STATEMENT OF LOSSES DURING THE THREE DAYS' BATTLE.

Attack on Port Arthur Sus- pended for Present.

(Special to Daily Herald.)

St. Petersburg, Aug. 5.—Detailed reports have reached the war office from General Kuropatkin show that the Russian losses in three days fight did not exceed 4,000.

The Japanese are believed to have lost a similar number.

There has been no further fighting of importance since Aug. 1.

It is the opinion of the general staff that both sides need a rest, and that the Japanese attack will not be continued for several days.

It's Morning's Despatches.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 4.—A rumor is current here that a battle is in progress north of Hai Cheng.

London, Aug. 4.—A despatch to a news agency from Anshanshan (half way between Hai Cheng and Liao Yang) says:

"The Japanese advance is being continued with great energy against the southern army. The Russian main forces continue their retirement northward, but the cavalry has checked the Japanese threatening flank movements."

Washington, Aug. 4.—The Japanese legation today received the following cablegram from Tokio: "General Oku reports that the enemy is retreating northward continually since Aug. 2. On Aug. 3 our army occupied Hai Cheng and New Chwang situated 30 miles northeast of the open port of the same name."

Tokio, Aug. 4., 2 p. m.—The Russians began abandoning Hai Cheng, Aug. 2. The Japanese entered Hai Cheng without resistance at noon yesterday, and the Japanese occupied New Chwang the same day.

Russian Account of Battle.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—The Emperor has received the following despatch from General Zassalitch dated Aug. 3:

"Lieut.-General Sakharoff reports the following details:

"In the fighting of July 31 the operations were not decisive. The action of the Japanese on our east front on July 30 convinced me that they were making an attack with their main forces on our south front near Outouchountou towards Dapoutzza and Pkhilaantoun."

"From dawn of July 31 we heard cannonading on our right flank which obliged me to hurry down to the south front, where at first from a battery and later from a range of hills I directed the course of the fight. The battle began under the most favorable auspices for us. The first report I received was from Lieut.-Col. Solomky, who informed me that he was tenaciously holding his position, although he had many wounded. I ordered at first two companies and then a battalion to reinforce him, although he did not ask for support."

"Simultaneously with the attack on the heights, the centre of our position, the Japanese directed an attack against Major General Mischenko's detachment and against our right flank."

"The beginning of the fighting showed the superiority of our artillery over that of the Japanese. Not only did our batteries silence the Japanese guns previously in position in absolutely to prevent them leaving their positions, but the batteries sustained no loss and were able to develop their fire at their leisure."

"At ten o'clock I received the following note from Lt.-Col. Solomky: 'The Japanese turning movement has been stopped, the enemy sustaining enormous losses. We have many wounded. Captain Golitsyn was killed. The wounded include two officers and a surgeon. I am making a firm stand.'

"Simultaneously with the receipt of this report it was seen that our detachment had evacuated three crests of the mountain range. It was evident that Solomky had too strong a force to cope with and had been obliged to give ground somewhat. He continued, however, to hold his position."

"After reinforcing Solomky with two battalions and afterwards with two and three-quarters battalions and during the centralize the command of these troops, I despatched Colonel Potovitch Lepovatz, with orders to take command of all troops engaged in that position."

"The fusillade continued on our right flank without becoming threatening. Our artillery continued to crush the enemy's artillery with its fire, although the Japanese had brought mountain and field guns into action."

"At 3.40 p. m., I received a report that a regiment posted at the extreme flank had retired from its position in the mountains, having had its flank turned. Six disabled guns were abandoned. Two officers were killed and two wounded. The commander of a battery was injured."

"Before this had happened the Japanese had placed two more batteries on the left of those which had previously taken up their position there, and with their batteries on the extreme left they began to bombard our battery as well as to enfilade the right flank of our formation. This was the cause of the destruction of our battery and the serious loss of troops of our right flank. The battery was completely shattered, but at the beginning of the action we succeeded in saving four guns, while four others were left on the field, completely disabled. Of these four, however, two had to be spiked and abandoned, owing to the lack of horses."

"With the view of distracting the attention of the Japanese from our right flank, I directed Colonel Lepovatz at 4 o'clock, when the heat had diminished, to order that soldiers take off their equipment and assume the offensive."

To support this offensive movement fire on the ridges held by the Japanese on the ridges held by the Japanese. The fire of our guns which had previously bombarded this point was murderous, and the Japanese again sustained many killed or wounded."

"Our attack in open order astonished all beholders. Our men in this formation advanced swiftly across the principal mountain range, rushing on both sides with fixed bayonets on the Japanese, who were unable to sustain the shock and quickly evacuated the three crests they had occupied. I am informed that those who remained were bayoneted."

"After this brilliant affair I ordered Col. Lepovatz to stop and push no further."

"At 7 o'clock I received an order to retire in the direction of Hai Cheng."

"According to the report of the commander of a Cossack regiment which reconnoitered the valley of Dapoutzza during the battle, as well as organized the delivery of ammunition and the removal of wounded, three divisions of Japanese were observed moving through the town of Dapoutzza."

"Our losses on July 30 and July 31 have been up to the present estimated at 29 officers and slightly over 1,000 men killed or wounded."

SEWANAKA EUP RACE.

Conditions Favorable for First Trial Today.

(Special to Daily Herald.)

Doval, Que., Aug. 5.—The wind failed yesterday, and the opening race for the Sewanaka cup was called off, but the chances for a race today are fine.

The wind is blowing from the south at a rate that gladdens the hearts of both competing yachts, and is threatening to increase in velocity.

White Bear sailors are delighted with the weather conditions, and say their boat will give good account of itself. Canadians are also pleased with the weather.

The course is two miles to windward and return three times around. Time limit three hours and a half.

THE ATTEMPT FAILED.

Halifax Tories Failed in Effort to Boom Dundonald.

(Special to Daily Herald.)

Halifax, Aug. 5.—An attempt to give Lord Dundonald a boom failed here last evening, when his health was proposed at a meeting of the North British Society.

A professor was called down for introducing politics and the whole thing fell flat.

It was intended to introduce a resolution placing the society on record as opposed to Dundonald's dismissal but the presence of many Liberals acted as a damper and the project was abandoned.

New Arrivals.

A BAD RECORD.

C. J. Grant One of the Alleged Pick-Pockets, Known in Montreal,

HAS A NUMBER OF ALIASES AND HAS ALREADY DONE TIME.

A short time ago a photograph and description of James Grant, one of the three alleged pickpockets now in jail in this city, were forwarded to the police authorities of Montreal for identification purposes. The Boston police, it will be remembered, were able to identify Howard and Williams, the other suspects, but did not seem able to place Grant. The latter has all along protested his innocence and contended that he was unacquainted with the men arrested with him. The following telegram received by Col. Marsh today from the Montreal police authorities, seems to indicate that he is fully as bad, if not worse, than the other two:

Chief Police, Fredericton.
"Charles J. Grant, under arrest at Fredericton, identified here as Charles Greaves, alias Thomas Hall, Kid Hall, and Harvey. Arrested in Montreal on September, 1903 for picking pockets, twenty-three months. Toronto, June, 1899, four years. Hamilton, August 1903, suspect, charged with vagrancy in Montreal, July 18th, 1903. Suspect ordered out of Montreal on March 21st. He pleaded guilty to picking pockets and had sentence suspended and told to leave the city. He has also been arrested several times in Quebec city. If necessary will send man down to identify him."
