

Events of a Day.

At Home.

Mrs. F. B. Edgcombe has issued invitations to her lady friends for an At Home at her residence, Ashburton Place, Friday, Nov. 18, from 5 to 7 p. m.

Property Purchase.

Mr. A. E. Hanson has purchased 160 acres of woodland at McKeen's Corner, formerly the property of the late Samuel Smith.

Still Living.

The French coach stallion Remus, which sustained serious injuries in the fire that destroyed Ald. Jewett's stables last week, is still alive, though the chances for his recovering are thought to be pretty slim.

Signs of Winter.

The ice and slush which has been accumulating in the river here for the past ten days, froze solidly during the night. The channel is still open in some places, but a few more cold nights will put on the finishing touches. There were a few sleighs out on the streets this morning for the first time this season.

A Good Year.

The receipts from the Opera house so far this year are slightly in excess of $1,000 and it is believed will total $1200 by December 31st. October was the banner month of the year, no less than $235 being collected. City Clerk McCready manager of the Opera house is having the bye-law strictly enforced.

At the Hospital.

Frederick and Kenneth Smith, sons of Mr. N. J. Smith, the well known blacksmith, were admitted to the Victoria Hospital on Saturday suffering from typhoid fever. The first named is employed with his father, and the latter at Risteen & Co.'s factory. Their condition today is reported to be quite favorable.

A Hypnotists' Power.

A young woman in a hypnotic trance in the up town window of Dibblee's drug store was one of the sights that made pedestrians in that vicinity stop and stare this afternoon. She was hypnotized by Pauline at 12 20 o'clock, and will not be awakened until 8.30 this evening. The young woman is the wife of one of Mr. Pauline's associates, and travels with her husband.

Shot a Deer.

Mr. James Tibbits of taw ball fame, distinguished himself yesterday by paying a visit to Maryland Hill and shooting a large buck deer. "Dick" is a crack shot and had no difficulty in knocking the game over at a range of two hundred yards. Jack Doran ably discharged the duty of guide. The head of the deer, which was a particularly good one, will be set up by Emack Brothers.

Police Court.

A dealer in wet goods was convicted of violating the Scott Act at the police court this morning and was fined $50 and costs. Eight citizens were summoned to appear and explain why they had neglected to go through the formality of taking out licenses for dogs owned by them. Six called around and paid the tax before the court opened, one denied the ownership of the dog, and the other failing to put in an appearance, was fined $3.

THE SPURDEN CLASS

Entertained to an Oyster Supper at the Baptist Church.

The regular monthly banquet of the Spurdens class of the Baptist Sabbath School was held in the parlors of the church last evening and was a great success. About fifty members of the class sat down to an oyster supper served in splendid style, and it is needless to say all did it ample justice. Afterwards a short but interesting program was carried out. It consisted of gramophone selections by Mr. Murray Morehouse, selections by a male quartette and an admirable address by the pastor on the subject of hypnotism and mind reading. The latter was followed by a general discussion which resulted in much useful information being brought out.

The singing of the National Anthem brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY.

Officers Chosen for the Ensuing Year-- To Celebrate St. Andrew's Day.

The annual meeting of the Fredericton Society of St. Andrew was held in the Y. M. C. A. parlors last evening and had a very large attendance. The president, Mr. O. S. Crockett, was in the chair, and among the others present were: A. S. McFarlane, Gordon Kelly, Walter McFarlane, Thomas Loughead, Rev. H. Montgomery, J. D. McKay, R. B. Hanson, W. S. Hooper, George S. Stranger, D. McCatherine, F. L. Cooper, H. F. McLeod, D. McDiarmid, E. A. McKay, Edward Fraser, Prof. Jack, Col. T. G. Loggie, Dr. A. M. Scott, Dr. W. C. Crockett, J. F. McMurray, James Tennant, Wm. Minto, Sr., Wm. Minto, Jr., James Pringle, R. W. McLellan and others.

The reports of the officers showed the affairs of the society to be in a satisfactory state, with a snug balance on hand.

The elections of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:

President—O. S. Crockett, M. P.
1st Vice President—A. S. Murray.
2nd Vice President—H. F. McLeod.
Treasurer—James Tennant.
Secretary—A. S. McFarlane.
Marshal—William Minto, sr.
Assistant Marshal—James Pringle.
Piper—D. Hossack.
Chaplain—Robert Watson.
Committee of Charity—J. D. McKay, P. M. McDonald, D. McCatherine.

It was unanimously resolved to celebrate St. Andrew's day, by holding a dinner, and a committee composed of Colonel Loggie, Dr. Crockett, J. F. McMurray, W. S. Hooper and the officers was appointed to make all arrangements.

The Society's scholarship at the University of New Brunswick, was awarded to H. Tully Montgomery, son of Rev. H. Montgomery, rector of Kingsclear. It is of the annual value of $80 and is tenable for four years.

At the close of the meeting the members repaired to the Barker House on the invitation of President Crockett and were pleasantly entertained.

A GREAT HYPNOTIST.

Pauline Delighted a Large Audience at the Opera House.

Pauline, the celebrated hypnotist and mind reader, delighted and mystified a large audience at the Opera House last evening. It was beyond a doubt the cleverest exhibition of the kind ever seen here and Mr. Pauline proved himself a master of the art. At the outset he called for the assistance of a committee from the audience, and, after a great deal of persuasion, he was able to induce Dr. W. J. Irvine, W. J. Osborne, W. C. Burt, C. W. Hall and Lankford Good to go upon the stage. With their assistance he then gave an exhibition of mind reading that was certainly remarkable. With a handkerchief folded lightly over his eyes, he was able to locate a chalk mark made by Mr. Hall on the floor near the centre of the building, and he had no difficulty in locating a hammer which had been hid in another part of the building. While blindfolded he was able to go straight to three ladies selected by three of the gentlemen on the platform, and borrow rings from them. While the hypnotist retired from the stage, the ladies changed seats, but he was able to find them later on without difficulty and restore the rings.

The exhibition of hypnotism given by Pauline was most remarkable, and was watched by the audience with the keenest interest. He practised the art upon two assistants and also upon a number of young men from the audience. The antics they were made to perform while under the hypnotic influence were most amusing.

Pauline is booked at the Opera House for the remainder of the week and will undoubtedly attract large audiences.
