

MURDER!

Another Foul Crime Stains Westmorland

ONE MAN SHOT ANOTHER DEAD

And Burned the Latter's Home.

CRIME AROSE FROM SFC- TARIAN PREJUDICE.

(Special to Daily Herald.)

Bristol, Westmorland, Co., N. B., July 18.—A man named McKemmick, who lives about 12 miles from here, went out last night to the place where three brothers named Dougherty lived together, and shot one of them, Willie Dougherty dead, and fired at another of the brothers striking him in the chest. The two brothers finally eluded McKemmick, and the latter set fire to the Dougherty house which was completely destroyed.

The reason given for the shooting was on account of Willie Dougherty keeping company with McKemmick's daughter against his will.

McKemmick is a Roman Catholic, while Dougherty is a Protestant.

McKemmick's daughter has not been living with her father since the death of her mother some time ago. Her father recently wanted her to return home, but she refused and left the vicinity, her whereabouts being at present unknown to her father, but Dougherty knew where she was living.

The girl was about nine years old when her mother died, and she has been earning her living since.

MARYSVILLE NEWS.

Knights of Pythias Instal Officers-- Athletic Suspensions Discussed.

(By Our Own Reporter.)

July 18.—At the regular meeting of Marysville Lodge, No. 18, Knights of Pythias last Friday evening, the following officers were duly installed for the ensuing term, Capt. W. H. Gray, D. D., acting as installing officer:

William Gray, P. C., C. C.
Howard Danbar, V. C.
Elwood White, P. C., Prelate.
George Hulme, P. C., K. of R. and S.
George Cowie, M. of W.
John Perry, M. at A.
Daniel Pichard, P. C., I. G.
Fred W. Smith, P. C., O. G.

During the evening a resolution of sympathy was passed on the recent death of John C. Henry of St. Stephen, who always took a very active part in everything relating to the welfare of the noble order which he dearly loved.

Mrs. George R. Woodman of Princeton, Maine, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Harriet Allen, the past few weeks, returned home Saturday.

A paragraph appeared in the columns of the Herald last Thursday evening relating to the suspension of several of the young men composing the Tarrar baseball club. It appears that the action was taken by the Maritime Province Amateur Athletic Association on the ground that the players were professionals, and not eligible to play with or against amateurs in any kind of sport. With ten men of the Tarrar baseball club and several of the Trojan hockey club, as well as the Crescents of Marysville, being disallowed to compete in amateur sport, the pleasures and pastimes for the next year will be rather dull in this community as nearly all the best men have become professionals according to the rules and regulations of a very unpopular organization assisted by the jealous actions of a disappointed, unnoticed hockey player of the Marysville second team. The result of the steps taken in this matter will not be seriously noticed until next winter when the boys begin to consider the outlook for a season's sport, as hockey has always been very popular and was the means of upholding good, clean, manly sport which our citizens as well as those of Fredericton were delighted to witness.

A few evenings ago your correspondent drew the attention of the management of the Canada Eastern Railway to the fourth class car that they had been using on the line, with the result that almost immediately a much better and a far more comfortable car was put on the suburban train, which was a great blessing as those who formerly were compelled to stand were given seating accommodations.

Royalty and Empire.

If the first King of Israel was given in the anger of God; it is quite certain that the sovereign of a country ruling righteously has been as much favored by Providence as his people. Whatever Republican ideas we may entertain it must be acknowledged that, in latter years, the British constitution has been a good success. Queen Victoria did much to preserve the peace of the world. Here is a picture of the close of the battle of Waterloo when Wellington gave the last command of an English General, to march against the French. The next view is that of the reception of our late Queen on French soil by the the Third Napoleon on this occasion. It was the French people and peace the Queen had in view. The Emperor was never much more than an adventurer, and has been called "Napoleon the Little." I can well remember the consternation, in England, when this man assumed the French crown. The Queen herself gave expressions of anxiety. King Edward has been walking in the footsteps of his illustrious mother in keeping up the best of feeling in the countries of Europe.

President Lincoln declared that the American U. S. government was from the people, for the people and by the people. This is also the condition of things throughout the British Empire. Since the reign of Queen Ann the decisions of parliament have never been set aside by the sovereign, and Queen Victoria, it is well known, occasionally spoke plainly to her ministers on what the people would like or disapprove. It is a long time since the British people have been expected to recognize a right divine of kings to rule wrongly. From Rev. H. B. Hall's illustrated lecture.—d

Town Topics Tonight.

Town Topics is a title that suggests all kinds of humorous possibilities, and they are found in the farce comedy of that name that will be seen at the Opera house this evening. The scene opens in Mrs. Quick's boarding house, The American boarding house is familiar to most of us and we know that there is always something to promote fun and indignation in that interesting institution. The boarding house in Town Topics is a lively place and there is plenty of fun, but indigestion is an unknown quantity there, however, there is too much laughter for the prunes and corn beef to lie heavy on your chest. The second act takes place at the seaside, and here the husband of the presiding goddess of the boarding house meets some nice gentleman who give him the glad hand and lead him into all kinds of scrapes. He thinks he is smart but he is not smart enough. He meets some beautiful girls too, and they help the fun along. They sing they dance and there is a rip-roaring time. In the last act we find the husband home again and he has to explain matters to his wife. The story is straight and to the point, but it is interrupted frequently to allow of musical and terpsichorean numbers, and specialties of novel idea. These specialties all grow out of the action of the play, and are not logged in awkwardly, as is so often the case in performances not so happily blended.—d

ACCEPTED NEW POSITION.

Mr. Frank Shute No Longer in the Royal Bank Service.

Mr. Frank Shute has resigned his position of accountant with the Royal Bank of Canada at Santiago, Cuba, to accept a responsible position with the Spanish American Iron Company with headquarters at Santiago. The offer was received by cable after Mr. Shute's arrival in Fredericton July 12th, and he sailed from New York for Cuba Saturday. It is understood that Mr. Shute's salary is a very generous one and his many Fredericton friends will rejoice at his good fortune.

SAVED FROM THE SEA.

Two Wrecked Fishermen Arrive at Moncton.

The three-masted schooner, Strathcona, which arrived at Moncton, Saturday, coal laden, from New York, had on board two fishermen named Antoni Rosa and Manuel Denning, who were picked up in a dory about 50 miles off Cape Cod.

The fishermen belong to the schooner Ida W. Brook, of Gloucester (Mass.) and while out trawling Sunday night, July 10, they were lost in a thick fog and were out until 10 o'clock Tuesday morning when they were picked up by the Strathcona bound for Moncton.

The men had no food and only a small jug of water. When picked up they were almost exhausted and were beginning to lose hope of being saved.

During two days and nights they were in the dory they had rowed and sailed about 200 miles. They had sighted two vessels but could not get within hearing distance.

They were so famished that they were about to eat raw haddock, when they sighted the Strathcona. When taken aboard they ate ravenously of food set before them. The fishermen are of Portuguese nationality and both are married.

The schooner to which they belonged was to go to Boston Wednesday last and it is expected that the loss of the men was reported to their families.

Upon arrival at Moncton Captain Gould, of the Strathcona, wired the men's families and reported the matter to the U. S. consul, who took charge of the men. They were clothed in fisherman's garb and the consul supplied them with a new outfit and put them up at a hotel. They have been sent to the U. S. consul at St. John, and from there forwarded to their homes. They are none the worse for their two days and two nights fast on sea in an open boat. They encountered no rough weather and endured no hardships other than privation in regard to food and water.

Cargo of Laths.

The schooner J. L. Colwell, Howard Springer, master, cleared today for Vineyard Haven with a cargo of 750,000 laths belonging to the Gibson Company. The work of loading the cargo occupied only one day.
