AMBASSADOR AT ST. PETERSBURG PROTESTS

Against the Seizure of a British Steamer by Russian Cruisers.

(Special to Daily Herald.)

Tokio, July 20.—The Vladivostok squadron has overhauled a Japanese steamer eastward of the Sagar straits. The name of the vessel and its fate has not yet been learned.

The squadron, unaccompanied by torpedo boats, entered the Pacific Ocean today. Its destination is unknown, but it is suggested that it plans to raid the eastern coast of Japan and then return to Vladivostok, escaping to the southward or attempting to form a Junction with the Port Arthur fleet. Warnings have been sent out to those shipping along the eastern coast and Japan merchantmen are hurriedly seeking shelter.

Port Said, July 20.—The crews and passengers of the Peninsular and Oriental steamer Malacca, captured by the Russian volunteer fleet steamer St. Petersburg in the Red Sea, have been landed here. The ship is detained by the authorities, who are awaiting instructions before taking further action.

St. Petersburg, July 20.—Sir Charles Harding, British ambassador to Russia, this afternoon in behalf of His Majesty's government presented a strong protest to Russia against the seizure in the Red Sea, and detention of the Peninsular and Oriental steamer, Malacca, which was carrying 300 tons of British government stores for naval establishments at Hong Kong, each case of which was marked with the broad arrow which is the government stamp. The ambassador also presented a general protest against the action of the Russian volunteer fleet steamers in the Red Sea.

Paris, July 20.—Information is reaching government quarters here which leads the officials to believe that Russia will release the British and German merchantmen seized in the Red Sea as a means of averting international complications.

AT CENTREVILLE.

Rousing Meeting Addressed by Messrs. LaBillois, Farris and Others.

Florenceville, N. B., July 20.—Hon. Messrs. Labillois and Ferris, held a very successful public meeting at Centreville last night, speaking to a large and representative meeting of farmers on the new highway act, road making, apple culture and general agricultural topics. Short addresses were also given by W. P. Jones, M. P. P., F. B. Carvell, ex-M. P. P., B. F. Smith, M. P. P., and Hon. Geo. W. White.

Ex-Warden Geo. L. Cronkhite presided, and all the speakers were given a most attentive hearing.

Messrs. Labillois and Farris speak at the Woodstock opera house this evening.

MRS. MAYBRICK FREE.

(Special to Daily Herald.)

Truro, Cornwall, England, July 20.—Mrs. Florence Maybrick, the American woman sentenced to prison for life for poisoning her husband, is now free. She left here at 11.43 today on her way to France.

UNFAIR CRITICISM.

(Special to Daily Herald.)

Ottawa, July 20.—In the House of Commons this morning, Mr. R. L. Borden objected to the statement made by Mr. Lemieux, while in England regarding the trade preference and tariff. Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that was unfair criticism of Mr. Lemieux. He should wait till a detailed report of the speech has been received. Col. Hughes accused Mr. Lemieux of disloyalty and made other wild remarks and was called down by the speaker.

Church Dedication.

His Lordship Bishop Kingdom, assisted by Dean Partridge and Rev. W. D. Bellis, consecrated St. Peter's Episcopal church, Westfield, yesterday morning. The service began at 11 o'clock and the congregation was very large.

The church building which was built after the old edifice was destroyed by fire at which time the Westfield rector was Rev. H. T. Parlee, is a pleasing and commodious structure, and cost in the neighborhood of $2,000, a large amount of which was subscribed by the parishioners. The interior is finished in natural wood. There are six memorial windows. The dedication sermon was delivered by the Dean.

This Will Give You An Idea.

At J. H. Haw horn's store, from July 13th to 22nd, will be shown a fine display of presents given away in exchange for the Snowshoe tags on "Pay Roll" plug chewing tobacco and other plug tobaccos manufactured by the Empire Tobacco Co., all of which bear the Snowshoe tag. The delay for the redemption of Snowshoe tags has been extended to January 1st, 1906.—July 13, 1904.

CROCODILE FISHING.

Ingenious Method of Catching the Beasts Used In India.

A correspondent of the London Field, writing on the pursuit of the crocodile in the Malacca strait, describes the ingenious method of catching the beast adopted by the natives of the Kedah river. He says: "A small bamboo raft some two feet square is constructed, and on it is erected a flag post surmounted by a red flag, while from the underside of the raft, or float, run twenty or thirty yards of stout line, ending in a few feet of chain. To this chain the barbed hook of hard brass metal is attached by three feet of untwisted fiber in order that the fine ligaments may get between the crocodile's teeth and thus prevent his snapping off the bait. On the shank of the hook a live fowl is made fast, together with a short length of bamboo, to give it flotation, and then the raft, line and bait are dropped into the river. Loudly squawks the unfortunate fowl for a few minutes, but its sorrows are short lived. A splash, a swirl, the bait has disappeared, and then the men return to their homes, leaving a boy to mark the progress of the floating flag. Next day or the day after half a dozen men paddle down stream until they sight the raft. Then, taking the line ashore, they haul away, and as by this time the hook is firmly entangled in the crocodile's intestines, he shows but little fight and is easily dispatched."

THE HALIFAX GIBBET.

A Sort of Guillotine That Was Once Used In England.

An ancient law of Hardwick forest, a tract coextensive with Halifax parish, is sung by Taylor, the water poet: At Halifax the law so sharpe doth deale That whoso more than thirteen pence doth steale, They have a jin that wondrous quick and well Sends thieves all headless into heaven or helle.

This "jin" resembled the guillotine in construction and stood on a stone scaffold, unearthed when Gibbet hill was leveled. The ax is preserved. This, the only guillotine used in England, was the forerunner of the "maiden," introduced into Scotland by Regent Morton and now in the Edinburgh Antiquarian museum. The "Halifax gibbet" was last used in 1650 and the "maiden" for Lord Argyll in 1661 and his son in 1685, who spoke of it as the sweetest maiden he ever kissed.

Dr. Guillotine did not invent the machine. Dr. Louis constructed one in 1791, the "Louisson," but the name "guillotine" became general from the burst of surgical enthusiasm, in which Dr. Guillotine, in 1789, after deploring the tedious torture of hanging, exclaimed, "With my machine I strike off your head in the twinkling of an eye, and you never feel it!"—London Globe.

Some men are known by the company they are unable to get into.

Marysville News.

(By Our Own Reporter.)

July 20.—The members of Court Alexander No. 141, I. O. F., held a very interesting and enjoyable meeting last evening on which occasion the delegates, Messrs. John Doherty and Howard Nichols, who attended high court at Edmundston, brought in their report and made very instructive and able addresses. After the regular business had been gone through with ice-cream, strawberries, fruit and cigars were plentifully served and a jolly good time was spent by all. Mr. Lemuel Cligg was present with his phonograph which he placed on the piazza and rendered several choice selections which were very much appreciated and enjoyed by all, the sweet strains of music reaching a long way in the clear night air.

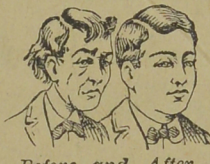

There should have been a larger crowd at the town hall last evening to hear Rev. H. Boal of Hamilton, Ont., deliver one of his famous lectures on Greater Britain, as the entertainment was a good one and very instructive, the speaker having full command of his subject.

Two weddings the Herald spoke of some time ago are to take place this evening when Miss Alma Manzer, daughter of Mrs. McMorris, is to be married to Mr. Verne Banks, while Bart Peterson is to wed Miss Mary White, daughter of Mr. Laurence White, and as all four are very popular there will likely be a large number invited to both.

Mr. B. H. Babbitt of Gibson, was in town last evening in the interests of his insurance business.

Marysville has been billed for an ice-cream and strawberry festival which takes place next Friday evening at Gibson under the auspices of the Royal Templers.
