SENATOR WARK

Celebrates His 99th Birthday—Congratulatory Messages.

Senator Wark, Fredericton's oldest citizen, and the world's oldest legislator, today entered upon his one hundredth year. As usual he was the recipient of a number of congratulatory letters and telegrams from members of the senate and other friends in different parts of the country. The friends of the veteran senator will be pleased to learn that his health is even better than it was this time one year ago, and that he has not had a cold or suffered from any indisposition so far this winter. His appetite continues good, and he takes daily exercise in the house, and spends a good portion of his spare time reading and writing. He expects to leave for Ottawa in time to take his seat in the senate when that body gets settled down to work after the usual adjournment.

LOCATING JOHN.

The Fate of a Tiger Hunter and His Return Home.

A story is told of a young man named John P., who, being in poor health, went to India. His family had instructed him not to spare expense, but to cable three times a week how he was and what he was doing. The first cable message ran:

Am well. Have native guide, Inja. Hunt tigers tomorrow.
The next communication did not arrive till two weeks later. It was this:
John dead. Killed. Tiger. What do?
INJA.

Back went the tearful message:
Send on body.

A month later there was delivered to the keeper of the receiving vault of M. cemetery a box or coffin so large and heavy that it might have been the home of a second Cardiff Giant. Suspicion having been aroused, a permit was secured and the sealed coffin opened. To the consternation of those present there lay the body of a magnificent Bengal tiger resting on white satin. The following message was soon racing across the Atlantic:

Some mistake. Some mistake. You send a tiger. Where is John?
The following information was soon received:

No mistake. No mistake. John inside tiger!

Sand Dunes in Gascony.

One of the most interesting and remarkable of the many regions for the observation of sand dunes lies between Bordeaux and Bayonne, in Gascony. The sea here throws every year upon the beach, along a line of 100 miles in length, some 5,000,000 cubic yards of sand.

The prevailing westerly winds continue picking up the surface particles from the westward slope, whirl them over to the inward slope, where they are again deposited, and the entire ridge by this means alone moves gradually inward. In the course of years there has thus been formed a complex system of dunes, all approximately parallel with the coast and with one another and of all altitudes up to 250 feet.

These are marching steadily inward at a rate of from three to six feet a year, whole villages having sometimes been torn down to prevent burial and rebuilt at a distance.
