAST WEEK OF THE 25 cent and 1.00 Sale

Saturday of this week winds up our record 25c and $1.00 sale. Those who have not been in to see the wonderful values are missing a good thing. Most of the smallwares and slightly soiled goods which were given away at about 25c on the dollar are sold out. In order to keep up the sale to the finish we will offer this week brand new 50c to 75c articles for 25c, and all classes of goods worth up to $1.50 for $1.00.

Here Are a Few New $1.00 Offers:

43 Boys' 2 and 3 Piece Suits, 3 to 8 years old, only one of a kind, worth up to $2.25, on sale this week at $1.00. They won't last long.

18 Pairs Nottingham Lace Curtains, 3½ yds long, worth up to $2.00. While they last $1.00 pair.

Best we have in Ladies' Fine Shirt Waists, up to $1.30 each. This week two waists for $1.00. Only 2 sold to each buyer. Come early.

Persian Rugs at $1.00.

We will offer 15 more of those large Rugs at $1.00 each just to bring the crowds. Changes made in every store. Come and see.

Valuable Time Saved.

Slight injuries often disable a man and cause several days' loss of time and when blood poison develops, sometimes result in the loss of a hand or limb. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment. When applied to cuts, bruises and burns it causes them to heal quickly and without maturation, and prevents any danger of blood poison. For sale by all druggists.

The Glory of California Scenery.

As long as there remains the love of beauty in the human soul so long will the glory of California scenery and that of the whole Pacific coast prove a source of inspiration to the poetic mind. Descriptive verse has been from the beginning a marked feature of the literature of this region. In fact, the term "landscape poets" may be properly applied to this bevy of song birds which seemed to the late Maurice Thompson to have taken "complete possession of the entire western seaboard." Suffice it to say that if a volume of verse were written by a Californian which reflected nothing of the state's scenic beauty or its warmth of color it would not only come as a surprise to most reviewers, but the loyalty of the poet might be seriously questioned. While all this display of local color may seem too apparent an effort on the part of Californians to place upon their work the stamp of a definite locality, and may be considered by some a cheap form of art, it is this very sensitiveness to beauty and grandeur with which nature has clothed the west that offers the most promise of its rapid literary advancement—a sensitiveness, moreover, that will become more and more acute with the cultivation of the higher faculties through increasing educational growth.—Herbert Bashford in Atlantic.

All Have an "Itch" In Them.

"Speaking of Servian names," said an observant man, "they are not so bad when you once get used to them, nor are they so hard to pronounce. You no doubt have noticed that all Servian names end with a syllable having some resemblance to the English word 'itch.' Some of the names end in 'ics' or just with 'ic.' Sometimes it is 'ich' or 'ics' or 'isch,' and so on. It makes no difference how the name ends, you will make no mistake if you give the sound of 'itch' to the last syllable. That will be the proper Servian sound, for Petrovich or Petrovic would be correct, and in both instances the word would be pronounced in the same way, by sounding the 'itch.' Servian names are all right when one gets used to them, but they are strange and shocking when put into the columns of English newspapers."

Goats That Fight.

A species of the wild goat, the Capra rupPELLi, haunts the rocks of the Abyssinian highlands and manages to hold its own as to flight against all enemies, with the exception of the fleet footed jackal, an adversary whose co-operative tactics and keenness of scent make flight unavailing and have led the capras to the conclusion that under certain circumstances valor may be the better part of discretion. The yelp of an approaching horde of jackals is therefore a signal for instant rally on the part of the goats. The nannies crowd around their kids, and the bucks rush forward en masse, butting away with a rage that lays out a yelper at every spring and makes the survivors stand back howling and cowering.

Influence of Laughter on Digestion.

The efficacy of laughter as an aid to assimilation and alimentation has passed into such a common physiological truism that no one of ordinary intelligence needs to have the principle upon which it works elucidated for his understanding in these days of widely disseminated dietetic knowledge. The average person who is not continuously "in the dumps" knows from experience that laughter is good for digestion, says What to Eat. It should be borne in mind that mirth and good cheer need not express themselves in convulsive laughter in order to influence digestion. An amiable, contented, calm and equable temperament has marked influence upon the digestive processes without laughter.

Cholera Infantum.

This has long been regarded as one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases to which infants are subject. It can be cured, however, when properly treated. All that is necessary is to give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, as directed with each bottle, and a cure is certain. For sale by all druggists.
