Hedley V. Murray, for some years teller in the Royal Bank agency here, has been transferred to Vancouver, B. C., and took his departure for that place by the six o'clock train last evening. Prior to his departure he was waited upon by a number of friends and presented with a dress suit case. There was a large gathering of friends at the depot to say bon voyage, and the send off the popular young banker received was a very spirited one. Mr. Murray, during his sojourn in Fredericton has made hosts of warm friends, among all classes, and universal regret is felt at this departure to another field. His place here has been taken by R. B. Richardson of Halifax.

Cafe Proprietors in Trouble.

W. A. Lindsey and Prof. Washington, York street restaurant keepers, were before the police court this morning, on the complaint of Policeman Rideout, charged with keeping their places of business open on Sundays for the sale of goods in violation of the law to prevent the profanation of the Lord's day. Both acknowledged having sold cigars on Sundays, but Prof. Washington contended that he had a right to keep his restaurant open on that day for the accommodation of the public. The police magistrate reserved judgment until Thursday of next week. It is said that a similar complaint has been lodged against a Regent street restaurant keeper.

SHOCK TO BOOT AND SHOE MEN.

Sudden Death of William A. Hughes, Formerly of Fredericton.

(Boston Globe.)

William A. Hughes, who died in Lynn, Tuesday, after a very brief illness, was one of the most widely known and popular men in the shoe trade. He was the general superintendent of the Sorois factories in that city.

Mr. Hughes was born in Fredericton, N. B., of English parentage but came to this country as a boy. He early chose the shoe business as his vocation in life, and developed an adaptiveness and mechanical ability which speedily placed him in the front rank of the master workmen in that craft. For many years he was prominently identified with the manufacture of shoes in New York but finally came to Lynn where he had since resided.

He was a man of unusual character, possessed of wonderful control over men, and was highly esteemed by all with whom he came in contact. In his relations with those whom he employed he displayed rare attributes of kindness and friendliness, and was one of the few superintendents who enjoyed great popularity among all.

He was upright in his dealings, and lived a life of simple unostentation. His death will be a great shock to many of his friends in the boot and shoe world, coming as it does so swiftly and so unexpectedly. The funeral services will be held Friday in St. Joseph's Church, Lynn.

[Mr. Hughes leaves three sisters, Mrs. Sarah Lee, of Boston, Mrs. Wm. Davis of this city and Miss Teresa Hughes of St. Marys, and three brothers, Thomas and Peter of St. Marys, and John of this city.]

THE LATE ALEX. CALDER.

The Obsequies Attended by a Large Number of Citizens.

The funeral of the late Alexander Calder, was held from his late residence at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon and the esteem in which the deceased gentleman was held, was attested by the presence of a large number of prominent citizens. Rev. Willard MacDonald conducted a very impressive funeral service at the house after which the remains incased in a beautiful cloth covered casket with massive silver mountings were taken to the rural cemetery and interred. The chief mourners were J. Hugh Calder, Hamilton McKee, S. H. McKee, S. H. McFarlane, George H. McKee, Clifton McKee, Harry McKee, A. J. S. McFarlane, W. L. McFarlane and Thomas L. Fowler. There were a number of very beautiful floral offerings, including a wreath from the members of the F. O. M. W. club, and a pillow from the widow and son of the deceased. Undertaker John G. Adams efficiently discharged the duties of funeral director.

Clary Will Sing Here.

Mr. Lemont received such encouragement while circulating a list for signatures of those who would support the bringing to Fredericton of America's greatest contralto Mary Louie Clary that Mr. Spence has booked the date in Fredericton definitely and the great singer will be heard here April 30th. This announcement will be received with great pleasure, as much interest has been aroused over the prospect of hearing the wonderful contralto who has appeared in St. John with marked success no less than eleven times. The endorsement received by Mr. Lemont indicates a crowded house, and those who are not on the list should have their names included at once, as only subscribers can procure seats the first day of the plan opening.

Getting in Shape.

Messrs. Harrison H. Bridges and George W. McEwan, who have leased Estabrooks' new hotel, on the corner of King and Westmorland streets, expect to have it open for business on or about May 1st. The hotel, which is a very large one, will be newly furnished throughout, and everything about the place will be as bright and clean as a new silver dollar. It will be known as the York Hotel. Messrs. McEwan and Bridges are capable and energetic young men, and will undoubtedly receive a liberal share of the public patronage in their line.

Ice Still Here.

The ice opposite the city has not moved since yesterday morning, but it seems to be the general impression that it will run out tomorrow afternoon if not sooner.

The water in the river is falling slightly. The ice started running shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon and continued ten minutes.

A New Orchestra.

The orchestra formerly known as Winter's orchestra has been reorganized. Mr. H. G. Winter has resigned and Prof. Cadwallader will take charge. The orchestra comprises the same members as in the past with the exception of Mr. R. H. Nichols, who has gone to Boston. It will be known in the future as Cadwallader's Orchestra and no doubt they will sustain the reputation which the former organization enjoyed in the past.
