

Events of a Day.

Painful Accident.

Mr. James Maxwell, superintendent of the Phoenix Mills, had the misfortune to cut his left hand very severely this morning while operating a circular saw. He was removed to the Victoria Hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate two of his fingers at the first joint.

To Be Brought Here.

The remains of the late Mr. George Anderson, whose death has already been reported in these columns, will arrive from Boston by the noon train tomorrow. The funeral will take place from the residence of Alex. Anderson, King street, at three o'clock p. m. John G. Adams has charge of the arrangements.

Equity Court.

Judge Barker held a sitting of the Equity Court here this morning. There was only one case, that of Arthur Glasier and Miss Blanch Glasier vs Parker Glasier. Mr. S. B. Bustin moved for an order of reference to a referee to take accounts between the parties, and report the amount, if any, due the plaintiffs.

Big Game Plentiful.

Mr. Frederick Irland of Washington, who returned yesterday from a three week's hunting trip to the Miramichi, reports big game unusually plentiful. In conversation with The Herald he stated that during his stay in the woods he saw no less than sixty-four moose, a large percentage of them being bulls. He says that moose are a great deal more plentiful now-a-days than they were in the early nineties, when he made his first hunting trip to New Brunswick.

A Splendid Company.

Charles H. Yale's excellent company put on "The Way of the Transgressor" at the Opera House last evening in the presence of a large and representative audience. The play was undoubtedly one of the best seen here for some time. It abounds in thrilling and realistic situations, and all the parts were well taken. A most interesting feature was the work of the St. Bernard dogs, which took an important part in the play, showing a degree of intelligence that was most surprising. The specialties by Miss Victoria Walters and Messrs. Williams and Lyons were of a very high order.

Useful Military Book.

A very useful book, especially for militia officers and men wishing to obtain an infantry certificate, has just been issued by Captain A. P. B. Naigle of the R. C. R. The book is entitled "Aid to Obtaining an Infantry Certificate", and contains over eighty pages of valuable information in catechism form. The aim of Captain Naigle is to present in one small book some of the principal subjects that officers and men wishing to obtain a certificate would otherwise have to look for in numerous books. Captain Naigle has taken the likely questions in the theoretical instructions as far as they go in the royal schools of military instructions from the official book, and has given correct answers. The book which will be very handy to those preparing for an examination will be on sale at all military stations.

McKEE--MANZER.

Popular Young Couple Joined in Matrimony.

Mr. George Hamilton McKee, eldest son of Mr. Hamilton McKee and a popular official of the Fredericton post office, was married at 5.15 o'clock this morning to Miss Davida Manzer, a well known and highly esteemed young lady. The ceremony was performed at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Estabrooks, Charlotte street, in the presence of only immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Rev. J. H. MacDonald was the officiating clergyman.

The bride was most becomingly attired in a neat travelling costume of blue cloth with hat to correspond. There was no bridesmaid nor groomsmen. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served.

The happy couple took their departure by the early train on a honeymoon trip to St. John, Sussex and Moncton. They will return at the end of a week and occupy their new home on Charlotte street.

The popularity of the bride was attested by a host of beautiful presents in silverware, cut glass, etc. Her gift from the bridegroom was a substantial check.

The many friends of the young couple will unite with The Herald in wishing them every happiness.

The Milliners' Art.

Ladies who avail themselves of the opportunity to visit the showrooms of the Misses Young on the occasion of their opening will feel assured that they will have before them in the exquisite models presented, the very highest reach the milliners art has attained in the concrete.

CIVIC MATTERS.

Dealt with by the Council in Committee Last Evening.

The city council met in committee last evening and passed the monthly accounts and transacted some other business. It was decided to recommend that Messrs. J. C. Risteen & Co., be granted a lease of the water lots in front of their factory at $30 per year. The question of having the opera house stage lighted by electricity was discussed and a recommendation to that effect will likely be made to the council. A communication was read from the united temperance societies of the Maritime Provinces, asking that the cigarette law be strictly enforced. It will probably be referred to the administration of justice committee.

Successful Millinery Opening.

A large number of ladies turned out this afternoon to visit the millinery parlors of Miss Morgan, York street. The visitors were welcomed by an obliging staff of young ladies. The millinery display which contained the latest in fall goods, was artistically arranged and much admired by the ladies present. The sales too were eminently successful and very satisfactory. Those who were unable to attend the opening today would do well to visit the millinery parlors any day, as new goods are being daily received.
