

Pain Across the Kidneys For Three Years.

Suffered Great Agony.
Could Not Stoop or Bend.

No disease is so quiet and stealthy in its approach as kidney disease. That is why it is so dangerous. It may become deep-seated before you realize the danger.

It is therefore of great importance to recognize the early warning symptoms, because in its early stage kidney disease is easily curable. Pain or dull ache in the back is one of the first signs. So are bladder pains, bearing-down pains, smarting sensation when urinating, frequent or suppressed urination, and gravel or sediment in the urine, etc. You cannot be well if your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. In all ordinary cases of any derangement of the kidneys, a few doses of will put the patient right; in old or chronic cases, the treatment should be persisted in.

Mr. Michael A. McInnis, Woodbine, Marion Bridge, N.S., tells of his experience: "For the last three years I suffered great agony with pain across my kidneys, and was so bad that I could not stoop or bend. I consulted and had several doctors treat me, but I got none the better. On the advice of a friend I procured a box of that valuable life-giving remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, and to my surprise and benefit I immediately became better. In my opinion Doan's Kidney Pills have no equal as a cure for any form of Kidney disease.

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All dealers, or direct by mail.

MICHAEL DFAD.

Famous Bicyclist Passed Away at Sea.

New York, Nov. 26.—"Jimmie" Michael of Wales, professional bicycle rider and known the world over as the "Welsh Rarebit" because of his small stature, dies suddenly on La Savoie of the French Line, when the vessel was in midocean, on Monday last. Michael was on his way to New York to race "Bobby" Walthour the Saturday preceding the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden, and, according to the officers of La Savoie, not a healthier-looking passenger boarded the vessel at Havre than the bicycle rider.

On Sunday afternoon the little bicyclist complained to the ship's surgeon, Dr. Maire, that he had a splitting headache, and ventured the opinion that the pain was a result of an accident that befell him in Berlin two years ago, when he was almost killed in a race, Michael said that since that time he had partial paralysis of the left side of his face and that he also at times suffered from lapse of memory. That night, however, Michael told Dr. Maire that he was much relieved. He joined a number of friends at dinner, and according to the head steward, was the liveliest member of the party.

Soon after dinner Michael retired, saying no more about feeling ill. Next morning Jean Gugolz, another professional and warm friend of Michael, heard the Welshman groaning in his cabin and called Dr. Maire, who found Michael delirious and in great pain. The doctor knew at once that the chances were against his patient, as the diagnosis showed that he was suffering from congestion of the brain. Michael never regained consciousness and died at 11 o'clock that morning. His body was embalmed and brought to New York, where it will be held pending instructions from Michael's relatives in England.

The other bicyclists on La Savoie, who come to participate in the six-day races, took the death of the popular Welshman very much to heart. Gugolz, especially, was greatly grieved, and yesterday he was said to be ill as a result of the shock.

When La Savoie got within wireless range of America, Gugolz sent a message to P. T. Powers, manager of the six-day races, announcing the death. Mr. Powers, who was a warm admirer of Michael, met the liner at the pier yesterday and took charge of the body.

After his accident at Berlin, Michael had a long illness, which left him with a slightly impaired memory and also affected his riding ability. It was decided that this was caused by a clot of blood upon the brain, and a few weeks ago Michael underwent an operation in a Paris hospital, which was reported to be a success. After that word was received in this country that Michael was riding as well as ever, and it was upon the strength of these reports that he was engaged to ride a fifteen-mile motor paced race against Walthour at the beginning of the six-day races.

Michael was for years the fastest and best known cyclist in the world, holding the championship of England, Wales, France, and America, which practically meant the championship of the world. No other rider ever held so many records, all the figures from two to one hundred miles, both against time and in competition, having been his at one time or another. He was born at Aberavon, Wales, in 1876, and started life as a butcher's boy, but he quit that job for cycling in 1894, after winning the championship of Wales at Cardiff in that year. He then won championship honors in England and France, and in the summer of 1897 came to this country. He defeated Frank Starback, then the champion of America, as well as all comers.

In the winter of 1898 Michael decided to abandon cycling for horse racing, and made his debut as a jockey. He purchased a small stable, which he raced at New Orleans that winter, but without success. He returned to cycling in 1901, and rode with unfaltering success until his accident at Berlin.

FIRST ELECTION PROTEST.

Petition Against the Return of E. D. Smith in Wentworth.

Toronto, Nov. 28.—The law courts are to decide whether E. D. Smith, declared elected by Judge Snider, or W. O. Sealey, the Liberal candidate, holds the seat in Wentworth constituency.

IT IS DANGEROUS

to neglect Catarrh. Severe and fatal cases of Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Consumption, all develop from what many people term an insignificant attack of Catarrh. The mind becomes dull and stupefied, you cannot think clearly, you cannot sleep well. All food tastes alike, your senses of taste, touch, hearing and seeing are all affected. Catarrh envelopes your entire system. It is a dangerous malady, why delay treatment. Nip it in the bud with

DR. AGNEW'S CATARRHAL POWDER. It gives instant relief, and positively cures the severest cases after a short steady treatment. Rev. P. L. Frey, 70 E. North St., Buffalo, writes "I am pastor of the Maple St. Baptist Chapel in this city. I have used your Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, and it has done wonders for me. Refer the public to me as to the worth of this remedy. It has cured me or the worst form of Catarrh."

Dr. Agnew's Ointment relieves in a single night eczema, tetter, salt rheum and all skin diseases. Price 35 cents.

Saturday afternoon a petition on behalf of Mr. Sealey was filed, protesting the election of Mr. Smith, on the grounds that the ballots disallowed by Judge Snider were legal ballots and should not, therefore, have been thrown out by the judge.

In the re-count in Wentworth the majority of Sealey over Smith was reduced to 19. In polling subdivision No. 23, Beverly township, where Adam Valens was deputy returning officer, it was discovered that 25 ballots cast for Sealey had been numbered on the backs by the deputy returning officer. It was held by Judge Snider that these ballots were spoiled, and he threw them out, this, with other changes in the re-count, giving Smith a majority of ten over his opponent.

Judge Snider followed the Supreme Court decision in the Bothwell election case of 1884, where the facts were similar to those of the Valens polling division of Wentworth, all the ballots being numbered on the backs by the deputy returning officer.

The case of East Hastings, 1878, in which the late Chief Justice Armour decided that the numbered ballots should not be counted, was also relied upon by Judge Snider.

FOR A STIFF NECK

Or any soreness in the muscles of the back or sides you can't get anything half so good as Nerviline, the most powerful liniment made. "My neck was so stiff I couldn't turn it a quarter of an inch," writes Fred T. Baldwin of Portsmouth. "I had it rubbed with Nerviline a few times and all the soreness and stiffness disappeared. I don't know another liniment you can depend on like Nerviline; it's splendid for colds, lameness and can't be beaten for cramps and internal pain." Try Nerviline yourself. Price 25c.

A GAMBLER'S GOOD-BYE.

Guy Roche Says Felton Was Justified in Shooting.

New York, Nov. 28.—Guy Roche, who was shot twice under the heart in Broadway, near 35th street, last evening, identified Frank Felton, whom the police had already arrested as the man who shot him, when the prisoner was brought before him in the hospital today. Roche's statement was made in the presence of Felton and two detectives of the Tenderloin station. Roche said that the shooting was justified.

From the moment Roche was taken to the hospital after the sensational shooting in the midst of the holiday crowd on Broadway, the surgeons told him that his case was almost hopeless. The surgeons joined with the police in pleading with the wounded man to name his assailant, but every request had met with a refusal until early today. "If I live I'll settle the case myself; if I die let it go at that," was his only answer.

Today, however, after the physicians had told Roche that he had practically no chance for recovery, he consented to have Felton brought before him, and said that he would identify him as the man who fired the shot. When the prisoner was brought to the wounded man's bedside, Roche said, "Yes, Frank shot me, but he was justified. I would have done the same to him." Then, addressing Felton, who had apparently not been moved in the least by this declaration, the dying gambler said:—

"Good-bye, Frank, old boy; I don't blame you."

Roche told the detectives that he and Felton had quarreled, but he could not recall the cause of the trouble.

Felton lies in the burying ground of the English Cemetery of Lisbon, without a stone to mark the spot.
