

Pride in the daintiness of their white dresses is excusable in the little folks, and in the big folks, too, for the white, glossy stiffness that Celluloid Starch gives is truly delightful. It is so easy to use, too,—makes ironing a pleasure, satisfactory results certain. We can all be excellent ironers if we only use

Burt's Corner.

(Special Correspondence to the Herald.)

Aug. 15.—We had a great shower today, the heaviest of the season.

Burt & Jones' mill is sawing quite a lot of deal and boards. The water is swelling in the streams so they will be able to get their logs run down to their mill.

Bennie Jones got his leg hurt with a deal, but is getting around all right again.

Elwood Burt made a flying trip to Houlton today on business.

Some changes are about taking place in our neighbourhood. It is rumored that Mrs. Stephen Brewer talks of buying Dean Brewer's place, and Dean Brewer intends buying Duncan Brewer's place and Duncan intends moving to Joseph Burt's place.

There is quite a lot of sickness around here. Wesley Brewer is critically ill. His friends are getting alarmed about him. He is suffering from chronic inflammation of the liver.

The new hotel is getting fairly underway. It will be open to the public inside of a month.

W. H. Lawrence has purchased a horse from Charles Morgan.

The people are making great preparations for the big meeting of the Disciples. A big tent is to be erected. The meetings commence on the 18th instant.

Dr. Moorehouse has left for the west. We all wish him good luck and a pleasant journey.

Clarence Burt intends moving to Mrs. James H. Jones' place next week.

Ernest Brewer is going to buy Mrs. Stephen Brewer's place.

Harry Bird has a carpenter working at his house and will soon be able to move in it.

Thomas Colter, Jr., is going to build a house near the station.

The Forresters are building a hall.

Mrs. Wellington Jones from Boston, is on a visit to her old home at B. R. Burt's. Her daughter Myrtle, came with her.

Killed His Paramour.

Boston, Aug. 15.—Mrs. Ada Richardson, wife of a prominent farmer of Methuen, was stabbed to death at a lodging house in this city by Edward Clark. The man escaped.

Mrs. Richardson came to Boston with Clark, who is said to have been in the employ of the woman's husband, and the couple obtained a room at a lodging house. Shortly after three o'clock the landlady heard cries, and running into the hall, met Clark, who brushed past her and ran from the house.

In the room which the couple had occupied, the landlady found Mrs. Richardson dead, her body lying on the bed, clad only in a chemise and with blood streaming from a knife wound in the breast.

FALL OF A GRIZZLY BEAR.

Without Warning a Tractable Beast Kills His Trainer.

A distinct type of a zoo rogue is the beast that goes wrong owing to accidental temptation, like Shaggy, an exceedingly intelligent, tractable Rocky mountain grizzly who reverted to savagery and turned man killer in a twinkling owing to the unfortunate misstep and fall of his trainer.

Shaggy was a big, handsome, gray old fellow, with a jungle thick coat and a lumbering, awkward gait and a funny twinkle that made him particularly adaptable for his part of clown in a remarkably trained group of fourteen bears. He had come under the hands of his teacher when but a helpless cub, had never lost his liking for caresses and, although the mightiest beast in the collection, was least suspected of being dangerous. Once when a striped hyena hung to the ankle of his friend he had run to the rescue, had cut loose right and left with his ponderous forepaws and had bitten and torn and mangled the ugly beast to death before he could be beaten off. Among his accomplishments were that of turning admirably grotesque somersaults and the more difficult feat of balancing himself on his hind legs on a three foot wooden sphere.

Not a scratch or a scar had his trainer to show for the years of work he had put in with the bear, and yet, without an instant's warning, this same beast attacked and injured his master so that when rescued he was semidemented and so dreadfully cut and lacerated that the surgeons decided it useless to try to save his life.

ADOPTING A BABY.

Methods of the Society in Charge of the Tots in New York.

It isn't easy to get a baby for adoption from the organization which has charge of them in New York. On receipt of the application a blank is sent back containing some twenty printed questions, to be filled out by the would be parents and a request for three references. If the answers are satisfactory, further blanks go to the persons referred to, asking information on the applicant's character and circumstances, and reliable citizens of the neighborhood are privately consulted. Then the agent comes and inspects the family. If the home seems a good one, a baby as near the requirements as possible is sought. There is even an attempt to select a suitable temperament—a placid baby for a nervous woman or one who is not bored by attentions for the demonstrative. The visiting agent has to be something of a psychologist. Every one calls for curly hair of course, and blue eyes are much in demand, but the new mother generally forgets all her specifications when she is confronted with the living candidate. The baby is taken to the home by the agent, who leaves written directions about food and care and comes back twice a year to note progress. Frequent reports are encouraged, and even after the child is legally adopted the society tries to keep in touch with it. The motive for this is of course scientific as well as humane.—Juliet Wilbor Tompkins in Everybody's Magazine.

Why the Negro Is Black.

On the bare arm paint a broad line in india ink and expose the arm to the strong sunshine. A slight inflammation sets in on the unprotected skin, but not under the black paint, which excludes the light rays (but, of course, not the heat rays). Some days after the skin is darker (sunburned), except where the india ink was painted, where is a white line in the skin. Exposing the arm again, the inflammation sets in only in the white line. The brown pigment caused by the sun (sunburned) at the first exposure protects the skin against the chemical rays. Therefore are negroes black, and travelers of white skin may protect themselves in the tropics from the sun by black or red paint.—London News.

Dogcart in Belgium.

Dogs have been trained in Belgium for centuries to be beasts of burden. Throughout the country thousands of dogs constantly work, singly or in teams, before small carts, giving perfect satisfaction. Hundreds of small wagons, as well as other light vehicles,

LITTLE THOUGHTS.

Disappointment is not a sufficient reason for discouragement.

Be satisfied with yourself if you will, but do not be self satisfied.

All things come to those who leave off waiting and go after them.

The claims to wisdom of all owls and most men rest upon their looks.

Good qualities, like good steel knives, grow dull of edge unless they are used.

Many a man who is offered a chance of a lifetime for a mere song cannot sing.

Your grip on success depends largely on the other things you are willing to let go.

When a man sets popularity before his eyes, he is likely to let principle out of his heart.

If we had no failings ourselves, we should not take so much pleasure in finding out those of others.

Good Secret to Know.

A man went to a nose and throat specialist the other day to have his cold cured. As he was paying well for the first treatment he said, "How long does it take you to cure a cold?" "Three weeks," said the specialist.

"And how long would it take me to get well if I didn't come to you?" asked the alarmed patient.

"Twenty-one days," said the specialist.

And it wasn't until the patient was half way home that he suddenly stopped and wondered whether he ought to laugh or get angry. He finally decided that perhaps the secret he had learned was worth the price he had paid for it. It's a good secret to know.
