

TEMPERANCE SUNDAY.

An Appeal to Superintendents and Pastors.

Among the efforts of the modern Sunday school system to form character is that known as the Sunday School Temperance Army. It is an effort to clinch and make permanent the teachings of the quarterly temperance lessons provided by the International Lesson System.

The Sunday School Association joins hands with the Women's Christian Temperance Union in specializing November 22nd, as World's Temperance Sunday. By letters, newspaper articles, addresses in conventions, superintendents are asked to have a special program for that Sunday, teaching the lessons, using the pledges against intoxicating drink, tobacco and profane language.

Copies of the printed program can be obtained from Mrs. T. H. Bullock, 103 Germain St., St. John, superintendent of this department for N. B. at a small cost. Mottoes around the school room, festoons of the red, white and blue cards containing the names already signed, will help the object of the day. It is hoped that no superintendent will fail to make the best of this opportunity.

But these voluntary workers look up for leadership to their pastors, whose mental and religious outlook is supposed to be broader than their own. Pastors are therefore asked to preach that day on the subject. And while the subject has many phases, it is particularly important that they bear upon that which touches children and youth, pressing upon the congregation the importance of home co-operation with the Sunday school.

If any pastor lacks a clear understanding as to the Sunday school aims, a postage stamp sent either to Mrs. Bullock or A. Lucas, Sussex, will bring the "Plan of Work." As friends of the children, and founders of the better nation of the future, let us unite in this work on Temperance Sunday, Nov. 22nd.

REV. A. LUCAS, Sussex, N. B.,
General Secretary, N. B. S. S. Association.

Better Than a Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound to the affected parts is superior to any plaster. When troubled with lame back, or pains in the side or chest, give it a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. For sale by all druggists.

Education is not meant to fit you for a certain position; it is the making of a boy or girl into what he or she ought to be in life.

When you do things, it's a good thing to know just why you do them.

WHY HE DIDN'T MARRY.

Phil May's Story of an Australian Prisoner.

Phil May, the English artist, worked in his youth on the Bulletin of Sydney, Australia. Occasionally the young man would be assigned by the Bulletin people to the police courts, and from these assignments he would bring back sketches, now humorous and now pathetic, that were admirable.

One of the best of the Bulletin sketches portrays a thin, hangdog man in the prisoners' bar talking to a very mild and sympathetic looking judge. Mr. May's story of the sketch was that the prisoner had been dragged before the judge every few months for a number of years.

"Your face is familiar here," the latter now said.

"It is, your honor, worse luck," returned the prisoner.

"Are you married yet?"

"Not yet, sir."

"Not yet, eh? How long is it now that you have been engaged?"

"Seven years, your honor."

"So long as that? Why in the world haven't you got married in all that time?"

"Because, your honor," the prisoner explained, "Ann and I haven't managed to be both out of jail at the same time."

British Museum Lottery.

The British museum was begun with $500,000 raised by a lottery scheme. Of that lottery, authorized in 1753, the archbishop of Canterbury, the lord chancellor and the speaker of the house of commons were the managers and trustees. The amount was $1,500,000, raised by fifteen dollar tickets, to provide $1,000,000 for prizes and $500,000 for the purchase of the Sloane collections and the Harleian library and for cases, house room and attendants.

The operations of one "Peter Leheup, Esq.," says the London Chronicle, made the lottery notorious. He fraudulently "cornered" the tickets, 6,000 or so of them passing by his aid to a Sampson Gideon, who sold them at a premium.

An inquiry instituted by the house of commons resulted in the prosecution by the attorney general of Leheup. The penalty was a fine of £1,000, but this was by no means excessive, as £40,000 was Leheup's estimated profit from the fraud.

OVERCOAT TALK

You may be tired reading about this particular item, but the time is near when you will be compelled to procure one if you have not already done so. We are in the Overcoat business this season in earnest. We received our last shipment on Saturday, and can now show you any kind you may desire, that is on this season's catalogue of styles. HEADACHES
AND RUSHING OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD.

APPETITE WAS GONE.

TRIED MANY DIFFERENT REMEDIES BUT

MRS. WALTER MANTHORNE,
BROOKLYN, N.S.

She says: "I suffered for three years with frequent headaches and rushing of blood to my head. I lost my appetite and became very thin and weak. I tried many different remedies and consulted doctors, but all in vain until I started to use Burdock Blood Bitters. I had not taken more than two bottles when I began to feel better, my appetite improved wonderfully and I increased rapidly in weight. I took altogether four bottles and am now as well as can be, for which I owe my thanks to Burdock Blood Bitters. I can recommend it to all those suffering as I did."
