Rainville, speaker with the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Company, and the defeat in St. Ann's, Montreal, of Dr. Guerin, a member of the government. Both were beaten by anti-Parent Liberals.

BALLOT BOX SCANDAL.

Some Startling Disclosures Made at Yesterday's Proceedings.

Belleville, Ont. Nov. 26.—The ballot box trial went on yesterday. The star witness was F. K. Reilly, the Kingston teacher, who swore that he had been approached two years ago about the bogus ballot boxes to be made in Watertown, N. Y. Nothing definite came of it then.

In October last, Reilly admitted, he went to Watertown at the request of Suibley, the government candidate in Frontenac, to see how the man Carscallen, who had agreed to make the boxes, was getting on with the work.

Reilly said he had secured a dominion ballot box from the deputy sheriff of Frontenac, to be used as a pattern. The box was taken to Watertown. Reilly was afterwards told by Shibley that Byron O. Lott, the government candidate in West Hastings, would go with him to Watertown to see how the bogus boxes worked. Reilly and Lott went to Watertown together. Lott was delighted with the boxes, only he thought the false compartment should be made larger, as he (Lott) had a big majority to pull down.

Reilly said he had been handed $100 on a dark night in Kingston by a man he did not know, to pay for the bogus boxes. He had been told by Shibley that a strange man near the K. & P. depot in Kingston would hand him $100. He knew what it was for.

Reilly described how the boxes had been shipped from Watertown to Ogdensburg, taken across the river, and sent on to Bancroft to a printer named Bremner, and to Frontenac to a man named Kerfoot. The latter name Reilly admitted was fictitious.

Reilly was still in the box when the court rose at 1.30.

Thos. Tapping, county councillor for Frontenac county, swore that the ballot box used at poll No. 2 last election was a bogus one, and not the one supposed by the government to be used.

The express agent at Bancroft showed by his book that a box had been received on Oct. 23 by John A. Bremner, the man who was incriminated by Phil Lott.

B. O. Lott was called but did not respond.

PREMIER TWEEDIE TALKS.

Amendments to be Made to Act Relating to Hospital for Insane.

Premier Tweedie was in St. John last evening and when asked by a reporter relative to the work of the commission now examining the patients in the Provincial Hospital for Nervous Diseases and to a question whether legislation is to be introduced at the next session affecting the institution, replied that there would likely be several amendments to the act relating to the Provincial Hospital, covering suggestions made by the new superintendent, Dr. J. V. Anglin and others.

One of these will likely be along the lines suggested by Dr. Anglin a few days ago relative to admission of patients to the institution. Under the law as at present, the superintendent seems not to have any great degree of power in the admission or rejection of patients. In fact often he is hardly more than notified that a patient is being brought, and at times there has been no knowledge of the case at the institution before the patient is brought to the door. In some cases, it is said, this has been done in the middle of the night, when, in common humanity, the patient, whether he should be or not, has had to be taken in.

It is suggested, and this will probably be covered in one of the amendments to be laid before the house, that before a patient is taken to the institution the superintendent must be notified of all the facts bearing on the matter, and the patient shall not be brought before the superintendent has sent his reply to the friends of the unfortunate that the case will be taken charge of.

The matters upon which Premier Tweedie was in consultation with the local representatives last evening were relative to allowance for the Lancaster School for the deaf, and also a complaint made by G. E. Armstrong, former principal of La Tour school, Carleton, because of the action of the St. John school board in transferring him from the school.

TO REDUCE FREIGHT RATE ON CLOTHING.

Toronto, Nov. 26.—The railway commission has ordered the C. P. R. to carry cars of clothing at third class rates.

The Tower Clothing Co. of this city applied for reduced rates and the C. P. R. refused. The Clothing Co. claimed that the rate was so high that they could not do business, and appealed to the Manufacturers' Association, which in turn appealed to the Railway Commission, and as a result the lower rate will be enforced.
