THE BIG SALES MAKERS.

Valuable Time Saved.

Slight injuries often disable a man and cause several days' loss of time and when blood poison develops, sometimes result in the loss of a hand or limb. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment. When applied to cuts, bruises and burns it causes them to heal quickly and without maturation, and prevents any danger of blood poison. For sale by all druggists.

Blood Bargaining.

A repellent scene took place before the bey of Tunis recently. It was the huckstering for a man's life in the presence of the victim. He was an Arab who had slain a rival in love and was sentenced to die, when, almost at the hour fixed for execution, the murdered man's father offered to treat, according to the Koran, for the price of blood. The bargaining was conducted in the bey's presence, but, as the murderer's family would not go beyond £24 to save him, the doomed man, after a gleam of hope, was led to the gallows and hanged.

Dealings In Graves.

Cemetery shares continue to be quite a market feature in Scotland and are actively dealt in on the Edinburgh Stock Exchange. Apparently they appeal to the curious nature of the canny Scot, who doubtless reasons that in such a holding he has a security which is not likely to vanish and that if the worst comes to the worst he will never need to come on the parish for a grave.

The Key to Success.

"Advertising pays" has come to be an axiom of modern methods. The business man who tries to be successful without it is tempting fate instead of fortune. The American nation today is recognized abroad as the greatest industrial and commercial proposition in the world, and the American nation spends $250,000,000 annually in advertising its business.

Internal Economy.

Two years ago a Poleander out on Nubbin ridge swallowed a grain of wheat. Last week he was attacked with a fit of coughing and coughed up a fifty pound sack of flour and 100 pounds of bran. Truth is mighty and will prevail.

Watch Your Shoulders.

When standing before a looking glass, notice if your shoulders are the same height. Generally the right is higher than the left. The reason for this unevenness lies in the way one sits. You get into a comfortable chair at your desk, and at once you rest your right elbow on the arm of your chair or your desk, thus throwing one shoulder higher than the other. This is especially the case where one writes a great deal. When you notice that one shoulder is higher than the other, the thing to do is to change your way of sitting at your desk. Two simple exercises will be beneficial. The arm of the lower shoulder should be extended upward, the hand grasping a dumbbell. That of the higher shoulder should be lowered and made to support a heavy weight.

English Brass.

The composition of English brass is about seventy parts of copper and thirty of zinc. "Prince Rupert's metal" contains 75 to 80 per cent of copper and on account of its golden color is employed to some extent in jewelry.

The kind of brass called tombac contains still more copper, nearly eighty-five parts in a hundred. It is the alloy used for the manufacture of what is called Dutch metal, an imitation of gold leaf. It can be rolled into sheets, and these can be beaten out till they are only fifty-three thousandths of an inch in thickness.

Lemons at Funerals.

In 1878 I was called upon to officiate for a neighbor at a funeral in a Lancashire town. The relatives, working people, but not poor, desired me to attend at the house before the procession left it. I found the company drinking lemon juice, mixed with warm water, sweetened and spiced. The vessel was a large two handled pot mug, and the rind of the lemon was wreathed from handle to handle. I found it would have been a great offence to refuse to drink of it.—Notes and Queries.

Cholera Infantum.

This has long been regarded as one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases to which infants are subject. It can be cured, however, when properly treated. All that is necessary is to give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, as directed with each bottle, and a cure is certain. For sale by all druggists.
