Blood Bargaining.

A repellent scene took place before the bey of Tunis recently. It was the huckstering for a man's life in the presence of the victim. He was an Arab who had slain a rival in love and was sentenced to die, when, almost at the hour fixed for execution, the murdered man's father offered to treat, according to the Koran, for the price of blood. The bargaining was conducted in the bey's presence, but, as the murderer's family would not go beyond £24 to save him, the doomed man, after a gleam of hope, was led to the gallows and hanged.

Dealings In Graves.

Cemetery shares continue to be quite a market feature in Scotland and are actively dealt in on the Edinburgh Stock Exchange. Apparently they appeal to the curious nature of the canny Scot, who doubtless reasons that in such a holding he has a security which is not likely to vanish and that if the worst comes to the worst he will never need to come on the parish for a grave.

The Key to Success.

"Advertising pays" has come to be an axiom of modern methods. The business man who tries to be successful without it is tempting fate instead of fortune. The American nation today is recognized abroad as the greatest industrial and commercial proposition in the world, and the American nation spends $250,000,000 annually in advertising its business.

Internal Economy.

Two years ago a Polandier out on Nubbin ridge swallowed a grain of wheat. Last week he was attacked with a fit of coughing and coughed up a fifty pound sack of flour and 100 pounds of bran. Truth is mighty and will prevail.

English.

"That's rather a sizable boss you're drivin'," said the man from Tennessee. "Yes, he is right smart of a critter," replied the man from Georgia.

An Organ In the Tenth Century.

Wolston speaks of an organ containing 400 pipes which was erected in the tenth century in England. This instrument was blown by "thirteen separate pairs of bellows." It also contained a large keyboard. There are drawings of that period extant which represent the organ as an instrument having but few pipes, blown by two or three persons and usually performed on by a monk. The keys, which were played upon by hard blows of the fist, were very clumsy and from four to six inches broad.

About the end of the eleventh century semitones were introduced into the keyboard, but to all appearances its compass did not extend beyond three octaves. The introduction of pedals in 1490 by Bernhardt—giving a compass B flat to A—was another important contribution to the instrument. These were merely small pieces of wood operated by the toe of the player.

Pigg and His Pig.

An old Kentucky indictment has been brought to our attention which alleged that defendant "did unlawfully, willfully and maliciously, kill and destroy one pig, the personal property of George Pigg, without the consent of said Pigg, the said pig being of value to the aforesaid George Pigg. The pig thus killed was the mate to some other pigs that were owned by said George Pigg, which left George Pigg a pig less than he (said Pigg) had of pigs and thus ruthlessly tore said pig from the society of George Pigg's other pigs against the peace and dignity of the commonwealth of Kentucky."
