

STARTING ON THE THIRD WEEK

... OF THE ...

BIGGEST

JANUARY SALE

We have ever held. Stores crowded from morning until night with buyers who are doing more buying of

Brand New Useful Goods

With their money than was ever their privilege before.

We are going to keep up the excitement the balance of this month by displaying new attractions and making still greater sacrifices in prices to make this month the banner month of the year. We are satisfied to sacrifice profits and part of the cost to accomplish it, and we can see the public is appreciating our efforts by the big attendance we have received.

Make your buying easier by bringing the Big Circular with you and buy exactly as quoted, and if you have not got one ask the clerk that serves you for one, and persist in getting what is there advertised. Besides the 6 stores are being filled with new attractions every day. The Dry Goods Dept., the Ladies' Ready-made Dept., the Boot and Shoe Dept., the Bargain Dept. up stairs, the Men's and Boys' Clothing Dept., Gent's Furnishings, etc.

Come and you will realize what a genuine sale is with Worrying.

There was once a man who kept account of his worries for a given length of time, and then review the record to see how these anxieties looked in the light of subsequent developments. He said that out of all the worries in which he had indulged himself during several years only two had any substantial basis, and these were trivial.

The experiment might be a good one for some other folk to try. There is no reason to suppose that worrying ever did a single human being one bit of good, and it has done an immense amount of harm.

In the first place, there is the time spent in this uncomfortable occupation which should have been given to rest, recreation, or actual work.

Then there is the vitality lost by it, which is often more than would suffice to remove the cause of the worry, if properly applied.

Third, and not by any means least, there is the discomfort caused by the recital of the anxious person's worries to other people.

Most of us have enough reason for irritation in our own affairs and in the real perplexities and griefs of our neighbors, without troubling our heads over something which would be uncomfortable if it were to happen, but which has not happened yet and may never come to pass.

The habit of worrying is one which can be easily developed, and almost as easily checked if taken in time. It is a good plan, when one is made aware of a possibility of evil, to consider first whether anything can be done to ward it off at the moment, and if so, to do it. If there is nothing to do but wait then it is the duty of any reasonable person to put that worry resolutely aside and think of the pleasantest or the most absorbing topic within reach.

The misdirected conscience of some folk pricks them badly if they allow themselves to be comfortable when something bad is likely to occur. Such a conscience needs readjustment so that it will fit the circumstances and not prick in the wrong place.

English In Java.

A book published in Java, called "The West Java Travelers' Guide," says of a certain sanitarium: "At the establishment is a physician. The sick may invoke the physician for daily treatment, with use of medicaments. Children below ten years pay for lodges half of the price."

Under "Addresses and Announcements," is politely recommended "the noter prigin, with occasion for warm baths, where till now all reconvaesents, as well as Mrs. Physicians and particulars and officials, have found back their health. Cures malaria, complaints in the chest and other fatnesses, green sickness, cutaneous disease," etc., and we are assured that "this healthy abode for reconvaesents has also occasion to many delightful idyllic excursions to which saddle horse and tandees are stationed when before timely ordered."
