Pleasant Xmas Entertainments at Methodist and Baptist Churches.

PRESENTATION TO PROF. CADWALLADER.

Pastor and Mrs. Robinson Kindly Remembered.

(By our own Reporter.)
Dec. 28.—The entertainment at the Methodist church on Christmas night was a very enjoyable affair and the children who took part are to be heartily congratulated for having performed so well, as they certainly carried out their different parts in a very creditable manner.

Mr. Alfred Rowley acted as chairman and the following excellent programme was presented.

- Opening chorus—School.
- Recitation—Alta Libbey.
- Recitation—Three boys.
- Chorus—School.
- Recitation—May Handley.
- Exercise, "Crowning the Cross."
- Solo—Sella Clayton.
- Recitation—Jason Trench.
- Exercise—Little Helpers.
- Solo—Annie McConnell.
- Recitation—Mandie Pheaney.
- Motion song—Infant class.
- Recitation—Hugh Titus.
- Chorus—School.
- Recitation—Gladys Hendley.
- Chorus—School.
- Doxology.

A pleasant feature of the evening's entertainment was the presentation to Miss Henrietta Murray of a handsome book from her Sunday school scholars, showing in what high esteem the teacher is held by her pupils.

At the conclusion of the program those present were treated to confectionery and fruit, after which happy greetings were exchanged, and the large crowd present departed for home, voting the Christmas treat of 1903 a grand and merry event.

On Christmas morning, Prof. Cadwallader was presented with sterling silver military brushes and comb enclosed in a handsome case. The present was from the choir of the Methodist church, of which Mr. Cadwallader is organist, and it shows in what high esteem the genial professor is held by the members of the congregation, and it proves that his excellent ability as a musician is highly appreciated, and that his earnestness and painstaking efforts to bring the choir up to the high standard it has already reached is gratifying to all its members.

The Christmas celebration at the Calvin Baptist church were of a very pleasing nature and far surpassed former years for excellence, attendance and good will, as everybody thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Besides a musical and literary programme there was a large Christmas tree laden with presents for everybody. A very pleasing feature of the evening's entertainment was the happiness and pleasure of the little tots when they received their gifts from Santa Claus, this part of the programme being in the hands of Mr. Edward Mills who carried out his duties in a creditable and amusing manner. Mr. H. P. Lint, superintendent of the Sunday School, occupied the chair and the following programme was successfully carried out.

- Address—Chairman.
- Recitation—Mary Pond.
- Recitation—Helen Lint.
- Recitation—Twelve boys and girls.
- Duet—Ethel and Vida Bailey.
- Recitation—Mabel Foss.
- Recitation—Ella Manzer.
- Duet—Nettie and Eva Smith.
- Motion Song—Five girls.
- Song and recitation—Six boys.
- Recitation—Helen Pond.
- Dialogue—Mary Pond and Emma Manzer.
- Recitation—Ida Foss.
- Solo—Alice White.
- Recitation—J. Webb.
- Recitation—Mary Hodgson.
- Recitation—Grace Hughes.
- Recitation—Gladys Guitar.
- Recitation—Fred Hazelwood.
- Recitation—Winnie Loney.
- 23 Psalm—Five girls.
- "The Merry Bells"—Eight boys.
- Chorus—Seven girls.
- Selection—Choir.
- Address—Rev. W. R. Robinson.
- Recitation—Florence Goodspeed.
- Recitation—Florence Lint.
- Recitation—Ethel Bailey.

During the evening Rev. W. R. and Mrs. Robinson were presented with a beautiful silver cake basket, Miss Eva Smith the esteemed organist received a handsome music holder and Bert Lint was the recipient of a society charm from members of the Sabbath School.

The Christmas festivities at the Free Baptist church were of a very pleasing character, and the large congregation present spent a very merry Xmas. There had been a large log cabin built for Santa Claus, there was also an immense tree from which the gifts were distributed. During the evening an excellent program was carried out, Mr. Samuel Hallett acting as chairman. The pastor of the church, Rev. J. J. Ferguson, was presented with a handsome chair, while Mr. Hallett, the superintendent, was given a beautiful clock.

Mr. Charles Manzer, who left here some thirteen years ago and has been residing in the west, returned Thursday, and there was a grand reunion at his home on Christmas day.

Mr. John Blair, who went to California about fourteen months ago, returned Friday morning and is receiving a hearty welcome from his numerous friends.

The hockey match at our rink on Christmas night was a very exciting and interesting game, but the Victorias were too much for the Fredericton boys, the score being 5 to 1. The Marysville boys outplayed the visitors at every point and certainly put up a magnificent game, their combination work being very much admired. The playing of Foss, Arnold, McLean and Robinson was especially good, in fact all the members of the team worked like beavers and showed signs of careful training and before the season is over will be able to tackle the best of them.

James Robinson, the well known and popular manager of our rink, who is an admirer of good horse flesh, is at present driving a very likely looking animal, which with careful handling will make it hot for the best of them.

Mrs. Hazelwood and her son Freddie, of Milltown, Maine, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Foss the past few days returned home Saturday.

The nine o'clock service in the Anglican church Christmas morning was very largely attended. The church was very beautifully decorated. The sermon was preached by the Rev. J. DeWolfe Cowie, and was a very able discourse. Special music was furnished by an orchestra composed of Prof. Cadwallader and the Messrs. Clegg, Gallimore and Taylor. Holy communion followed the regular service.

The many friends of Mr. T. Walter Read will be pleased to hear that he has accepted a position as traveller for the W. R. Brock Company, the well known wholesale dry goods establishment with headquarters at Montreal and a large branch in Toronto. Mr. Reed expects to leave for Montreal tomorrow. He will be accompanied by his wife.

Mr. Luther Manzer, a successful citizen of the Northwest, formerly of Marysville, is home on a visit.

The many friends of Mr. James Nunn will be sorry to hear that he is not doing as well as they would like to see him, as he is suffering a great deal with his arm.

BAPTIST SABBATH SCHOOL.

Very Successful Entertainment in the Church Sunday Evening.

The Sunday school service at the Baptist church last evening was largely attended, and proved most successful and enjoyable. Supt. Spurden presided over the gathering, and the pupils of the Sabbath school occupied the front seats. Miss Maud Lonsbury presided at the piano, Master Ray McGibbon played the violin accompaniments, and the members of the choir assisted in the musical part of the service.

The following very excellent program was carried out:

- Opening chorus—School and choir.
- Responsive reading—By the school.
- Prayer—Rev. J. H. MacDonald.
- Chorus—School and choir.
- Recitation—Miss Mary Everett.
- Dialogue—Thirteen little girls.
- Chorus—School and choir.
- Recitation—Mildred Wallace.
- Chorus—Primary class.
- Recitation—Helen Robinson.
- Chorus—School and choir.
- Christmas cantata—Pupils.
- Recitation—Three little girls.
- Doxology—School.
- Benediction—Rev. J. H. MacDonald.

The pupils acquitted themselves in a manner most creditable to themselves and their teachers, and delighted the large congregation.

Tomorrow Night.

At the carol service tomorrow night, Tuesday, Mr. Lay, the Y. M. C. A. Secretary, will render a vocal solo. Two selections on the pipe organ will be given by Mr. L. A. W. Lemont, and Mr. F. W. Harrison, the organist and choir master, will also render an organ solo. Silver collection at the door.—d.

Not to strange that a harness dealer advertises good crackers in a whip ad.
